

Issues Programs List

Quarterly Issues Programs List for:

WBKR-FM and WJLT-FM

October 1st – December 31st, 2023

Section I - Issues

The stations have identified the following issues as significant issues facing our community in this quarter:

A. GETTING HEALTHY WITHOUT MEDICATION – Because of an increase in patient load and more and more staff leaving the medical profession, local healthcare providers and facilities are leaning into health education, wellness and prevention programs. Indiana and Kentucky healthcare officials have launched public health messaging programs that stress the importance of healthy eating exercise, and stress reduction. The goal is to create a healthier citizenry and reduce the surging need for medical attention and care.

B. MOLD & BAD AIR QUALITY – Many small towns in Kentucky and Indiana are situated on the banks of the heavily-polluted Ohio River. In fact, many of these communities were settled over 200 years ago and are in dire need of improvements to infrastructure. In the core areas of many of those towns, local officials are working with contractors to provide education, improve water and air quality in order to increase the overall health of residents and reduce strain on the health system.

C. TRAFFIC – Indiana is not necessarily known for its 'forward-thinking' road and highway system. However, with Interstate 69- that will eventually connect Canada, the US and Mexico) now routing through the area, a number of road projects and improvements are now in the works to help reduce the burden of the soon-to-be-arriving influx of extra traffic.

D. BREAST CANCER – The Tri-State area is known for higher incidences of cancer, likely due to exhaustive amounts of manufacturing and additional environmental factors. One of the leading types of cancer in southern Indiana and western Kentucky is breast cancer. Multiple facilities, nonprofits and agencies host numerous events and awareness campaigns during the month of October to help curb a disease that may no longer be a death sentence, especially when detected early. Experts have learned that early detection messaging is effective and saves lives.

E: STEM – Studies have shown that students involved in STEM and STEM-inspired activities at school have higher comprehension, test scores and more active participation in the classroom. Many schools in Indiana now have well-attended STEM programs. One school corporation in particular has a special STEM Week, in which middle school students and teachers from around the Tri-State are invited to their Career and Technical High School for more advanced training.

Section II. Responsive Programs

In our ongoing effort to serve the interests of the audiences receiving our programs, WBKR-FM and WJLT-FM broadcast Radio Health Journal on the days and times listed below. These programs address issues identified as significant to our communities as well as a variety of other topics. A comprehensive description of the topics covered are found on the following pages.

WBKR-FM: Radio Health Journal- Sundays, 7am
