

WJZ-TV
Baltimore, Maryland
CBS Television Licenses LLC
QUARTERLY SIGNIFICANT PROGRAMS REPORT
Fourth Quarter
October 1 – December 31, 2018

Station WJZ-TV, licensed to CBS Television Licenses LLC, is responsive to the principal issues in its community of license, Baltimore, Maryland on a continuing basis. A variety of program elements, including regularly scheduled news and public affairs programming, reports on breaking news events, documentaries, specials, and public service announcements of concern to the community are included within our regular programming service. WJZ-TV's coverage of news stories, our employees' participation in community affairs, and regular interviews with community leaders have led to the determination that the issues listed are ones of importance to the Baltimore community. Our most significant programming, which dealt with current community issues during the preceding three-month period, are set forth in this report. WJZ-TV broadcasts both locally produced and network programming. Although we include only local programs herein, WJZ-TV also broadcasts several network broadcasts including FACE THE NATION, 60 MINUTES, CBS REPORTS and 48 HOURS.

PROGRAM INDEX

CONSUMER WATCH

WJZ reporters cover consumer interest topics. These reports air in the 4pm, 5pm and 6pm newscasts.

HEALTHWATCH

WJZ's reporters discuss health issues and interview experts and patients to deliver information on the latest advances in health for our 4pm, 5pm and 6pm newscasts.

SPECIAL REPORTS

Locally produced special reports, focusing on community issues, local lifestyle trends and local personality profiles. This air in the 4pm, 5pm, 6pm and 11pm newscasts.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS OUTREACH

Relevant projects launched by community organizations to benefit area residents.

|        |
|--------|
| HEALTH |
|--------|

WJZ News

10/8: Thirty-eight cases of West Nile Virus are confirmed in Maryland. The state health department tells WJZ that number is higher compared to the last several years.

10/13: Startling new data shows the number of opioid-related overdoses in Maryland is on the rise. According to the state department of health, opioid overdoses increased by 14.8% over the first six months of 2018 compared with the same period last year.

10/16: There's been a spike in a rare, polio-like illness affecting children. The CDC confirmed 127 patients are under investigation for acute flaccid myelitis or AFM. WJZ has more on the patients in Maryland who have contracted this illness.

10/23: Johns Hopkins University is scrambling to contain an outbreak of an infectious virus. The school reports more than 100 people have contracted hand, foot and mouth disease.

10/29: The report about the University of Maryland football program focuses on the program's culture but will that be enough to stop another death from heatstroke? One mother is on a mission after she lost her son four years ago—and never imagined—a death so easily prevented would happen again. A number of changes have been made at both

Morgan State University and UMD College Park. Both now have on-site cooling stations and increased medical staff on hand during practices and games.

11/20: Never should have happened—it's what the father of one University of Maryland student is saying tonight after the university revealed she died from complications from the adenovirus. WJZ is live with more on what the student's father is saying about the tragedy and what the university is doing to stop the virus from spreading.

11/20: Gone forever—it's what one Virginia man was initially told by doctors after a workplace accident resulted in his left hand being cut off. But he didn't lose hope and neither did the surgeon who ended up treating him here in Baltimore. WJZ reports on this story of thanks you'll only see on WJZ.

11/21: The University of Maryland College Park is taking new precautions after the sudden death of a student from Howard County. She contracted a serious strain of adenovirus—which can cause a range of symptoms from sore throat to pneumonia and pink eye. WJZ's investigator has what you should know.

11/26: It was expected to be a growth market, but sales of medical marijuana have taken off in Maryland. WJZ runs some of the numbers, as more patients turn to cannabis for relief.

11/30: On the rise—tonight, University of Maryland College Park officials confirming even more cases of adenovirus on campus. Nearly two dozen cases, that's more than double the amount initially reported earlier this week. One student has died from complications caused by the virus. WJZ is live in College Park with the latest.

12/12: A surge in deaths leads federal prosecutors to crack down on Fentanyl traffickers. More than 2,000 people have died from overdoses in Maryland this year alone. WJZ's investigator has the push for tougher penalties.

12/13: The number of students infected in a viral outbreak at the University of Maryland College Park is up 37% in less than two weeks. That outbreak has already left one person dead. WJZ's investigator reports from Johns Hopkins Hospital where the student died—with some new precautions.

Public Affairs Outreach

10/14: WJZ sponsored the American Cancer Society's Making Strides Against Breast Cancer, a 5K walk, at Stadium Place. News anchor Nicole Baker lead 5000 participants in this cancer awareness walk. WJZ's involvement saw a $35,000 increase over last year's total bringing the amount up to $240,000 for cancer research and patient programs in the Greater Baltimore area.

EDUCATION

WJZ News

10/3: Saving lives in schools. Gunfire has erupted in schools across the country including here in Maryland. Now, the state has a new way for students to report potential threats. WJZ shows you how it works.

10/4: Outrage and disappointment. A school bus is caught on camera apparently speeding through a narrow neighborhood street. Tonight, one family tells WJZ this isn't the first time it's happened—and they've repeatedly contacted Baltimore County Schools about the problem. WJZ is live with more on the video that's now gone viral.

10/7: A huge accomplishment—a Maryland University's marching band will be featured in next year's Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. Morgan State will be sending its magnificent marching band to New York City for the 2019 parade.

10/11: Should Baltimore City school police carry guns? That was a hot topic tonight as the school board decides whether to ask the general assembly to allow school police to carry weapons inside school buildings. WJZ is live with more on the debate.

10/19: For the first time, the University of Maryland's governing body has seen the independent investigation into allegations of a 'toxic culture' in the football program at College Park. It comes in the wake of the death of a promising offensive lineman—Jordan McNair. WJZ's investigator reports from Hagerstown with new reaction from the school's president.

10/29: An investigation into the culture of the University of Maryland College Park football team is released today. The eight-member panel concluded the team's culture did not cause the death of football player Jordan McNair. WJZ reports, even though the panel drew that conclusion, it found that the program had major flaws including a lack of accountability under head coach DJ Durkin.

10/30: After sitting on the sidelines for months the head of the football team in College Park will resume coaching duties. This after the Board of Regents said he was unfairly blamed for the death of player Jordan McNair. WJZ has team coverage of today's announcement we begin in College Park where some are outraged Coach Durkin gets to keep his job. WJZ also heard from the parents of Jordan McNair after learning Durkin and the athletic director would not be losing their jobs.

10/31: One day after being reinstated, University of Maryland president Wallace Loh fires head football coach DJ Durkin. In the wake of the death of former player Jordan McNair, the Board of Regents' decision to keep Durkin drew a firestorm of criticism from players, students and politicians. WJZ has team coverage of the fallout from the decision including our sports director who has more on what this decision means for the team going forward.

11/1: The chairman of the Maryland System Board of Regents Jim Brady steps down amid the ongoing controversy surrounding the football program at the University of Maryland. It comes as students rallied in support of Jordan McNair. WJZ is live in College Park with the latest on the growing fallout.

11/5: The Bowie State University band is suspended tonight. The school says it's become aware of serious allegations of hazing affecting the Symphony of Soul Band. All band activity has been suspended effective immediately.

11/7: New video obtained by WJZ shows a student at a Baltimore City high school punching their teacher following an argument. City School officials say it happened today inside Frederick Douglass High School in West Baltimore. WJZ is live there tonight with the video that's quickly going viral.

11/8: The Bowie State University Marching Band has been sidelined after allegations of hazing within the organization. WJZ is live and has more on the allegations and the online campaign to get the band back on the field.

11/12: What went wrong? That's the question on the minds of many tonight after a school resource officer takes his own life. It happened while class was in session at Eastern Technical High in Essex. WJZ is live outside the school with the latest on the investigation and an exclusive interview with a student who says he spoke with the officer today.

11/16: A student rally at Goucher College this afternoon occurs two days after a racial slur appears on the wall of a dorm room threatening three African-American students. WJZ reports, police are investigating the graffiti as bias-based destruction of property but students say it's a hate crime.

11/28: Attack on a teacher for the third time this month as another Baltimore City school employee is on the receiving end of an attack by a student. This latest incident is at a high school. WJZ is live with details and reaction from school leaders who say they are working to end this trend in violence now.

11/28: Lead in schools—more than a dozen Baltimore County schools test positive for dangerous levels of lead. The revelation is leaving some parents concerned tonight. WJZ is live and explains what led to these findings.

11/29: Physically and emotionally hurting. Tonight, the latest Baltimore City school teacher assaulted by a student is speaking to WJZ. WJZ is live at Baltimore Polytechnic Institute with what the teacher is saying.

11/30: Out of the classroom and under investigation. Tonight, a substitute teacher in Anne Arundel County is off the job accused of taping a second grade student to his chair. WJZ reports on the shocking allegations.

12/1: Kwanzaa is being celebrated early at Morgan State University. The holiday honors African-American culture and values and takes place December 26th to January 1st. WJZ has more on the celebration.

12/3: The head of Baltimore City schools is finally responding to a series of recent attacks. They include three assaults on teachers and support staff last week. WJZ's investigator reports from Frederick Douglass High with the new interview.

12/4: The University of Maryland has hired a new head football coach and he's no stranger to College Park. WJZ reports, he comes from the top football program in the nation... finally—a bit of good news after a season of controversy.

12/4: More charges filed. A Goucher College student now faces hate crime charges for racist graffiti found on campus last month. WJZ is live at Baltimore County police headquarters with the details and reaction from the campus community.

12/4: The first star ratings for every public school in the state have now been released. Seventy percent of schools earned three or four out of five stars.

12/5: Back in the hot seat. Top leaders for the University of Maryland went to Capitol Hill today to answer questions about the future of the institution after a student athlete died from heat stroke. WJZ is live and explains—lawmakers were looking for reassurances that changes have been made.

12/6: A huge day in College Park as the University of Maryland introduced its new head football coach, Mike Locksley. He comes from Alabama, where he worked under one of the most prolific college football coaches ever. But as WJZ reports, he's now taking over a program dealing with turmoil.

12/7: Tonight—the former Mercy High School coach arrested and accused of sexually abusing a student is speaking only to WJZ. This comes as the family attorney representing the student says he believes there may be more victims. WJZ is live with details and the exclusive interview.

12/11: A music program called Orch-Kids, run by the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra, was started to provide music education to students in Baltimore City. WJZ reports, music is unlocking the door to a whole new world for a number of children.

12/14: Baltimore teachers are taking action after several attacks on campus. For the first time, a new task force tackled the problem of school violence. WJZ's investigator explains their focus.

12/19: Attacked while on the job—yet another case of Baltimore City school workers being assaulted by a student. School officials say this time it was a nurse and an aide at the National Academy Foundation. WJZ is live outside City School Headquarters with details of the case which comes just days after a meeting between school officials addressing a growing trend in violence.

12/20: The Baltimore teachers union and the union representing school employees are speaking out after two workers were assaulted by a student this week. WJZ explains it's just the latest in a string of attacks on workers and educators.

Public Affairs Outreach

10/25: WJZ sponsored the Irvine Nature Center's Pumpkins on the Green, a casual fall fundraiser, a benefit for their nature center programs. Funds help underwrite the center's school outreach program that exposes city public school students to Maryland's unique ecosystem and animal habitats.

|                |
|----------------|
| ARTS & CULTURE |
|----------------|

WJZ News

10/5: As Fleet Week continues, there's plenty of excitement happening on the water and in the air. WJZ took to the skies over Baltimore today flying with the world-famous Thunderbirds.

10/6: Thousands are in Baltimore for Fleet Week and while there's plenty of excitement happening on the ground and in the water today was all about the show in the sky.

10/26: Will it stay or go? The fate of a large mural depicting a Baltimore pop culture icon is up in the air. The mural itself is an image of the famous drag queen Divine, who was featured in several films by famed Baltimore director John Waters. WJZ is live in Mount Vernon and explains why the artwork has many people talking.

11/11: This Veterans Day honors our military members and it's also the 100th anniversary of Armistice Day. Across Maryland, ceremonies and parades commemorated this special milestone. WJZ explains how Baltimore remembered.

11/17: The Saturday before Thanksgiving, families across the country celebrate National Adoption Day. WJZ reports, here in Maryland, multiple groups work together to make this a special holiday for adoptive families.

12/3: Tonight Baltimore City lit up its annual tree for the holiday... however, where the tree came from this year is raising some eyebrows. WJZ is live at City Hall with details.

12/11: Remembering the five—the University of Maryland's College of Journalism unveiled its tribute to the five staffers of the Capital Gazette who were killed earlier this year. The dedication comes as the staff was among those honored in Time Magazine's "Person of the Year" issue. WJZ has reaction from tonight's ceremony.

12/25: Thousands of Baltimoreans started their holiday inside churches around the city. Including Catholic Mass at the Cathedral of Mary Our Queen. WJZ has a look at the celebration.

12/30: Counting down to the New Year! Thousands will celebrate in Baltimore with a festive fireworks display. WJZ explains where you can catch the show.

12/31: WJZ has team coverage of New Year's Eve events across the region, including a live show at 11pm for the Baltimore New Year's Eve Spectacular.

Public Affairs Outreach

11/23 through 11/25: WJZ sponsors the 29th Annual Festival of Trees at the Maryland State Fairgrounds. Proceeds from this three-day winter wonderland benefits the children at Kennedy Krieger Institute. PSAs featuring news anchors, advance features and live news coverage from the event helped to increase awareness of Kennedy Krieger's programs designed to help children with autism, cerebral palsy and other neuro and cognitive conditions.

12/31: WJZ sponsors the New Year's Eve Spectacular presented by the Baltimore Office of Promotion and the Arts. This annual free end-of-year event features a live band performing up to the clock striking midnight followed by a 16-minute array of beautiful fireworks over Baltimore's harbor. While PSAs promote the event, special promos for WJZ's New Year's Eve Special, a 90-minute newscast featuring live coverage of the fireworks, directs viewers to watch from the comfort of their homes.

|                |
|----------------|
| LOCAL POLITICS |
|----------------|

WJZ News

10/1: Dangerous to themselves or others. That's the mental condition at the heart of Maryland's new red flag law. The law takes effect today. WJZ reports, the goal is to reduce gun violence, by taking the gun from people who threaten violence.

10/2: New tonight—controversial posts. A council member in Anne Arundel County is facing some backlash after he shared what some are calling hateful posts about Muslims. WJZ is live with more on what those posts said and how the council member is responding.

10/28: Early voting centers in Maryland are seeing a record turnout. Since Thursday, more than double the number of people have voted early compared to the midterms in 2014. WJZ explains the effort to get out the vote.

11/1: Two hours—that's how long the wait was for some Maryland voters tonight. Dozens stood in line at one Anne Arundel County polling place to cast their ballots on the final day of early voting. WJZ is live at the Odenton Regional Library where eager voters were willing to wait.

11/3: With just three days until the midterm election, Governor Larry Hogan and Ben Jealous are making a last minute push for support in the governor's race. Hogan held a rally in Grasonville while Jealous held a rally alongside comedian Dave Chappelle and actress Rosario Dawson.

11/4: Here in Maryland, candidates made a big push this weekend to rally support ahead of Tuesday, Election Day. WJZ explains their campaign effort.

11/5: The election countdown is almost over, but candidates who are on the ballot kept pushing for votes into the night and that included the two candidates running for governor. WJZ is live at a polling location in North Baltimore in these final hours before the polls open.

11/6: WJZ is your election connection bringing you all the latest as the election results come in... we have the winners and losers... as several reporters are live at various campaign headquarters.

11/7: Howard and Anne Arundel Counties both elected new county executives last night. Both will be replacing incumbents. WJZ spoke with both candidates about the upsets and their plans for their counties.

12/6: As crime surges in Baltimore—tonight, City Council officially began the confirmation process for the next police commissioner. It's only the first step in the process for Fort Worth police chief Joel Fitzgerald, but it comes with some controversy. WJZ is live at City Hall with details.

CONSUMER: HOUSING

WJZ News

10/4: Unable to shower or drink water for about a month, that's what some living in a Baltimore City apartment complex had to do to avoid getting sick after several cases of legionnaires cases were confirmed. WJZ is live at the city health department with the details behind the scare and an update from health officials.

11/7: Happening now – a major gas leak in Southwest Baltimore shuts down Edmondson Avenue and forces several people to evacuate their homes. WJZ is live on the scene and explains, those people still cannot go home.

11/14: As the weather changes, familiar but unwanted problems are starting to surface. We are talking about water main breaks. WJZ is live in downtown Baltimore at one of them – where work crews and residents may be in for a long night.

11/26: A section of a Charles Village street is sinking. Crews are still working tonight—trying to dig out a hillside after the road underneath it began to collapse today. It's just blocks away from where another part of the street collapsed in 2014. WJZ is live on the scene with more on the second sinking on 26th Street.

11/27: Crews are still chipping away at a wall that supported 26th Street, near Calvert Street after the pavement started to give way. The city says this is the plan to keep the Charles Village neighborhood street from collapsing like we saw in 2014... blocks away. WJZ has more on the unanswered questions about what comes next.

12/10: It's been two weeks since the partial road collapse of East 26th Street in Charles Village left residents in a panic. Repair work has been underway since, but some living in the area feel they've been kept in the dark on how officials are making sure this won't happen again. WJZ is live along East 26th Street with the details of an upcoming meeting the city has announced to address those concerns.

12/13: Residents in one Charles Village neighborhood are getting some answers from the city after a road in their community partially collapsed late last month. WJZ is live at the site along East 26th Street where repair work has been ongoing and explains what residents found out tonight.

12/27: Two deadly floods in less than two years. Today a new plan is revealed for Ellicott City and as WJZ reports, leaders in Howard County are rededicating themselves to ensure people, places, homes and retail storefronts and things are safe and sound.

CONSUMER: ECONOMY

WJZ News

10/2: Spice giant McCormick unveils its new world headquarters in Hunt Valley. The $170-million facility is state-of-the-art green design technology and features ergonomic work stations, break areas, a café and gym.

10/19: Record rains have been impacting Maryland crops for months and now, pumpkins can be added to that list. WJZ reports, the state is importing what it couldn't grow.

10/24: After a rise in crime put an end to Halloween celebrations in Fells Point last year, businesses are ready to bring it back in a big way. WJZ is live in Fells Point and explains how business owners are chipping in to ensure everyone stays safe.

10/31: After a rise in crime put an end to Halloween celebrations in Fells Point last year, businesses took action to keep everyone safe. They hired private security and Baltimore City Police also stepped up their presence.

11/19: Traveling this Thanksgiving? So are millions of Americans. And if you're going by plane, you are definitely not alone. WJZ is live at BWI Thurgood Marshall Airport with some trying to beat the holiday rush.

11/22: The cold evening across the area did not stop bargain hunters looking to score early Black Friday deals. Several stores opened this Thanksgiving night and offered great deals one day early. WJZ is live with several shoppers braving the freezing temperatures, who say they wouldn't have it any other way.

11/23: This Black Friday is expected to be the busiest shopping day of the year and bargain hunters took full advantage of Black Friday deals here in Maryland. WJZ is live and spoke with people braving packed parking lots and cold weather to get their hands on the hottest holiday gifts.

11/24: Holiday shopping has officially started! Some began on Thanksgiving Day, others on Black Friday. WJZ explains why many wanted to shop today to support their local economy.

11/25: A surge in holiday shopping. People have been busy this weekend cashing in on deals offered on Black Friday and small business Saturday. WJZ explains who experts predict will spend the most as we approach Cyber Monday.

12/9: A shortage of Christmas trees across the country could drive up prices or force farms to close early this year. WJZ explains how this crisis is impacting farms here in Maryland.

12/16: If you are looking for a last minute holiday gift, merchants in Baltimore hope you'll patronize their stores. WJZ explains a new campaign that kicked off in Fells Point today.

12/29: Counting down to the New Year! We are days away from the big celebration in Baltimore to start 2019. WJZ explains how businesses are cashing in on the holiday.

CONSUMER: JOBS

WJZ News

10/2: Amazon delivering for its employees. Today the company announced raises for hundreds of thousands of workers. WJZ is live and explains just how much they are getting.

11/1: Amazon officially raises its minimum wage to $15 an hour. The pay raise will affect 250,000 employees as well as more than 100,000 seasonal employees.

11/26: More than 14,000 General Motors employees are out of a job. They include hundreds of workers at the GM plant in White Marsh. WJZ reports, Baltimore County leaders announced help is on the way for those being laid off.

12/28: As Sears struggles to stay in business, the company announces its plans to close 80 more Sears and Kmart stores across the country including two here in Maryland. The Sears in Salisbury and the Kmart in the North Plaza Shopping Center in Parkville will close.

COMMUNITY

WJZ News

10/1: Will it be a match for Mother Nature? Tonight the Howard County Council approved a multi-million dollar plan that may help prevent future flooding in Ellicott City. WJZ is live near Main Street where a drastic overhaul is taking shape.

10/3: Fleet Week 2018 gets underway at the Inner Harbor, the week-long celebration at sea and in the air includes crews from around the world. More than a dozen military vessels from three countries will be in town this year. WJZ explains the logistics for an event of this size.

10/6: Celebrating the legacy of Henrietta Lacks. A cancer patient who was treated at Johns Hopkins Hospital in 1951 and made major contributions to the medical field. WJZ explains why Johns Hopkins Institute is naming a building in her honor.

10/9: Baltimore's acting top cop no longer wants the job. Interim police commissioner Gary Tuggle announced today he's withdrawn his application. It came to light when a federal judge overseeing the city's consent decree, asked for a status update on the position. WJZ explains why Tuggle changed his mind.

10/15: Starting today, drivers in Baltimore City caught blocking intersections will be fined. The practice also known as "blocking the box" carries a 125-dollar penalty some have already been slapped with. WJZ is live downtown and reports on if drivers are getting the message.

10/18: Almost five months after a Baltimore County officer was killed in the line of duty, Officer Amy Caprio's high school pledges to never forget her sacrifice. WJZ is live and was there as her parents and husband accepted this honor.

10/21: Cleaning up Baltimore to create a safer city. Earlier today, nearly a hundred college students and volunteers spent time removing trash and adding plants to a neighborhood park. WJZ explains the mission behind the cleanup.

10/22: Tonight, Baltimore Mayor Catherine Pugh is sharing her vision to address growing concerns about the so-called 'Squeegee kids' who wash windshields on busy street corners for cash. It's a plan she says not only gets them off the streets, but provides them with a better future. WJZ is live with details and reaction from some of the 'Squeegee kids' themselves.

11/1: It was a worship service that turned to bloodshed but the deadly shooting at a Pittsburgh synagogue is tragically just the latest hate crime to make headlines. WJZ spoke with several people who are very worried about what's happening in America.

11/5: Hearts remain heavy today, as family and friends mourn the death of two victims killed in a tornado in southeast Baltimore. The powerful winds caused an Amazon facility to partially collapse. WJZ spoke today with the wife of one of the victims.

11/7: The curfew controversy continues at White Marsh Mall after management says it has no plans to enact a time limit for unaccompanied teens. As WJZ reports the decision comes despite the urging for a curfew from the Baltimore County Council.

11/8: Here in Maryland and across the country large crowds gathered for a rally called "nobody is above the law". The event comes the day after President Trump fired Attorney General Jeff Sessions and appointed acting Attorney General Matthew Whitaker to the post. WJZ is live outside City Hall with more.

11/9: Members of an Anne Arundel County community held a town hall to address what they say has been a spike in racism in their community. WJZ is live and has the details and what they're doing to put an end to the hate.

11/10: The community is pulling together to help the Dundalk tornado victims. The severe weather caused extensive damage to the Holabird East apartments. WJZ tells us more on the effort.

11/18: Police in Howard County are investigating dozens of fliers filled with hate speech found along the road. WJZ is live and has more on the investigation and reaction.

11/22: It's one of Baltimore's most notable holiday traditions, the Bea Gaddy Thanksgiving dinner. WJZ reports, tens of thousands of hungry neighbors got a hot meal at Patterson Park and across the Baltimore area.

11/23: After Thanksgiving, comes an annual tradition in our area. The Festival of Trees draws thousands of people every year. WJZ takes us inside the excitement at the Fairgrounds in Timonium.

12/8: Baltimore County Police officers are spreading holiday cheer... as WJZ reports, they loaded up their squad cars with toys for a Christmas celebration.

12/12: President Trump was not in Baltimore today as originally planned. Instead, he asked some of Baltimore's community leaders to come to him... and talk about helping struggling neighborhoods here and nationwide. WJZ has more on today's discussion.

12/25: A day off with purpose—it may not be a religious day at the Jewish Community Centers in Baltimore, but it is a day in the holiday spirit. WJZ has more on the annual Mitzvah Day from Park Heights.

12/27: Mall curfew. Starting this week, young shoppers may have to tag along with an adult at Towson Town Center. The changes are temporary and WJZ explains, why they're happening right now.