CASA stands for Court Appointed Special Advocates For Children. CASA helps area kids who parents may be in trouble with the law and need special assistance to make sure that they are able to live their life despite their parents mistakes. CASA worker Glenda Volmert comes in each month to talk about what CASA is doing to help Franklin County area kids with this sudden change in their life.	July 6th	8:15am	20 minutes	Mrs. Volmert brings in others as well as herself for the monthly interviews, which take place every 1st Thursday of the month. One guest she has brought in with her is area Judge Joseph Purschke. Mr. Purschke talks about the legal process that involves CASA & the kids associated with a case. Through these interviews with CASA members and the people associated with them, we hope to bring awareness to this organization as well as this issue to area residents so that these kids can get the care they need despite their parents or guardians past mistakes.
As a part of KILPW's connection with the community, we invite local elected officials to come on stage to talk about what is going on in the city, state or county they represent. One of these officials is Brad Bandermann, who is the State Representative for the 109th district who governs some of KILPW's listening area.	July 10th	9:20am	30 minutes	Mr. Bandermann and Diane discuss each month what is going on in the Missouri House of Representatives. Topics may include bills that are on the table, new laws, the state budget, and more. With these types of interviews, we hope to connect our listening audience with the people who represent them on each level of politics.

In August, many area students are going back to school. As these students get into the later stages of high school, they come across the big questions that we have all come across: "What do I want to do after High School?" "Where do I want to go to College?" Lynda Doecker with School March 4U joined Diane in August to discuss these questions that many area students have, as well as what they can do ahead of time to get ready for college.				Mrs. Doecker and Diane discussed the two big questions that students have as well as other questions such as How do I apply for scholarships? What do I need to have when I move away to college? What programs does the college have that I am looking at? Is this school the right fit for me? Through this interview, KLPW hopes that we give area students the confidence to take the next step in their education and to answer the questions that many area students have.
Foodstock is a local area concert event that helps area food pantries. People from across the area are asked to bring a food donation or a monetary donation to attend the event at the Washington Farmers Market.	Aug 11th	8:15am	20 minutes	Event members Pat O'Donnell and Rick Hopp joined Diane to talk about this year's Foodstock, "Foodstock 12". They also talked about the bands playing at the event, and how much funds have been raised in years past. Through this interview, we hope that we can bring awareness to the Foodstock cause, and bring area listeners to that years event.
