Fri Oct 27 12pm	The City Club Forum	2023 City Club Annual Meeting & Community Open House, The Art of the Spoken Word: A Conversation with Playhouse Square's Craig Hassall	Public speaking and the spoken word are one of humankind's earliest forms of art. It thrived before written languages, and remains rooted in the oral traditions of many cultures today. Speeches often define moments in history--George Washington's farewell address, Martin Luther King's speech to the March on Washington, for instance. In 1968, Robert F. Kennedy spoke at the City Club of the "mindless menace of violence" the day after Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was assassinated--a speech that still resonates today. Even in an era of emoji, texting, and AI, the art and exercise of the spoken word remains critical. It is the speech, the word verbalized that provokes thought, sparks debate, and wins arguments. Fri Dec 29 12pm	The City Club Forum	The Golem of Brooklyn	From the best-selling author of Go the Fk to Sleep , famously narrated by actor Samuel L. Jackson, Adam Mansbach is back with his latest novel, The Golem of Brooklyn--which is a hilarious and satirical weaving of Jewish folklore and history into a thoroughly modern tale of faith, retribution and healing.	Arts & Culture	one hour
Mon Oct 30 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Northeast Ohio music venues recovering from pandemic and economic stressors	Last year, the National Independent Venue Association held its first annual conference in Cleveland. That organization was formed during the pandemic as a way to support an economic ecosystem that had been hit hard by the COVID-19 pandemic. Music venues were some of the first businesses to close when the pandemic hit, and some of the last places to re-open their doors.	Arts & Culture	one hour
Thu Nov 2 9am	The Sound of Ideas	The "Sound of Us" series looks at what makes marriage work and why some remain unmarried	Earlier this week, the "Sound of Ideas" presented a conversation about the state of independent music venues in the region. Many of those institutions are still reeling from the pandemic, experiencing lagging attendance numbers, and have experienced financial strains due to supply chain issues and inflation. That story of economic uncertainty is being felt throughout another arts landscape, theaters.	Arts & Culture	one hour
Mon Nov 6 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Collision of art and artificial intelligence creates murky waters for artists, curators and educators	Is the human touch what gives art its meaning? Are the years that Michelangelo spent laying on his back 60 feet in the air what make the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel so moving? Do the words of Toni Morrison resonate more because we can feel her lived experience as a Black woman through her texts? On the other hand, is it odd for The Beatles to digitally extract John Lennon's voice from an unreleased demo to produce a new song four decades after his death? Artificial intelligence is reshaping so many occupations right now, not just coding or manufacturing. More and more we're seeing how AI is colliding with human beings' desire to create and express themselves through a variety of media.	Arts & Culture	one hour
Tue Nov 21 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Northeast Ohio food and drink experts share Thanksgiving cooking tips	It's the Tuesday before Thanksgiving, and many of us are in the thick of preparing for Thursday's big dinner. You may already be chopping onions and pulling that turkey out of the freezer. Or maybe you are searching online for a completely new recipe to try this year.	Arts & Culture	one hour
Tue Oct 31 8pm	WKSU Specials	The Podcast Playlist Halloween Spooktacular	First we meet Flora. When she heads overseas to visit her family, she realizes her young cousin is acting very weird. Almost like he's someone... or something else entirely. Then we catch a Loch Ness Monster sighting. We'll learn about how Nessie became the elusive urban legend she is today. Plus: have you ever felt like you were being watched? For one teen, her suspicions started late at night when she heard a scraping at her window... We'll hear that and more terrifying tales week on CBC's Podcast Playlist. Listen, if you dare.	Arts & Culture	one hour
Tue Nov 7 8pm	WKSU Specials	Open to Debate: Is Objectivity Essential in Journalism?	For decades, objectivity has been cited as journalism's gold standard, promising that journalists would stick "to the facts" and deliver both sides of the story, excluding their personal views. Those in support say it builds trust and gives newsreaders the information they need to form their own opinions. Those against say it suppresses certain valuable viewpoints and that some issues don't merit the "both sides" treatment. Now, we debate: "Is Objectivity Essential in Journalism?" Fri Dec 8 12pm	The City Club Forum	Remarks from Eric Fingerhut	Eric Fingerhut is the President and CEO of The Jewish Federations of North America (JFNA), which represents 146 independent Federations across the continent and aims to protect and enhance the well-being of Jews worldwide. Some of their core priorities include mental health support to Jewish youth; caring for seniors and those with disabilities; and ending antisemitism. Now, as war erupts in Israel and Gaza, Jewish Federations are responding and working with core partners to support victims of terror, rebuild damaged infrastructure, and more.	Community	one hour
Fri Dec 22 12pm	The City Club Forum	Connecting Across the World: Remarks from German Marshall Fund's Heather Conley	At its core, the German Marshall Fund strives to champion democratic values and the transatlantic alliance by strengthening civil society, forging bold and innovative policy ideas, and developing a new generation of leaders to tackle global challenges. In fact, many of its alumni reside right here in Northeast Ohio and they continue to drive innovative solutions to the challenges our communities face.	Community	one hour
Mon Nov 13 9am	The Sound of Ideas	The war between Israel and Hamas is having a traumatic impact on communities in Northeast Ohio	Even though the conflict is happening thousands of miles away, Jewish and Palestinian communities are being impacted by the war between Israel and Hamas.	Community	one hour
Wed Nov 22 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Northeast Ohio food banks feeding record numbers as food insecurity grows	Thanksgiving more than other holidays focuses on food. Families and friends will gather tomorrow to celebrate with a big meal. But for a growing number of Ohioans, food insecurity and hunger are a reality. According to Feeding America, a nationwide network of food banks and food pantries, hunger is a reality for 1 in 8 Ohioans and 1 in 7 Ohio children. The organization says that amounts to nearly 1.4 million Ohioans not having access to sufficient food.	Community	one hour
Tue Nov 14 8pm	WKSU Specials	Other People's Children	The BBC's Namulanta Kombo hears the stories of domestic workers who spend years away from their homes and families, caring for other people's children. They talk about the thrill of watching someone else's child take their first steps, and the challenges of keeping your family together when you're thousands of miles apart.	Community	one hour

Tue Dec 19 8pm	WKSU Specials	A Paul Winter Solstice	This year, Solstice Live! warms up the longest night of the year with a taste of the tropics. This Winter Solstice special brings a starry array of Brazilian guests, including Ivan Lins, Renato Braz, and Luciana Souza, with the Paul Winter Consort at the annual solstice concerts in New York's Cathedral of St John the Divine. John Schaefer hosts.	Community	one hour
Thu Nov 23 8pm	Akron Roundtable	Out of the Shadows-Cannabis Going Mainstream	Steve's remarks will address foundational information regarding where the Cannabis industry is today (nationally, in Ohio), some historical insight on how it got there, what we know about what's going on at the federal and state levels, and what the emerging issues and opportunities might be. He will also address the elephant in the room: the conflict between state and federal law (assuming no changes before the November election in Ohio).	Economy	one hour
Fri Oct 13 12pm	The City Club Forum	Systems Change in the Workforce: Remarks from Incept CEO Sam Falletta	Systems change in workforce development is the collective efforts of employers, workers, talent developers, and other stakeholders to make a transformative impact and create opportunities for others in our community. It asks those in the work to go beyond traditional models of workforce development.	Economy	one hour
Mon Oct 2 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Stephen Dubner and Mayor Justin Bibb discuss "The Freakonomics of Cleveland"	If you listen to this NPR station, chances are you're familiar with Stephen Dubner, the creator and host of "Freakonomics Radio" which is heard on public radio stations across the country. Tuesday night Dubner dissects "The Freakonomics of Cleveland" on stage at Playhouse Square. In addition to Dubner's speech tomorrow night, he'll be joined onstage by Cleveland Mayor Justin Bibb for a deep dive into Cleveland's economic landscape.	Economy	one hour
Thu Oct 5 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Cannabis summit begins this week as Ohio once again prepares to vote on legalization	In 2015, only four states had legalized recreational marijuana, but today 23 states have along with Washington DC. Ohio has legalized medicinal marijuana use, and the first dispensary in the state opened in 2019. Just weeks before voters across the state once again cast ballots on legalizing adult use of marijuana, the Ohio Cannabis Health and Business Summit is back in town.	Economy	one hour

Tue Oct 10 9am	The Sound of Ideas	United Way of Greater Cleveland hosts conversation on social impact of utility debt	The number of people seeking financial help to pay their utility bills has risen in recent years, according to the Cleveland nonprofit, CHN Housing Partners. Those individuals may deal with side effects beyond financial debt, including the stress of immediate costs to long-term health implications. On Tuesday's "Sound of Ideas," we'll hear a panel discussion organized by the United Way of Greater Cleveland on how utility affordability affects residents in Greater Cleveland, and ways utility assistance programs can help. Thu Nov 30 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Workforce reports analyze talent gaps and gig economy impact in Northeast Ohio	For seven years, Team NEO has been releasing reports that analyze trends in Northeast Ohio's workforce. The group, which focuses on economic development in Northeast Ohio, also spent time specifically digging into the region's talent gap: What industries are in need of workers. A new report out last month, "Beyond the Status Quo," part of Team NEO's "Aligning Opportunities" series of studies, looked at how industry trends have played out in the years since the COVID-19 pandemic. The findings hold firm that a talent gap in the region remains, but some industries are seeing improvement.	Economy	36 minutes
Mon Dec 4 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Have tips reached a tipping point? Survey finds more negative feelings about increase in tip requests	In the U.S., the standard to tip is around 20% when dining at a restaurant, but a growing number of services are also asking for tips — like picking up takeout, grabbing a coffee, or getting a tattoo. That's thanks in part to more businesses using payment apps like Square and Toast at checkout, that make it simple for businesses that didn't ordinarily ask for tips to now do so.	Economy	one hour
Tue Dec 5 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Transit-oriented development advocates plan how to create more pedestrian-friendly areas	The Cuyahoga County Planning Commission is completing a year-long study looking to address the issue of urban and suburban sprawl. Huge multi-lane highways like Interstate 90 or Interstate 480 cut through neighborhoods and feed into large thoroughfares lined with parking lots, shopping centers and industrial parkways throughout Northeast Ohio. Thu Dec 7 9am	The Sound of Ideas	New senior housing project in Collinwood illustrates need for more affordable units across Ohio	The Ohio Housing Finance Agency's annual report found a growing gap between the number of low-income renters and affordable homes in Ohio. There are almost 450,000 low-income renters, but only around 177,000 affordable homes. And with rents increasing faster than incomes, the report says many tenants are finding themselves at risk of eviction and homelessness. In addition to low-income renters, people on a fixed income like senior citizens, are also at risk of being unhoused.	Economy	one hour
Mon Dec 11 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Amtrak's proposed expansion in Ohio has some transit advocates excited	Last week, Ohio Senator Sherrod Brown announced that the first steps were being taken to potentially expand Amtrak services across Ohio. The U.S. Department of Transportation's Federal Railroad Administration has identified four routes to prioritize for expansion, hitting major cities across the state, as well as connecting them to other hubs in the Midwest. The routes being discussed include the "3C+D," which runs from Cleveland, through Columbus and Dayton, down to Cincinnati, the "Midwest Connect Corridor" which links Chicago, Fort Wayne, Columbus, and Pittsburgh, and a route connecting Cleveland, Toledo, and Detroit. Plus, the "Daily Cardinal" route is targeted for potential expansion. That route runs from Chicago to New York, with a stop in Cincinnati.	Economy	one hour
Mon Dec 18 9am	The Sound of Ideas	New West Side Market director discusses goals for nonprofit management of the Cleveland institution	Rosemary Mudry, the new executive director of the West Side Market, is taking the reins of the historic institution as it moves toward new nonprofit management, from its previous management by the city of Cleveland. On Monday's "Sound of Ideas," we'll talk to Mudry about her goals for the market. We'll also hear from Don Whitaker, head of the tenants' association and one of the members of the hiring committee for the new executive director.	Economy	one hour
Thu Dec 21 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Survey finds people are confused over how much and when to tip	In the U.S., the standard to tip is around 20% when dining at a restaurant, but a growing number of services are also asking for tips — like picking up takeout, grabbing a coffee, or getting a tattoo. That's thanks in part to more businesses using payment apps like Square and Toast at checkout, that make it simple for businesses that didn't ordinarily ask for tips to now do so.	Economy	one hour
Fri Dec 1 12pm	The City Club Forum	The Future of Higher Education: A Conversation with Cleveland's College Presidents	Over the past few years, schools have strived to adapt and shift in response to the ever-changing environment and requirements of a 21st-century classroom. Higher education, in particular, has borne a significant share of these challenges. Students and administrators have grappled with the Herculean task of managing the COVID-19 pandemic, mental health concerns, and political challenges directed at college faculty and curriculum.	Education	one hour
Fri Oct 27 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Thousands of Ohio families apply for expanded private school vouchers	Many families are applying for Ohio's newly expanded voucher program and the price tag won't be cheap. Lawmakers expanded the EdChoice vouchers in the budget passed this year. The value of the voucher was expanded and so was the income threshold for qualification. The state has spent $240 million and the tab will get much higher.	Education	one hour
Wed Dec 20 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Sound of Ideas Community Tour   Northeast Ohio school board members discuss rising polarization	Contention over what's being taught in the classroom isn't anything new. You can go back to the Scopes trial to see a state, Tennessee, that banned the teaching of evolution and a teacher, John Scopes, who defied that ban. There was also ugliness at school board meetings at the dawn of the Civil Rights Movement, and in the 1990s over sex education.	Education	two hours
Fri Nov 3 12pm	The City Club Forum	2023 State of the Great Lakes	The year is not yet over, but across the country, people have weathered a significant number of climate events: Californians experienced heavy rainfall from, landslides, and even a hurricane. The South grappled with extreme heat and the Midwest and Northeast are contending with dangerous air quality from wildfires in Canada. Now, the gulf and east coasts are bracing for another season of intense hurricane activity.	Environment & Energy	one hour
Fri Dec 15 12pm	The City Club Forum	Not Just a Pipe: Bottled Water's Link to Governmental Distrust	For many Americans, water does not get a second thought after pulling their kitchen tap. Yet, more than 30 million Americans lived in areas where water systems violated safety rules at the beginning of last year. Others simply cannot afford to pay. Add to this, headlining stories exposing injustice in water access, like uranium contamination in the Navajo Nation, or lead-tainted tap water in Flint, Michigan.	Environment & Energy	one hour
Tue Oct 24 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Carbon credit program aids in preservation of pristine Mentor forest site	The Western Reserve Land Conservancy is working to preserve a 91-acre site in Mentor through its carbon credit program. The program helps to reduce carbon emissions and preserve Northeast Ohio's urban tree canopy.	Environment & Energy	one hour
Fri Nov 17 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Despite protests, Ohio commission opens state park, wildlife areas to fracking	Bidding can now begin for companies that want to frack under Salt Fork State Park and two Ohio-owned wildlife areas. The Oil and Gas Land Management Commission approved seven of 10 requests at a raucous meeting this week. The decision opens thousands of acres of land in Guernsey, Carroll and Columbiana counties to exploration for oil and gas.	Environment & Energy	one hour
Mon Nov 20 9am	The Sound of Ideas	"Talking Foreign Policy" tackles the international community's response to climate change	Last summer, smoke from hundreds of Canadian forest fires blanketed portions the United States, including Northeast Ohio. Libya and Pakistan were deluged by massive floods, while rivers and lakes in other parts of the world dried up.	Environment & Energy	one hour
Wed Dec 13 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Landmark Endangered Species Act turns 50	This month marks the 50th anniversary of the Endangered Species Act. President Richard Nixon signed the law on Dec. 28, 1973. The conservation law grew out of a simple concept: to protect endangered and threatened species from extinction and protect their habitats. Since its implementation, the law has helped save iconic species from extinction including the bald eagle, humpback whale, California condor, American alligator, gray wolf and grizzly bear. Fri Oct 20 12pm	The City Club Forum	Ohio Issue 1 Debate	When the Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade last year, it sent the issue of legalizing abortion back to the states. After the court's decision, Ohio enacted a near-total ban on abortion—which remained legal for a little over two months until a Hamilton County judge placed the law on hold due to a lawsuit from the ACLU and Planned Parenthood. Currently, abortion is legal in Ohio before 22 weeks of pregnancy. With Issue 1, abortion proponents hope to enshrine the right to abortion in the state's constitution.	Government & Politics	one hour
Fri Nov 10 12pm	The City Club Forum	Remarks from Her Excellency Geraldine Byrne Nason, Ambassador of Ireland to the United States	Ambassador Geraldine Byrne Nason assumed her role as Ireland's 19th Ambassador to the United States in August 2022. Previously, she spent five years as Ireland's Ambassador to the United Nations and served on the Security Council as an elected member. Her experiences in that role made her acutely aware of the importance of sustaining peace and security. 2023 also marks 25 years since the Good Friday Agreement, which ended most of the violence of the Troubles in Ireland. The nation is also working through the aftermath of Brexit, the COVID-19 pandemic, and upended peace and stability from the devastating consequences of the war in Ukraine. Tue Oct 17 9am	The Sound of Ideas	What's on the ballot for Northeast Ohio voters this November?	Early voting is underway for the November election. The marquee issues on the ballot are two statewide issues. Issue 1 is a proposed constitutional amendment that would enshrine abortion protections in the state's founding document. Issue 2 is a statute that would legalize recreational marijuana. Voters will also decide a number of local issues, races and levies this November.	Government & Politics	one hour
Mon Oct 23 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Akron Board of Education candidates debate in closely watched race	The Akron Public Schools system has faced its fair share of challenges in recent years. Lagging academic achievement among students, along with chronic absenteeism, and behavioral issues stemming from the pandemic have all been concerns.	Government & Politics	one hour
Wed Oct 25 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Issue 20 would change Lorain County government structure, create 7 districts	Voters in Lorain County will decide Issue 20 this November. Known as the "seven-districts" plan, Issue 20 would change the look of government in Lorain County. Issue 20 proposes to replace the current three at-large county commissioners with a board of seven commissioners elected from districts each drawn to represent roughly 45,000 residents in the county. The seven-member board would appoint a county executive.	Government & Politics	one hour
Thu Oct 26 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Jewish faith leaders and Arab community members share their thoughts on ongoing crisis in the Middle East	It's been nearly three weeks since Hamas launched a terror attack on southern Israel. During that brutal attack, an estimated 1,400 Israelis were killed as they danced at a peace festival or slept in their homes in kibbutzim. Approximately 200 people were taken hostage. Their conditions are unknown. Among the murdered and among those taken into Gaza were men, women, children, babies and the elderly. Since that attack, Israel has retaliated with continuous bombardments of Gaza in a bid to destroy Hamas. It is estimated that more than 6,000 Palestinians have been killed. Many of them children as approximately 40% of the population in Gaza are under 15 years old.	Government & Politics	one hour
Tue Oct 31 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Ideastream Public Media and WEWS News 5 Cleveland hold Issue 2 discussion	One week from today, voters in Ohio will once again be voting on the potential to legalize marijuana in the state. The citizen-initiated statute would legalize use, cultivation, processing, possession and growth of marijuana for adults 21 and above and would make Ohio the 24th state to legalize. Tuesday on the "Sound of Ideas," we hear from proponents and opponents of Issue 2.	Government & Politics	one hour
Wed Nov 1 9am	The Sound of Ideas	November 2023 election: Ohio voting experts answer questions	We are less than a week out from the November election in which Ohioans will decide two statewide issues: State Issue 1, the proposed abortion rights and reproductive health constitutional amendment, and State Issue 2, the statute to legalize recreational marijuana. Both issues are expected to drive turnout.	Government & Politics	one hour
Fri Nov 3 9am	The Sound of Ideas	DeWine suggests changes to existing abortion law if Ohio Issue 1 fails	Early voting is now on track to exceed the turnout in August where voters knocked down an issue to make it harder for citizens to amend the constitution. The biggest issue for next week's vote is Issue 1, the proposed amendment to place abortion and reproductive health protections in the state constitution. There's also a statute to legalize recreational marijuana. Governor Mike DeWine, a staunch opponent of abortion, now says voters should reject Issue 1 with the promise that the state could tweak existing abortion restrictions to allow exceptions for rape, incest and the life of the mother. Supporters say the governor's words ring hollow.	Government & Politics	one hour
Tue Nov 7 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Ohio voters will decide two major statewide issues this Election Day	Tuesday's election includes two major statewide issues for Ohio voters. If passed, Issue 1 would enshrine abortion and other reproductive rights into the state constitution and Issue 2 would legalize recreational marijuana. But while the nation is focused on those statewide races, there are also many local races and issues on the November ballot, including Cleveland's participatory budgeting charter amendment, Lorain County's major government restructuring issue, as well as Akron and Canton's races for mayor. There are also many judicial, council and school board races and several levies across the region.	Government & Politics	one hour
Wed Nov 8 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Ohio voters say yes to abortion rights, recreational marijuana	Ohio is the latest state to protect abortion rights after voters approved Issue 1 Tuesday. Reproductive health protections, including abortion rights, will be enshrined in the state constitution. Despite strong opposition to Issue 1, including from the governor and Republican lawmakers, supporters easily passed the amendment and the race was called less than two hours after polls closed.	Government & Politics	one hour
Thu Nov 9 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Proponents of Issue 2 will now have to carve a path forward for legal marijuana in Ohio	On Tuesday, Ohioans voted to legalize recreational marijuana, becoming the 24 th state to legalize and regulate the growing, manufacturing, testing and sale of pot for any reason to adults 21 and over. The ballot issue passed 57% to 43%, and the potential revenue for the state sits somewhere in the range of $218 million to over $400 million a year. However, Republican legislative leaders in Ohio have suggested that the law is likely to change.	Government & Politics	one hour
Fri Nov 10 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Ohio Republicans say election will not end the battle over abortion rights	Abortion rights and legalized marijuana advocates celebrated this week after Ohio voters decisively passed state Issue 1 and Issue 2. Issue 1 puts abortion and reproductive health protections in the state constitution. Issue 2 legalizes recreational marijuana for those 21 and older. Opponents of both issues though, including state lawmakers say the battle, especially over abortion is far from over. Republican lawmakers also want to tweak the statute that legalized recreational marijuana.	Government & Politics	one hour
Tue Nov 14 9am	The Sound of Ideas	After the November election, a look at efforts to improve voter engagement in Northeast Ohio	Among other high-income countries, voter turnout in U.S. elections, which was 62% in 2020, is below average, especially when compared to some of our peers, like Sweden and Belgium, with turnout at 78% or higher. Though off-year elections typically get lower turnout, two major statewide issues on the ballot last week made statewide turnout on par with last year's midterm elections, according to the Secretary of State's office. Thu Dec 14 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Recreational marijuana is legal in Ohio, but with little infrastructure set up to use it	For the last week it has been legal for adults 21 and over in Ohio to possess and grow marijuana in their homes, ever since the citizen-led initiated statute known as Issue 2 went into effect 30 days after voters passed the ballot measure last month with 57 percent of the vote. But there is still no legal way to buy recreational marijuana in the state, something that puts Ohioans in a bit of a limbo until state lawmakers set the parameters for carrying out the law. Governor Mike DeWine called this limbo a "recipe for disaster."	Government & Politics	one hour
Fri Dec 15 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Cuyahoga County Council extends sales tax to pay for new jail   Reporters Roundtable	Cuyahoga County Council yesterday, in a special meeting, approved a quarter-percent sales tax extension for 40 years. Money generated from the tax will pay for the new jail and possibly a new courthouse. The vote to extend the sales tax was close passing 6 to 5.	Government & Politics	one hour
Tue Dec 26 9am	The Sound of Ideas	New biographies explore how Garfield and Lincoln dealt with a divided country	As we end this year, the "Sound of Ideas" is bringing you some of our favorite conversations from 2023 that we think deserve another listen. Political pundits often lament the polarization and division that exists among Americans and argue these are unprecedented times. But a new biography of our 20th president, James A. Garfield, a Northeast Ohio native, reminds us that our national division is nothing new.	Government & Politics	one hour
Fri Dec 29 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Looking back on the top Ohio stories in 2023   Reporters Roundtable	There are two numbers that sum up the year in politics in 2023: 1 and 2. Mon Oct 16 9pm	WKSU Specials	Canton Mayoral Debate	The two candidates that are running to be the next mayor of Canton, Republican Roy Scott DePew, a notary signing agent, and Democrat William Sherer II, the president of Canton City Council recently met for a debate. DePew and Sherer discussed economic development, particularly the investments around the Pro Football Hall of Fame, the rise in crime in the region, policing, education and more.	Government & Politics	one hour
Tue Oct 17 8pm	WKSU Specials	Issue 1 Forum	Join us for a roundtable discussion on Issue 1 that will provide in-depth, balanced, nuanced information and context about Issue 1 before voters cast their ballots. Produced by the Ohio Debate Commission, in partnership with Ideastream Public Media and Spectrum.	Government & Politics	one hour
Tue Oct 3 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Family doctors criticize decision to end family medicine residency at University Hospitals main campus	University Hospitals last month announced it would be ending its family medicine residency program at its main campus in Cleveland. It said current residents will continue to be trained but it would stop recruiting new residents. UH will still operate family medicine residencies at two other campuses in Westlake and Chardon. In a statement, the hospital system cited changes in family medicine over the last decade, including becoming more community-based and outpatient care-focused. This decision has led to outcry from local family physicians, professors and medical students who are concerned the move could contribute to the nationwide primary care doctor shortage, and make it harder for patients to access care. Wed Oct 4 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Cleveland program focuses on reducing infant mortality	Cleveland's infant mortality rate surpasses both the national and state averages. In 2021, the infant mortality rate for Cleveland was 10.5. Infant mortality is a measure of the number of babies who die before their first birthday per 1,000 live births. Comparatively, the nationwide infant mortality rate was 5.4 in 2020, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Within those numbers is another story, one of racial disparity. Black babies are nearly twice as likely to die in their first year than white babies.	Health	one hour
Wed Oct 18 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Ohio report finds people of color with disabilities face more discrimination and inequity	People with disabilities have long been fighting for access and inclusion. Last month, 33 years after the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act, the National Institutes of Health finally designated people with disabilities as a health disparity population, promising to put more resources toward addressing equity gaps. But, the path for people with disabilities continues to be one filled with difficulties, particularly for people of color.	Health	one hour
Thu Oct 19 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Cleveland Clinic looks for strategies to improve heart health for underserved communities	Thursday on the "Sound of Ideas," we explore the issue of heart disease, the leading cause of death in the United States, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. It is estimated that nationwide 47% of Black adults have been diagnosed with cardiovascular disease compared with 36% of white adults.	Health	one hour
Tue Nov 28 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Gun violence impacts ER trauma workers including doctors, nurses and cleaning staff	Since the pandemic, gun violence has risen across the country, including in Cleveland, where since 2020, the number of homicides have been at least 130 per year, and as of mid-November this year, that number is at 146.	Health	34 minutes
Tue Dec 5 8pm	WKSU Specials	The Evidence: Putting the mouth back in the body	From diabetes or dementia, to the health of our hearts and bones, our mouths can tell us so much more about us without uttering a word. Claudia Hammond and her panel of guests examine the evidence.	Health	one hour
Thu Oct 26 8pm	Akron Roundtable	The Rise in Juvenile Crime and Violence - Pitfalls and Promise	This presentation will provide an overview of the factors that may be contributing to the recent rise in juvenile crime and violence including the easy availability and use of more lethal firearms, the role of exposure to violence impacting youth mental health, the rising influence of social media particularly as it is manifested via cyberbullying in and outside of schools, and the lingering impacts of the COVID pandemic. Examples of promising community based efforts to address youth violence will be provided as well as what has been shown not to work.	Law & Justice	one hour
Fri Oct 20 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Cleveland police knocked for failing to embrace departmental culture change	The depleted Cleveland Division of Police has failed to embrace a concept called Community and Problem Oriented Policing — or CPOP — laid out in an eight-year-old federal consent decree, according to a new report from a federal monitor. The police department, under the consent decree, is attempting a culture change from traditional policing to a more holistic approach that deals with solving problems rather than just arresting perpetrators. Cleveland's culture change is nowhere close to finished, the report filed in federal court Monday shows.	Law & Justice	one hour
Thu Nov 16 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Violence, staff turnover and neglect plague Ohio juvenile detention centers	A special eight-month investigation by several newspapers took a hard look at the state's juvenile justice system and found that it's failing on multiple levels — from kids facing violence and neglect, to guards being understaffed and fearful of their own safety.	Law & Justice	one hour
Wed Nov 29 9am	The Sound of Ideas	How effective is Cleveland's gunshot detection technology, ShotSpotter?	It's been three years since the Cleveland Division of Police started using a gunshot detection technology called ShotSpotter. The technology includes a network of microphones scattered around the city that is used to detect and locate gunshots. It then sends information to officers on patrol.	Law & Justice	33 minutes
Fri Dec 1 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Ohio lawmakers propose changes to new recreational marijuana law	Ohio voters gave decisive support to Issue 2 in the November election. They passed the issue that legalizes recreational marijuana use for those 21 and older with 57% of the vote. The measures goes into effect on Dec. 7.	Law & Justice	one hour
Wed Dec 6 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Former Ohio chief justice talks about the new anti-gerrymandering amendment proposal	Ohio voters may be asked to change the state's method for drawing legislative maps again in 2024. Signatures are being gathered with the goal of putting an anti-gerrymandering amendment on the November ballot. The proposal seeks to remove politicians entirely from the process of drawing Ohio's congressional and statehouse maps. A non-partisan coalition called Citizens Not Politicians is the driving force behind the amendment. If approved, it would create a 15-member Ohio Citizens Redistricting Commission made up of members equally split between Republicans, Democrats and Independents and drawn from across the state.	Law & Justice	one hour
Fri Dec 8 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Recreational marijuana now legal in Ohio but lawmakers still working on changes	Ohio's recreational marijuana statute, approved by 57% of voters in November, is now on the books. The statute allows adults 21 and older to possess, grow and use marijuana. Gov. Mike DeWine had asked lawmakers to make any changes to the statute before it went into effect to reduce confusion over what is allowed and what is not allowed.	Law & Justice	one hour
Tue Dec 12 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Cleveland and Akron city councils look to balance rights and rules in public comments	The First Amendment of the Constitution protects certain rights, including freedom of speech from government interference, but throughout history, courts have determined that there are boundaries to that speech. For instance, the 1969 Supreme Court case Brandenburg v. Ohio determined speech is not protected if it incites imminent lawless action, like a riot.	Law & Justice	one hour
Tue Oct 24 8pm	WKSU Specials	Open to Debate: Is Legalizing Marijuana A Mistake?	According to a 2022 Pew survey, "88% of US adults say that marijuana should be legal for medical and recreational use." While marijuana legalization is gaining more cultural acceptance, effectively regulating drugs has long flummoxed policy and lawmakers. With this context, it's time to debate — "Is Legalizing Marijuana A Mistake?"	Law & Justice	one hour
Mon Nov 27 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Report finds people of color with disabilities face more discrimination	People with disabilities have long been fighting for access and inclusion. Last month, 33 years after the passage of the Americans with Disabilities Act, the National Institutes of Health finally designated people with disabilities as a health disparity population, promising to put more resources toward addressing equity gaps. But, the path for people with disabilities continues to be one filled with difficulties, particularly for people of color.	Race, Gender & Identity	one hour
Tue Oct 10 8pm	WKSU Specials	American Dreamer: Sam's Story	Every year, an estimated 65,000 undocumented students graduate from American high schools. Raised entirely in American culture, they finish high school only to find themselves in a peculiarly American limbo. "American Dreamer: Sam's Story" is a first-person longitudinal radio documentary sharing the experience of one of these kids. Presented in celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month.	Race, Gender & Identity	one hour
Tue Nov 21 8pm	WKSU Specials	Peace Talks Radio: Massasoit's Peace Pact with the Pilgrims	Massasoit was the leader of the Wampanoag Confederacy who negotiated a truce with British settlers of Plymouth Colony that lasted for 40 years in the 1600's, starting shortly after the first Thanksgiving. On Peace Talks Radio, join us for conversation with American Indian scholars and a filmmaker who fill in the details of Massasoit's attempt to make peace for his people and with the new strangers.	Race, Gender & Identity	one hour
Fri Oct 6 12pm	The City Club Forum	A Conversation with Blitz Bazawule, Author, Rapper, and Director of THE COLOR PURPLE	It's evident that Cleveland is positioning itself as a burgeoning technology and arts and culture hub, rapidly expanding its network of startups and visionary individuals. Still, there remains an imbalance in the accessibility to capital and growth prospects, particularly for BIPOC communities. Ghanaian filmmaker, and Kent State University alum Blitz Bazawule, knows first-hand the challenges that lie at the intersection of entrepreneurship, arts & culture, and the startup economy. Now, he is making headlines as director of the musical reimagining of The Color Purple, a film produced by Steven Spielberg, Oprah Winfrey, and Quincy Jones, which is set to release in theaters on Christmas Day.	Science & Technology	one hour
Mon Oct 9 9am	The Sound of Ideas	Tech conferences throughout Cleveland are hoping to connect entrepreneurs with investors	2023 has been quite the year for technology related investments in Ohio. This summer the state's Department of Development announced that $111 million would be available through the Ohio Early Stage Focus Fund and the Ohio Venture Fund. Applications to receive those dollars are open now, and will then be allocated to various tech start-ups later in the year through 2024. The news of these dollars comes of the heel of news that Google will spend $1.7 billion to expand several data centers in Central Ohio. That's on top of the $2 billion that Google has already committed on those data center projects. While those large-scale spending initiatives are happening, there are more regional and focused events happening here in Northeast Ohio.	Science & Technology	one hour
Tue Oct 3 8pm	WKSU Specials	AI: Who Cares?	Nick Miles will be joined by the BBC's technology editor Zoe Kleinman and a panel of experts to discuss how AI fits into health, the environment, justice, and the workplace.	Science & Technology	one hour
Tue Nov 28 8pm	WKSU Specials	Open to Debate: Should We Erase Bad Memories?	Similar to Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind, neurotechnology techniques like decoded neurofeedback open the possibility of modifying or erasing memories that aren't pleasant or beneficial to our well-being. Those in favor argue it could help offer a path to a mentally healthier and happier life. Those against it say that tampering with memories could be dangerous to our sense of self and undermine our experiences. Now we debate: Should We Erase Bad Memories?	Science & Technology	one hour
