

KHGG-AM Second Quarter 2018 Issues

April 2- Henry Moore with the Fort Smith Trolley Museum outlines activities for the year with Karen Pharis during "Arklahoma Today" at 7:40am. The group will have an open house and Antique farm machinery display on Saturday the 14th and have a BBQ Rib Sale to raise funds.

April 3- Rosilee Russell, Executive Director of the Community School of the Arts discussed April activities for the school with Bill Pharis at 7:40am during "Arklahoma Today".

April 4- Kelly Mulvihill with the Janet Huckabee Arkansas River Valley Nature Center Joins Bill Pharis at 7:10am during "Arklahoma Today" to discuss special events at the Nature Center during the month of April. At 7:40am, Beth Presley with Arvest Bank joins Bill in studio for an interview about the "One Million Meals" campaign to raise money and/meals for at least one-million in the Arkansas River Valley United Way agencies dealing with feeding the hungry.

April 5- Brad Randall with the Fort Smith Bicentennial Committee joins Karen Pharis at 7:40am during "Arklahoma Today" and invites listeners to participate in an effort to break a "Guinness World Book of Records" record by performing the world's largest "Street Dance". The event will be held before the Fort Smith Rodeo Parade on Memorial Day on a special area blocked off on 5th Street in downtown Fort Smith. Listeners were given information on how to register their participation, and instructions on how to view choreography for the five-minute performance.

April 6- Darren Bobb with the Channel Five Newsroom joins Bill Pharis at 7:35am to discuss the week's top news stories.

April 9- Claude Legris with the Fort Smith Visitor and Convention Bureau joins Bill Pharis at 7:40am to inform listeners of the upcoming events in the Fort Smith region for the next two weeks.

April 10- Dr. Steve Heim with Sparks Regional Medical Center in-studio with information on a series of seminars at the hospital dealing with joint pain. There are a number of alternatives to surgery and Dr. Heim went over some of the points that will be discussed in the monthly seminars, who could best benefit from attending, and how to register for the free event.

April 11 - Cody Farber with the National Historic Site talks by phone with Karen Pharis at 7:20am about the upcoming volunteer fair. The April 21 event will be held at the Riverfront Amphitheater and so far 23 volunteer agencies have signed up to attend to recruit volunteers. At 7:40am Congressman Steve Womack called-in to program "Arklahoma Today" to bring listeners up to date on the latest from Washington that affects his constituents.

April 12- Chuck Goux and Sue Ross with the Community Services Clearinghouse join Karen Pharis at 7:40am to discuss needed food drives for the warehouse, the upcoming "True Grit" Bike Ride, and their summer feeding plans for school children.

April 13- Darren Bobb and Bill Pharis discuss the week's top news stories at 7:40am.

April 16- Mila Maseur with the historic Clayton house talks with Karen Pharis in-studio at 7:40 about the upcoming civil war hospital re-enactment on Saturday. Before William Clayton purchased his home, it had been confiscated by the Union Army which used it as an Army hospital during the Civil War. Funds generated from the event will be used for capital improvements for the historic home.

April 17- Penni Burns with the United Way of Greater Fort Smith visits in-studio with Bill Pharis at 7:40am to discuss the "Keep Kids Safe" program sponsored by the United Way for agencies that deal with children.

April 18- Eddie Lee Herndon, Executive Director of the United Way discusses the "Million Meals" campaign sponsored by Arvest Bank at 7:33am, how listeners can become a part of this important food drive. At 7:45am, Bob Beams talked with Karen Pharis by phone about the upcoming Greenwood Car show.

April 19- Leisa Gramlich joins Karen Pharis in-studio outlining upcoming events and displays at the Fort Smith Museum of History for the steel horse rally.

April 20- Daren Bobb with Channel 5 News and Bill Pharis discuss the top news stories of the week. At 7:40am Carrie Terry with the United Way of the Greater Fort Smith area discusses the upcoming Day of Caring and how listeners can sign up as a volunteer for one of the 90 projects.

April 23- Claude Legris with the Fort Smith Visitors and Convention Bureau outlines the upcoming events in the city for the next two weeks.

April 24- Brad Randall with the Fort Smith Bicentennial Committee returns to recruit volunteers for the "Guinness World Book of Records" street dance which hopes to break a world record in honor of Fort Smith's bicentennial.

April 25- Tracy Engel with the River Valley Food Bank talks with Karen Pharis by phone during "Arklahoma Today" and the effect that the "Million Meals" campaign will have on their operation.

April 26- Congressman Steve Womack call-in and talks with Bill Phairs at 7:40am about the topics that affect our listeners and his constituents.

April 27- Beth Presley with Arvest Bank gives an update to Bill Pharis at 7:40am during "Arklahoma Today" on the progress of the "One Million Meals" campaign to benefit agencies which feed the hungry.

April 30- Miss Arkansas USA, Lauren Weaver of Greenwood joins Bill Pharis in-studio during "Arklahoma Today" at 7:15am. She'll be competing in Atlantic City for the national title. At 7:40am, Morgan Rhodes with the Children's Emergency Shelter visits with Karen Pharis about "Havana Nights", the shelter's largest fundraiser.

May 1- Rosilee Russell with the Community School of the Arts outlines May events and special camps and programs for our listeners of "Arklahoma Today" at 7:40am.

May 2- Kelly Mulvihill with the Janet Huckabee River Valley nature Center visits with Bill Pharis at 7:10am to discuss events during the month of May at the Nature Center. Local author Wade Rivers calls-in to the program at 7:40am to discuss his new book, "Killing Frankenstein."

May 3- Louis Meluso, new director of the Fort Smith Regional Art Museum visits with Karen Pharis at 7:40am about new exhibits, and his transition to moving to Fort Smith from Chicago.

May 4- Daren Bobb from the Channel Five newsroom discusses the top news stories with Bill Pharis at 7:40am.

May 7- Claude Legris with the Fort Smith Visitor's and Convention Bureau talks about upcoming events for Fort Smith and the River Valley at 7:40am with Bill Pharis during "Arklahoma Today."

May 8- Trish Baumgartner with Bost visits with Karen Pharis by phone at 7:40am. They talk about new housing opportunities Bost has available for individuals with mental disabilities, and how residents can apply for consideration.

May 9- Randy Mizelle with the Old Fort Days Rodeo visits with Jesica Beaty at 7:40am during "Arklahoma Today" about the history of the rodeo, how it has changed over the years, and what people can expect at this year's event .

May 10- Beth Presley with the Arvest Bank "One Million Meals" campaign gives Bill Pharis a mid-way report at 7:40am.

May 11-Daren Bobb with Channel Five newsroom and Bill Pharis talk about the week's top news stories.

May 14- Laura Simon and Kim Wolford from the Next Step Homelss Shelter discuss the upcoming "Honor and Durty" 5K to benefit the shelter during "Arklahoma Today" at 7:40am.

May 15- Matt Hiller with the Castle of Muskogee talks about the Castle's "Renaissance Festival" by phone at 7:40. They talk about the various events, the history of the festival, and it's economic impact on the community.

May 16- Beth Presley makes a return appearance at 7:30am during "Arklahoma Today"the goal of one million meals has been met for the United Way....plans are to continue the campaign to see how many can be raised! Joy Flack and Laura Simon visit at 7:40am about Girls Inc and summer programs there.

May 17- Congressman Steve Womack calls-in to "Arklahoma Today" at 7:40 to talk about the latest news events affecting Arkansas.

May 18- Daren Bobb from the channel 5 newsroom joins Bill Pharis at 7:30am to talk about the week's top news stories.

May 21- Claude Legris with the Visitor's and Convention Bureau talk with Bill Pharis at 7:30am about the upcoming events across the region.

May 22- "Arklahoma Today" begins a new Tuesday feature: "ACROM on Call"—a visit with the Arkansas College of Osteopathic Medicine. The college opened its doors in August of 2017 and saw its first class of osteopathic student doctors. Starting off the series is an interview with President and CEO of the Arkansas Colleges of Health Education, Kyle Parker at 7:40am.

May 23- At 7:40am, Michelle Hadley and Father Jon Anthony talk with Laura Simon about the Trinity Junior High Capital Campaign fundraiser going on.

May 24- Morgan Rhodes with the Children's Emergency Shelter to announce the "Havana Nights" fundraiser is sold out, but she explained how people not attending can still take part in the auctions.

May 25- Matt Hiller with the Castle of Muskogee recaps the Renaissance Festival activities with Karen Pharis by phone at 7:40am.

May 29- ARCOM on Call- At 7:40am interview with President and CEO of the Arkansas Colleges of Health Education continues with Kyle Parker about the groundbreaking for the new Health Sciences building. The facility will house Physical, Occupational, and PA programs.

May 30- Brent Gunnels with the Center for Art and Education talks with Karen Pharis by phone at 7:40am about the June "Glow Run" to benefit the "Imagine" campaign to renovate the building next to the King Opera House which will house the new Art Center.

June 1- Lieutenant Governor Tim Griffin calls-in at 7:15am on his way to the Fort Smith Chamber of Commerce "First Friday Breakfast" and talks with Bill Pharis about Arkansas' economy. At 7:40am Daren Bobb from Channel Five joins in and discusses the week's top news stories with Bill Pharis

June 4- Claude Legris with the Fort Smith visitor's and Convention Bureau talks about upcoming events for the Fort Smith area with Bill Pharis at 7:30am during "Arklahoma Today."

June 5- Rosilee Walker with the Community School of the Arts outlines special events for the month of June for listeners at 7:30am. 7:40am ARCM On Call with Kyle Parker discussing the Traditional Neighborhood Zone at Chaffee Crossing.

June 6 - Kelly Mulvihill from the Janet Huckabee Arkansas River Valley Nature Center is live in studio with Bill Pharis at 7:10am to promote summer events for children at the Nature Center. Congressman Steve Womack calls in at 7:40am and talks with Bill Pharis about the latest news from Washington.

June 7- Sue Ross from the community Services Clearinghouse is live in studio with Karen Pharis at 7:40 to give a final promotion for the True Grit Bike Ride on June 23.

June 8- Daren Bobb with the channel five newsroom joins Bill Pharis at 7:40am to talk about the week's top news stories.

June 11- Apostle Pat Porter with Oil and Wine International Ministries talks with Karen Pharis by Phone at 7:20am about and upcoming prayer meeting at the Double Tree Hotel. At 7:40am, Phillip Merry and Amber Neal with the Hope Humane Society visit in-studio with Bill Pharis about the crucial needs at the Animal Shelter.

June 12- ACRCOM On Call 7:40am. Keith Fudge, Dean of Students visits with Karen Pharis about the qualifications for the students at the osteopathic medical college, where they are from, and how the Fort Smith community is welcoming them.

June 13- Chris Meyer with Myer Hotels in Branson talks with Karen Pharis at 7:40am by phone about summer activities in Branson; how to purchase hotels and show tickets online, and new attractions in Branson.

June 14- Beth Presley with Arvest Bank and the "One Million Meals" campaign announces to Bill Pharis at 7:40am that funds and food supplying over TWO million meals was raised during the six week project, and where the campaign goes from here.

June 15- Daren Bobb with the Channel Five newsroom discusses the top news stories of the week with Bill Pharis at 7:40am.

June 18- Claude Legris with the Fort Smith Visitor's and Convention Bureau talks with Bill Pharis about the upcoming events across the region, focusing on the Mayor's Fourth of July celebration, and bicentennial events.

June 19- ARCOM On Call at 7:40am. Student Doctor Tiffany Prentice from Oklahoma talks about the challenges she faced her first year at the Arkansas College of Osteopathic Medicine. At 7:50am, Mila Maseur with the Clayton House promoted the upcoming "Sippin' on Sixth Street" fundraiser.

June 20- Matt Hiller with the Castle of Muskogee talked with Karen Pharis by phone at 7:40am about the giant fireworks sales at the castle; how his family started selling fireworks, how they grew to provide fireworks for 20 municipalities, and fireworks safety for the do-it-yourselfers.

June 21- Fort Smith Mayor Sandy Sanders joined Bill Pharis at 7:40am to invite listeners to the Mayor's Fourth of July Celebration at Harry E. Kelly Park July Fourth, as he outlined the various activities leading up to the fireworks display.

June 22- Daren Bobb from Channel Five and Bill Pharis discuss the top news stories of the week during "Arklahoma Today" at 7:30am.

June 25- Chris Meyer with Meyer Hotels in Branson talks with Karen Pharis by phone at 7:40am on how to best plan a Branson vacation .

June 26- ARCOM On Call at 7:40am. Dr. Lance Bridges talks with Karen Pharis about the college's research department, why research is important, and how it helps student doctors, professors, and the school.

June 27- Congressman Steve Womack calls-in during "Arklahoma Today" at 7:40am and talks with Bill Pharis about the top news stories of the day from Washington.

June 28- Karen Pharis talks with John Hagan of the "Texas Tenors" by phone at 7:40am, and why the group is changing theaters in Branson from the Starlight, to the Andy Williams Theater, and the evolution of the group.

June 29- Daren Bobb from the Channel Five Newsroom and Bill Pharis discuss upcoming weekend events and the top news stories at 7:35am.