Re: Certificates of Compliance for the Children's Television Act of 1990

Dear Affiliate:

As of January 1, 1992, the Federal Communications Commission's rules ("FCC Rules") implementing the Children's Television Act of 1990 ("Act") require cable operators to maintain certain records regarding their compliance with advertising limits imposed on children's television programming. Accordingly, Turner Network Sales, Inc. provides the attached Turner Entertainment Networks' certificates of compliance for 2nd Quarter 2014. Please note that the Act's advertising limits are inapplicable to CNN, Headline News, Turner Classic Movies, CNNI, and CNNE as these networks do not carry children's programming. If there are any changes in the programming policies of these networks, we will provide you with updated certifications reflecting such changes.

To comply with the FCC Rules, please place the attached certificates of compliance in your system's public file(s) no later than the tenth day of the current quarter following the quarter in which the programming aired.

I, Terri Tingle, in my capacity as Senior Vice President of Standards & Practices for the Turner Entertainment Networks ("Turner"), hereby certify to the best of my information, knowledge, and belief, that the following information is accurate for the period from April 1, 2014 to June 30, 2014:

- 1) I am familiar with the statutory limits of the Children's Television Act of 1990 (the "Act") and the FCC regulations implementing those limits (no more than 12 minutes per hour of commercial matter may be telecast during children's programming* on weekdays, and no more than 10 ½ minutes per hour on weekends).
- 2) From April 1, 2014 to June 30, 2014, Turner treated all of the programs telecast on the Cartoon Network, a 24-hour program service, as "children's programming" for the purposes of the commercial limits set forth in the Act, except for its telecast in the "Adult Swim" block of programming created for an adult audience that airs late night seven days a week. The Adult Swim block contains hourly warnings to notify and remind viewers that the content is intended for an adult audience, and is not considered "children's programming" subject to the commercial limits set forth in the Act. On a weekly basis, therefore, approximately 105 hours of television programming were treated as "children's programming" for the purposes of the commercial limits set forth in the Act.
- 3) Programs listed on the attached Exhibit 1, although not originally produced nor broadcast primarily for an audience of children 12 and under, aired outside of the "Adult Swim" block and were treated as "children's programming" for consistency with other Cartoon Network-branded programming. The advertising that Turner included during and adjacent to these programs complied with "children's programming" commercial time limit rules.
- 4) Turner has, as a standard practice, formatted and telecast all of the programs carried on the Cartoon Network during the period noted above within the commercial limits set forth in the Act, to the extent applicable to the programming.
- 5) To the best of my information, knowledge and belief, there were no instances in which the commercial limits were exceeded during the period noted above.

BOOMERANG
CERTIFICATE OF COMPLIANCE WITH COMMERCIAL LIMITS FOR CHILDREN'S PROGRAMMING

I, Terri Tingle, in my capacity as Senior Vice President of Standards & Practices for Turner Broadcasting System, Inc. ("Turner"), hereby certify to the best of my information, knowledge, and belief, that the following information is accurate for the period of April 1, 2014 to June 30, 2014:

- 1) I am familiar with the statutory limits of the Children's Television Act of 1990 (the "Act") and the FCC regulations implementing those limits (no more than 12 minutes per hour of commercial matter may be telecast during children's programming* on weekdays, and no more than 10 ½ minutes per hour on weekends).
- 2) In April 2000, Turner launched Boomerang, a digital 24-hour network airing classic cartoons such as The Flintstones, Scooby-Doo, and The Jetsons. Since its launch, Turner has treated all of the programs telecast on Boomerang as "children's programming" for the purposes of complying with the commercial limits set forth in the Act.
- 3) Since January 2003, Turner has designated "commercial" breaks up to 4 minutes per hour during which time Turner could insert limited cross-promotions for programming on other Turner networks such as Cartoon Network. Turner inserts automated cue tones that signal and allow cable operators to insert local advertisements over some of these Turner cross-promotional spots without overlapping with Boomerang's television programs or exceeding the permissible commercial time limits under the KidVid rules and regulations. From October 28 to December 31, 2013, Turner also inserted a limited number of paid advertisements. The amount of paid advertisements varied by hour and day but ranged from 1 ½ to 2 ½ minutes of commercial matter. Some of the paid advertisements were telecast in lieu of the cross-promotional spots.
- 4) During the period between April 1, 2014 to June 30, 2014, Boomerang telecast up to 6 minutes per hour of commercial matter, which is well below the commercial limits set forth in the Act.
- 5) To the best of my information, knowledge and belief, there were no instances in which the commercial limits were exceeded during the period noted above.

Certified by me this 3rd day of July, 2014.
