

881The'Burg - KCWU

Ellensburg, WA

Quarterly Programming Report

April 1 to June 30, 2018

Every quarter, 881The'Burg puts together a public examination document that has a list of what the station feels is vital content for the local region. The included content has been split into different sections to provide more of an overview for station.

The following lists of issues and necessities are being funneled into 881The'Burg's public review file. This is per the FCC requirements of the three month timeframe, occurring from April 1 to June 30, 2018.

Enclosed in this report is a list which has a wide view on 881The'Burg's weekly news show. However, it doesn't have the all the broadcasting that has aired over the last quarter.

881The'Burg – Programming

881The'Burg weekend news covers different news stories that are important to the local community. The content is local, regional and national news. Our news team has been passionate of delivering a product that informs the citizens in nearby towns of what is currently going on all over the world. While the staff do have small sections to voice their opinion, most of the stories are delivered in an unbiased fashion. A news show without an agenda is one that provides the best information to consumers.

881The'Burg news content for this quarter has been split in between the following categories. We feel as though each is vital to the community

1. Local Activities – Current or past events going on in the nearby community such as musical's, plays, shows and concerts.
2. Global Matters – Horrific worldwide incidents, and political topics.
3. Regional Topics: Nearby politics, studies and news.
4. Entertainment – Gaming, technology and television or movie news.
5. Community Updates – Local news stories and interviews with people of interest
