Steve Davis, Associate Pastor of Parkside Chapel in Visalia

- That the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ will be known in our community through the faithfulness of believers fulfilling the Great Commission locally.
- That more and more people will embrace the truth that God is most glorified in us when we are most satisfied in Him.
- That our church & other churches will have a passion for the supremacy of Christ in all things.

Bruce Smith, Executive Director of Tulare-Kings Youth for Christ

Tim Johnson, Student Ministries Pastor, Hillside Community Church

- People being deceived by sin in this world, which leads to all types of devastation: addictions, broken marriages and families, poor financial decisions, etc.
- Agriculture -- specifically water issues and the financial implications of a lack of water
- Unemployment

- ❖ Throughout each quarter, lessons are learned and opportunities for improvement are discovered. As part of our continuous improvement process, documenting the above responses help discover problems in our communities and track the development of these community concerns.
- ❖ Data for this report was gathered by personal contact via email or phone contacts.
- ❖ The objective of this report is gathering various civic, pastoral, and generic opinions for better understanding of our community as a whole and how we are utilizing our offices/churches/businesses/lives for the betterment of our community through our various resources.
