

Pursuant to the disclosure requirements in 47 C.F. R. 73.3526(11)(i), and during the quarter referenced above, this station provided information to its listeners regarding the following significant issues. Including:

Children/Youth	Consumer Issues	Health Care
Politics	Economy	Technology
Health/Healthcare	Housing	Minority Issues
Legal Matters	Transportation	Women's Issues
Government (National)	Business	Employment
Education	Cultural	Industry
Environment	Government (local)	Elderly
	Military Events

KHGG-AM Issues 1Q 2019

KHGG-AM and Translator 101.1FM broadcasts: "Arklahoma Today" from 7am until 8am each weekday Monday through Friday to inform listeners of current topics in the news, give traffic and weather reports and sports news. A list of the guests on the program follows. KHGG-AM also ran psa campaigns for the following local groups:

Fort Smith Adult Education	GED Education and programs
Western Arkansas Tennis Association	Oh WATA Night fundraiser
Junior League of Fort Smith	Fostering Fashion/Children's Emerg Shelter
United Way of Fort Smith	Rising in the River Valley/Domestic Abuse
Kistler Treatment Center	Night in the Caribbean fundraiser

Tuesday, January 2 – Chad Lowe and Danielle Simmons with the Arkansas River Valley Nature Center discuss events at the Nature Center during the month of January. Later, Hall of Fame Coach Louis Whorton discusses the new UAFS men's and women's coaches, and what it takes to coach a win with Bill Pharis.

Thursday, January 3 – Melissa Schoenfeld with the Western Arkansas Ballet talks with Karen about the upcoming Tutu Run to benefit the school.

Friday, January 4 – Claude Legris with the Visitor and Convention Bureau discusses the pickup of wreaths from the National Cemetery next week and gave a call for volunteers for the various projects.

Monday, January 7 - Phillip Merry, founder of Christmas Honors discussed the chain of events for Tuesday's clean-up at the National Cemetery of wreaths from gravesites.

Tuesday, January 8 – Rosilee Russell with the Community School of the Arts gives a year in review report for 2018 and also talks about upcoming events and opportunities at the school. Phillip Merry calls-in from the Fort Smith Convention Center and reports regarding the Christmas Honors clean up.

Wednesday, January 9 – Melissa Conry with the Fort Smith Regional Art Museum talks with Karen about the upcoming RAM Gala, “Love Art”.

Thursday, January 10 – Eddie Lee Herndon, Executive Director for the greater Fort Smith United Way talks about the February “Rising in the River Valley” planned for February to raise awareness of Domestic Violence and how to stop it.

Friday January 11 – Daren Bobb from the Channel 5 Newsroom and Bill Pharis discuss the medical marijuana hold-up in Arkansas; growers, dispensaries. Oklahoma passed the same law allowing medical marijuana after Arkansas and have their system up and running, and Arkansas still not ready to operate. A transformer in Waldron exploded January 13th in Waldron which caused a power outage at the Waldron middle school. After cancelling classes on Monday, students were bussed to various area churches in Waldron so school would not be missed. They also discussed the passing of a school bond issue in Poteau to construct a new 7th and 8th grade school, high school addition, and upgrade security district wide. The election was the fourth time the issue was before Poteau voters and one vote pushed the yes vote over the the 60% threshold needed to pass; proving that every vote counts!

Monday, January 14 – Claude Legris with the Fort Smith Visitors and Convention Bureau gives a year in review for 2018 and outlines events already scheduled for 2019 in the city.

Tuesday, January 15 – Dawn Stoval, Executive Director of the Western Arkansas Tennis Association talks about being recognized for offering free tennis lessons to autistic children. The WATA provides a number of free services to the community including running the pro shop at Creekmore Park and resurfacing the courts at Tilles Park. Promoted Oh Wata Nigh in February.

Wednesday, January 16 – Congressman Steve Womack calls-in and visits with Bill Pharis about the government shutdown and the potential effects in the 3rd Congressional District.

Thursday, January 17 - Chuck Goux and Sue Ross with the Community Services Clearinghouse visit with Karen Pharis about the special family Christmas food baskets and the first quarter Backpacks for Kids program.

Friday January 18 – Daren Bobb from the channel 5 Newsroom promotes Fort Smith Symphony Saturday night featuring the 1931 silent movie “City Lights”. The symphony will perform the original score written by Charlie Chaplin, and a membership drive for the Pilot Club which recently contributed a wheelchair swing for Creekmore Park. This year’s project will be a similar swing for Ben Geren Park. Daren and Bill Pharis discussed the swearing in of Governor Hutchinson for his second term, legislative committees being formed, and Oklahoma’s education funding. The Veteran’s center in Talihina was discussed, and how an Oklahoma legislator filed a bill to prevent the VA clinic’s move from Talihina to Sallisaw. The Poke County controversy over whether or not a casino will be built there was also discussed. County leaders and many residents do not want a casino built there and it cannot be built without a letter from the county judge and mayor of Russellville. Johnson County, however, apparently does want a casino and is saying it wants the unused casino license Poke county is apparently discarding. Bill and Daren outlined the wintery weather forecast for this weekend and how best to navigate in bad weather conditions.

Tuesday, January 22 – Sue Robison with “Friends of the Fort” discusses their membership drive; their help to the National Historic Site, and their upcoming February “Night Court”.

Wednesday, January 23 – Savannah Lopez with the Junior League of Fort Smith talks about the upcoming “Fostering Fashion” show in February to benefit the young people aging out of the local foster care programs.

Thursday, January 24 – Alice Alt with the U.S. Marshal Museum

Friday January 25 – Daren Bobb from the Channel 5 Newsroom reviewed two events scheduled for the weekend: Clayton conversation, Sunday, 1pm at the Clayton House; Talicia Richardson, executive Director of 6-4-6 Downtown will be giving a presentation on this year’s plans for Downtown artwork, artists, and other plans in store for the popular event. At the Janet Huckabee Nature Center, “Trout Unlimited will be demonstrating the basics of trout fishing, including fly-tying and fly casting between two and five pm Saturday. Oaklawn racetrack opens today and Daren and Bill Pharis talked about the plans that were revealed this week for the Southland greyhound racetrack in West Memphis. Following the election which expanded gaming in Arkansas, this 60's and the Beatles opened for them! Leisa also talked about final preparations for the Pardi Gras fundraiser on February 23.

Friday, February 15 – Daren Bobb from the Channel 5 Newsroom talks about the week's top news stories. Karen Pharis talks with Henry Moore by phone about the Knights of Columbus Mardi Gras on the 23rd.

Tuesday, February 19 – Savannah Lopez talks with Karen Pharis about the Junior League of Fort Smith's "Fostering Fashion" event Saturday, February 23. The group works closely with the Children's Emergency Shelter and teens aging out of the foster care system. Melissa Curry with Methodist Village Nursing Home talks about reinstating the "Candy Striper" program at the facility. Area high school students are getting an opportunity to see what the health care marketplace is like for geriatrics. The students provide companionship, and help transport patients in their wheelchairs.

Wednesday, February 20 – Stacey Jones, Vice Chancellor at the University of Arkansas Fort Smith talks about the Season of Entertainment events in 2019 and preparations for the Miss UAFS Pageant in March. Henry Moore talks by Phone with Karen Pharis about the Mardi Gras party fundraiser for the knights of Columbus on the 23rd of March.

Thursday, February 21 - Chuck Goux and Tammie Kuhns with the Community Services Celaringhouse talk with Karen Pharis about the "Empty Bowls" fundraiser at the Van Buren High School to raise money for the Kid's backpack program.

Friday, February 22 - Phone interview with Bill Pharis about colorectal cancer prevention tips. Daren Bobb also in studio to talk about the top news stories of the week.

Monday, February 25 - Claude Legris with the Fort Smith Visitor and Convention Bureau joins Bill and Karen phy phone from the Governor's Conference on Tourism in Hot Springs. The City of Fort Smith is a finalist for a Henri Award for it's year long celebration of its bi-centennial.

Tuesday, February 26 – Claude Legris phone in with the news that the city has indeed won the Henri Award for its bi-centennial celebration which included a wide variety of people, groups, and activities to get everyone in the city involved at one point during the year. Congressman Steve Womack calls-in by phone and reports on events in Washington of interest to the third Congressional district.

Wednesday, February 27 – Karen Pharis talks with Aaren Lee with the Gregory Kistler Treatment Center. Discussed were services provided at the center regardless of a patient's ability to pay, and the upcoming "Caribbean Nights" fundraiser to help fund the facility's expenses. Diane Heinrichs talks with Karen about the upcoming River Valley Lawn and Garden show planned for mid-March.

Thursday, February 28 - Director of Development for the US Marshal Museum, Alic Alt, talks about upcoming events, and the upcoming sales tax election with Bill Pharis.

Friday, March 1 – Daren Bobb and Bill Pharis discuss icy road conditions in the River Valley and I-49North. An accident pileup at the 51-mile marker since 4:30am just started moving at 7:35am caused by poor travel conditions. State police had re-routed traffic to the old highway 71.

Daren talked about the Noon Lions Club auction coming up Saturday the 2nd from noon until three. The event will be broadcast on KXNW. Proceeds will be used by the Lions Club to purchase eyeglasses for those unable to afford them. Top Story: The removal of Ivy Owen by the Chaffee Redevelopment Authority as Executive Director. The Board voted this week to remove Owen, saying he was unable to fulfill his duties due to health issues. Since Owen became head of the Authority, 1.6Billion in investments have been made at the old military base. Barracks were transformed into businesses and museums, Dog Parks, New jobs, new things to do all came with new businesses along with a new competition with the downtown section of the city which created a new buzz along the Riverfront. Lorie Robertson, marketing director for Chaffee Redevelopment, will serve as interim director.

Daren and Bill also discussed new Oklahoma legislation passed which allows an individual to carry a gun without a permit and without training. Open Carry in Oklahoma begins November first.

Monday, March 4 – Aaron Lee with the Gregory Kistler Treatment Center talks with Karen Pharis and reminds listeners of the upcoming "Night in the Caribbean" on March 9th. Student Doctor Andrea Brestel with the Arkansas College of Osteopathic Medicine invites listeners to come to Carol Ann Cross Park on the 9th to participate in the Walk with a Doc program established to give Fort Smith residents to opportunity to get to know the osteopathic students and ask any medical questions they may have.

Tuesday, March 5 – Dr. Rosilee Russell with the community School of the arts talks about March Concerts, and gives an update on the proposed construction of a new facility for the CSA.

Wednesday, March 6 – Chad Lowe and Danielle Simmons with the Janet Huckabee Nature Center visit in-studio with Bill Pharis about special Spring Break activities planned at the Nature Center, all of which are free. Karen Pharis visits by phone with Leslie Higgins; education director for the U.S. Marshal Museum about their Day Camps scheduled at the Glass Pavilion in downtown Fort Smith. Sessions are planned for elementary school children and before camp and after camp care is also available.

Thursday, March 7 – Alice Alt, Development Director for the U.S. Marshal Museum reminds listeners early voting continues through Monday the eleventh on the proposed one-cent nine-month sales tax to benefit exhibit construction at the museum. Jeff Turner, Sebastian County Emergency Services coordinator talks with Karen Pharis by phone regarding the March eleven “Storm Spotter” class sponsored by the National Weather Service at the Ben Geren community building.

Friday, March 8 – Daren Bobb with the Channel 5 Newsroom visits with Bill Pharis about weekend activities; the “Community Strikes Back” bowling tournament to benefit the Children’s Emergency Shelter and the “Night in the Caribbean” to benefit the Kistler Center which Daren will emcee.

Monday, March 11 – Claude Legris with the Fort Smith Visitor and Convention Center recaps Fort Smith’s winning of the 2019 Henri Award for Tourism at the Governor’s Conference in Hot Springs. He also touted the fact that both the Northside High School Girls and Boys won their state basketball championships, and that the Lawn and Garden show is coming up on the 15th, 16th and 17th.

Tuesday, March 12 - Karen Pharis talks with Diane Heinrichs of the River Valley Lawn and Garden show about the event coming up at the Fort Smith Convention Center. This year's theme: "Small Gardens" will cater to the novice gardener who can try a number of easy plans to plant and tend a small garden, whether it's a small yard, or in a container. Seminars will be held throughout the weekend and a number of vendors will be in attendance offering special deals and suggestions on how to make gardening easier.

Wednesday, March 13 – Congressman Steve Womack calls-in to Bill Pharis and talks about the top news events in Washington affecting our listening area.

Thursday, March 14 – Stacey Jones, Vice Chancellor at UAFS and Director of the Miss UAFS and Miss Arkansas Pageants, calls-in to "Arklahoma Today" to talk about the Miss UAFS Scholarship Pageant on the 16th at the convention center. This year, a "Miss Teen UAFS" competition has been added to the mix. In addition, elementary age girls will be tiny princesses and will escort the older girls.

Friday, March 15 – Daren Bobb with the Channel 5 Newsroom talk about the weekend's events and the top news stories of the week.

Monday, March 18 - Chuck Goux with the community Services Clearinghouse talks about plans for the True Grit Bike Ride and the backpack program for kids.

Tuesday, March 19 - Lorie Robertson with the Chaffee Redevelopment Authority visits in studio with Bill Pharis about the upcoming "Elvis Haircut Day" at the Chaffee Crossing Barbershop March 23rd.

Wednesday, March 20 – Fort Smith Mayor George McGill visits with Bill Pharis about the recent mixup in water bills Fort Smith residents have been receiving. A new meter system hasn't been in sync causing many residents to receive astronomical water bills. The mayor is working to get this handled, and communication between the city and its residents improved.

Thursday, March 21 – Melissa Conry with the Fort Smith Regional Art Museum visits with Karen Pharis about the Student Photographic Competition now under way at the RAM. The theme for this competition is "Eye Spy" and any student, regardless of age is eligible to enter. Conry outlined submission requirements. Entries will be on display through mid Summer, and winners announced at the end of April. First place winner will receive their own showing of photographic works at the RAM.

Friday, March 22 – Daren Bobb and Bill Pharis discuss the Ladyback victory in the Women't NIT Thursday night heard on the Marshal. They play again Sunday at two. The men's team will play Saturday in the NIT. March Madness takes over radio and television for the next week. The 61st anniversary of Elvis Pressley's haircut at Fort Chaffee will be celebrated Saturday the 23rd at Chaffee Crossing's Barber Shop between nine am and four. Free buzz cuts will be given between 11 and one. Jimmy Don Peterson, son of the barber who cut Elvis' hair will be on hand telling stories about the event. Daren and Bill talked about changes in the news media and how coverage of celebrities has changed over the years. Top stories in the legislature were discussed: a bill requiring school districts to provide a request if 15 or more students in a school wants to receive Bible Study instruction; a transportation department bill to raise the speed limit to 75mph on highways-state trucking industry doesn't like the bill, ARDOT doesn't like the bill that is on the governor's desk for signature. Tyson Foods this week gave $204,000 to the community services clearing house and the river valley regional food bank along with 30,000 pounds of frozen chicken to the foodbank.

Monday, March 25 - Claude Legris with the Fort Smith Visitor and Convention Bureau visits in studio an outlines the upcoming events in and around Fort Smith

Tuesday, March 26 – Karen Pharis visits with Paul Petite; co-anchor of ABC 40/29 News Sunrise. The production company for ABC's "Shark Tank" program will be in Bentonville April 23 to audition local entrepreneurs on their ideas and possibly win an audition on the television show. Petite outlines the format and suggestions for presentation at the event held at "Exchange" starting at 9am.

Wednesday, Marcy 27 – Congressman Steve Womack calls-in and talks with Bill Pharis on the latest events in Washington.

Thursday, March 28 – Alice Alt; development Director for the U.S. Marshal Museum talks with Karen Pharis about the Marshals Museum "Power and Politics series April first. The lecture series starts with Arkansas Speaker of the House Matthew Shepherd and concludes May 6 with Arkansas Governor Asa Hutchinson. All lectures will be held from 6:30pm-8pm at the Blue Lion in Fort Smith.

Friday, March 29 – Daren Bobb with the channel 5 newsroom in studio with Bill Pharis discussing upcoming weekend events and top stories of the week.

Van Buren High School boys and girls basketball. As part of its support of local high school sports, KHGG-AM 1580 and 101.1FM broadcast Van Buren boys and girls basketball away games January through March tournament action. KHGG-AM and translator 101.1FM also carry University of Arkansas Fort Smith men's and women's Lion Basketball January through March games.