- Tie in between Storage Systems, CityCURRENT, Feed America First and “Dancing With the Nashville Stars”.
- 10th Anniversary Fundraiser – dance-off between 2 past Champions, me and Dr. David Kemp.
- Event date is February 15, 2022 at The Factory, Franklin. Night full of good food, drink and lots of entertainment.
- Shiny Ball Trophy – most dollars raised, Best Dance Trophy. So doing good, along with intense, friendly competition.
- I am doing this again, because the need to solve hunger issues in TN, KY, AL & MS is greater than ever, especially in the rural areas...given the pandemic, current employment issues, school closings, various natural disasters. 2017 FAF distributed around 12M pounds of food and this year set to distribute over 22M pounds.
- Bottom line – we don’t have a food shortage, but we do have a distribution problem, along with the recognition by our communities that hunger needs exist in all our communities...from the richest to the poorest.

Full Bio: Best-selling author, keynote speaker, and resilience researcher Adam Markel inspires leaders to master the challenges of massive disruption in his upcoming book, "Change-Proof — Leveraging the Power of Uncertainty to Build Long-Term Resilience" (McGraw-Hill, February 2022).

Adam is author of the #1 Wall Street Journal, USA Today, Los Angeles Times, and Publisher's Weekly best-seller, "Pivot: The Art & Science of Reinventing Your Career and Life." A leading international keynote speaker, he has reached tens of thousands worldwide with his message of resilience as the competitive edge in today's complex markets. An attorney, entrepreneur, and transformational trainer, Adam is a sought-after business culture catalyst who inspires, empowers, and guides organizations and individuals to create sustainable, high-performance strategies.

Adam is also the CEO of More Love Media and host of The Conscious PIVOT podcast, where he shares his insights on pivoting and resilience in today's fast-paced market and interviews experts, innovators, and influencers in the areas of business and life.

Adam credits much of his success to the principles he learned during his 8 years as a Jones Beach lifeguard in New York. As a first responder in a life-and-death environment, he learned the importance of cultivating a high-performance capacity and impeccable teamwork. He's found that the principles of this type of culture and leadership equally apply to any business that wants to build a competitive advantage to win.

After building a multi-million-dollar law firm, Adam pivoted his own career path to become CEO of one of the largest business and personal growth training companies in the world. Here he learned that motivation and inspiration alone are not enough to effectively utilize change; it's about providing leaders, teams, and audiences with effective takeaways to sustain them over time.

Adam's keynotes, corporate workshops, and business mentoring combine his "Lessons from the Lifeguard Stand" with practical business strategies, personal development insights, and a unique delivery style to create a high-energy and impactful learning environment.

➤ John Wark, Founder & CEO – Nashville Software School

1. What is Nashville Software School?

Nashville Software School (NSS) was started in 2012 as the nation's first non-profit software bootcamp. We began as a way to develop a pipeline of local tech talent to meet the needs of area employers. We provide full-time and part-time online training programs in web development, software engineering, data analytics and data science. We are ideally suited for adult students who do not have a background in tech but have the appropriate interest and aptitude.

With the addition of nearly 12,000 local tech jobs in the near future with Oracle, Amazon, NTT Data and many others investing heavily in Nashville, it's an ideal time to pursue a tech career. These are well-paying jobs and many of these employers are looking to hire diverse talent in Tennessee.

2. What is the mission of Nashville Software School?

Our mission is to open doors to adults with motivation and aptitude for careers in tech. We're committed to creating opportunities to access high-paying tech careers for individuals who are financially disadvantaged or are from groups underrepresented in tech careers. In fact, 58% of our graduates in 2021 are members of underrepresented groups including women, people of color and veterans. This year, we celebrate our 10th anniversary and will graduate our 2000th graduate in the summer.

3. How do you work with employers to find tech talent?

The curriculum in our programs is always influenced by our engagement with local employers and their tech talent needs. Our team actively works to engage employers with our students prior to graduation and shares job postings with graduates. Our success is not measured solely based on graduation rate, but on graduates securing a job in tech.

Our graduates have been hired by top employers including HCA, Ingram, Built Technologies, AllianceBernstein and Amazon--the list goes on. They are looking for junior tech talent who are job ready with the relevant skills and experience on a team. That's what they get when they hire an NSS grad.

We also partner with employers and community organizations to support programs such as the Nashville Technology Council's apprentice program where students receive free tuition through the GoTech partnership funded by the State of Tennessee.

Recently, we launched a software engineering program with Java/AWS specialization in collaboration with Amazon. This program is based on a proven curriculum developed by Amazon Technical Academy and is another pathway for local residents and those outside our region to acquire the skills required to launch a career in software development.

4. How can people support Nashville Software School?

We invite employers to reach out to us with their tech talent needs and see how we can partner with them. As a non-profit organization, we invite individuals and corporations to support NSS through donations to help fund Opportunity Tuition and scholarships for students who are financially fragile. Currently, about 50% of our students receive opportunity through NSS-funded options.

➤ Ken and Brenda Knabenshue, Founder and Co-Founder – Working Dogs for Vets

Phonetic spelling is N-aben-shoe. (The k is silent).

After Ken was discharged, he was involved in a life- changing automobile accident where he became disabled and sustained multiple injuries. His physician recommended that he get a service dog. Kenneth contacted many service dog organizations and was repeatedly told a service dog would cost anywhere from $12,000.00 to $15,000.00 and waiting lists were 3-5 years. Ken met with many dogs and trainers and kept noticing some of the dogs were not trained much more than the dogs he had at home. This was when Ken decided to train his own service dog. At that time, he was unsure how to teach his dog some of the tasks he would need to learn to not only help him but also what he would need in order to be legally considered a service dog. Ken contacted service dog trainers for advice, read and gained as much knowledge as he could and with his determination, he successfully trained his own service dog despite his disabilities and injuries. However, he didn't stop there, he knew there were so many others that needed help too, so he set out to help other disabled veterans.

Many disabled veterans cannot afford to have a service dog trained for them, not just due to finances but also due to the long wait times before they could receive a program trained service dog. The programs that Ken has started are unlike any other service dog program out there. They are enabling many disabled veterans by providing the knowledge, online/phone and 1 on 1 support, information and tools necessary to help them with individualized care and training at no cost to the veteran. This organization operates on generous donations, is 100% volunteer based and has had an amazing success rate in helping veterans train their own service dogs. Volunteers are our backbone!

After they have graduated into a Service Dog, the veteran/dog team must help another team! That is one of the best parts of this program veterans helping veterans, therefore No Veteran Is Left Behind. We are in the process of organizing our annual fundraiser here at headquarters in Lawrenceburg on July 4th weekend (Jul 2, 2022)! We will have your typical food, interesting games, “manly” as opposed to “girly” door prizes, very interesting vendors, bouncy house for the kids as well as a hot dog eating contest for a gift basket of dog related items and if you’re not a friend of ours on Facebook, go to our FB page and click the like button! Program 22-01		Executive Producer:	Reed Pence
Air Week: 1/2/22		Production Manager:	Jason Dickey
SEGMENT 1:	HOARDING DISORDER: MORE THAN JUST TOO MUCH JUNK	Time	Duration
Synopsis:	Hoarding disorder affects at least five percent of Americans, and despite TV programs showing its effects, it is still widely misunderstood. Experts discuss the danger hoarding poses to others, including neighbors, children, and first responders; why those with the disorder are so attached to things; and the right and wrong ways to address the problem.	1:50	12:20
Host & Producer:	Reed Pence
Guests:	Dr. Carolyn Rodriguez, Associate Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, Stanford University School of Medicine; Elaine Birchall, social worker specializing in hoarding disorder and co-author of Conquer the Clutter: Strategies to Identify, Manage and Overcome Hoarding
Compliance issues:	Children and Youth at Risk, Mental Health, First Responders, Family Issues, Public Safety
Links:	Carolyn Rodriguez – Stanford University profile Birchall Consulting
SEGMENT 2:	DEALING WITH LIFELONG DISEASE	Time	Duration
Synopsis:	Life-threatening, lifelong chronic diseases from infancy are at the top of the list of medical challenges. A woman who has dealt with cystic fibrosis her entire life discusses how mindset is often the biggest factor in living a full life with such a disease, and sets out her recipe for shoring up one's approach. Developing a chronic disease in your 30s or 40s strikes a lot of people as unfair. The deck seems stacked against someone like that. But what happens when you're diagnosed with a lifelong chronic disease almost at birth? That's what happened to Mary Elizabeth Peters, a theater artist and patient advocate in Boston.	15:12	7:43
Host:	Nancy Benson
Producer:	Bridget Killian
Guests:	Mary Elizabeth Peters, author of Don't Let Them Kill You: 10 Rules for Navigating Chronic Illness In the Age of Infinite Intervention

1/9/22
SEGMENT 1:	SEGMENT 1: CAN 911 RESPOND TO MENTAL HEALTH CRISES?	Time	Duration
Synopsis:	Up to 15% of calls to 911 involve people having a mental health breakdown, yet many call centers, especially in rural areas, have no one with any training on what to do or who to dispatch in those cases. Typically they send police, who may also have no training on how to handle mental health crises and may inflame the situation. Experts discuss why this happens and how communities can respond better.	1:50	12:15
Host & Producer:	Reed Pence
Guests:	Dr. Adam Vaughan, Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice and Criminology at Texas State University; Tracy Velazquez, Manager, Public Safety Research, Pew Charitable Trusts

SEGMENT 2:	HOW WARFARE DESTROYS HEALTHCARE	Time	Duration

Synopsis:

According to the Geneva Convention and other agreements, health facilities and workers are supposed to be protected from the violence of war. However, they're targeted much more often than most people know. A noted expert in the field discusses how this violence happens, its consequences, and how international organizations may be able to turn this trend around.

Program 22-06		Executive Producer:	Reed Pence
Air Week: 2/6/22		Production Manager:	Jason Dickey
SEGMENT 1:	PUNISHING COVID-LYING DOCTORS	Time	Duration
Synopsis:	There's a growing number of complaints to state medical boards regarding doctors lying about Covid-19 and vaccines. The doctors spreading misinformation are not always reprimanded by state medical boards and are allowed to continue voicing the misinformation. They cite freedom of speech as a defense, but other doctors say licensed professionals have an obligation to the truth. Experts explain the controversy.	1:50	13:17

SEGMENT 1: CARING FOR AN AGING POPULATION Time Duration

Synopsis: More than 54 million Americans ages 65 or older are living in the U.S. today. This accounts for almost 17 percent of the total population. This number is only set to rise over the next two decades as millions more baby boomers transition into this next phase of life. As this population further ages, many will require care. So often we talk about the healthcare system and the patients themselves, but what about the caregivers who provide these services? In many cases, this role falls on family members' shoulders, and for this group, it can be all too easy to quickly lose sight of personal health, wellness and relationships. We discuss the ups and downs of caregiving in a world that can feel isolating and hard to navigate.
