Segment Topic: Internet Safety Month: Protecting One's Identity
Organization: Lifelock
Guest(s): Tami Nealy, Senior Director of Corporate Communications Phone:
Date: 6/10/12
Duration: 30:00

Issues: The U.S. Senate has declared June to be Internet Safety Month and the Internet Crime Complaint Center recently released their 2011 Internet Crime Report. According to the report, the level of identity theft taking place online is very high. Nealy explained what steps listeners can take to protect themselves from this kind of crime. She also described the kinds of tricks being used to steal personal information through phony phone calls and text messages.

Segment Topic: Exhibit Features Florida Art

Organization: Orlando Museum of Art

Guest(s): Jude Goodier-Mojher, Associate Curator of Youth and Family Programs

Phone: (407) 896-4231 (282)

Date: 5/20/12

Duration: 30:00

Issues:

The Orlando Museum of Art is currently featuring an exhibit, Reflections: Florida Art created between 1865 and 1965. Although the artists themselves were from all over, Florida's people and landscape are the subjects for their paintings and drawings. Goodier-Mojher described many of the pieces and explained the evolution that occurred as more people populated the state. She also invited listeners to enjoy a special event, Storytellers of Central Florida Present Tales of Florida: Past and Present.

Time:

WWKA:
6:00
a.m.

Segment Topic: 51st Annual Apopka Art and Foliage Festival

Organization: Apopka Woman's Club

Guest(s): Dina Morrow, Chairman
Sharon Fisher,
Kathy Hopper,
Trudy Weiss

Phone: Apopkawomansclub.org

Date: 4/29/12

Duration: 15:00

Issues: The guests invited listeners to the 51st Annual Apopka Art and Foliage Festival. The event will feature juried fine art and crafts, bus tours of local nurseries, beekeeping exhibits, a butterfly house exhibit, indoor and outdoor foliage, entertainment, activities for children, and horticulturalists to answer questions.

The Apopka Woman's Club is a volunteer service organization that sponsors this annual event. The money raised goes to the local non-profit organizations and to fund academic scholarships for local residents.

Time:

WWKA:
6:30
a.m.

Segment Topic: Annual Bahia Shrine Circus
Organization: Bahia Shrine
Guest(s): Ken Harrelson, Potentate 2012
Don Grable, Past Potentate

Phone:

Date: 5/6/12

Duration: 30:00

Issues: The Shriners invited listeners to the annual Shrine Circus, which will feature the Royal Hanneford circus performers. The circus is a way to earn money for the Bahia Shrine operational costs.

The guests also described the important work done at the 22 Shriners' Hospitals for Children. These hospitals provide free, quality medical care for children who require burn treatments, orthopedic care and equipment, spinal cord injury treatment, and cleft lip and palate surgery.

Time:

WWKA:
11:30
p.m.

Segment Topic: Military Ball to Honor Veterans

Organization: Various Apopka Groups

Guest(s): John Ricketson, Publisher of Apopka Chief and Planter, Organizer
Janine Arrowsmith, Volunteer

Phone:

Date: 5/13/12

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Ricketson invited listeners to the second annual Apopka Military Ball. He said that he organized the first Ball because, although Memorial Day cemetery ceremonies are important, he wanted a way to honor veterans while they are still alive. The community of Apopka embraced the idea and provided a special experience for over 300 veterans. This year they hope to duplicate that success and raise money for veterans who are experiencing financial difficulties. Arrowsmith explained why this event is so important to the community of Apopka.

Time:

WWKA:

Segment Topic: Special Summer Events at Maitland Museums
Organization: Art and History Museums Maitland
Guest(s): Andrea Bailey Cox, Executive Director and CEO
Phone: Artandhistory.org
Date: 6/3/12
Duration: 30:00

Issues: Cox described the various programs that the five Maitland Art and History museums will offer over the summer. These summer offerings include a concert series that begins on June 8th with the Mudflappers; free Family Days at the museums each month, featuring a craft and other activities; a new exhibit, A Day in the Life of the Research Studio; and Artists Critique and Conversation, a moderated event at which artists can discuss their work.

Time:

WWKA:

Segment Topic: Masonic Organizations' Impact on Local Communities

Organization:

Guest(s): Christopher Hodapp, Author

Phone: (317) 842-1103

Date: 6/10/12

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Hodapp is the author of books including Freemasons for Dummies and Solomon's Builders: Freemasons, Founding Fathers and the Secrets of Washington D.C. He described how the history of masonry is so closely intertwined with the history of many U.S. communities like our local Apopka. The reason is because lodges were the center of social life for men in the 19th century, so towns often sprung up around them. Finally, he speculated as to the future of masonry in the United States.

Time:

WWKA:
6:00
a.m.

Segment Topic: Book Based on Science Fact Rather than Fiction

Organization:

Guest(s): Homer Hickam, Author

Phone: Homerhickam.com

Date: 6/24/12

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Hickam's new youth fiction book, Crater, is the first of a trilogy of stories set on the moon. The main character, Crater, is a teenager who works in a Helium 3 mine, Hickam says that this is based in science fact, and that energy experts believe that there will be Helium 3 mines on the moon. Hickam, who trained astronauts for NASA, also commented on the proposed asteroid mining expedition funded by individuals like James Cameron. In his opinion, there isn't even a mining expert on the team, so it's not likely to be successful. Finally, he spoke about politics.

Segment Topic: Foster Grandparents Program Celebrates 40th Year
Organization: Foster Grandparents Program
Guest(s): Charlotte Merrit, Assistant Director
Phone: (407) 298-4180; fgpcf.org
Date: 4/22/12
Duration: 15:00

Issues: The Foster Grandparent Program will celebrate 40 years in Central Florida by recognizing volunteers at a special luncheon on May 7th. Merrit explained that the program pairs low-income senior volunteers with special needs children so that each has a positive experience. The seniors help the children with reading and other schoolwork for one year. This intergenerational relationship helps both senior and child feel valued.

Time:

WWKA:
6:00
a.m.

Segment Topic: After School Zone Enters 13th Year
Organization: Orange County Government
Guest(s): Tyra Witsell, Manager Orange County Citizens Commission for Children , A Division of Department of Family Services

Segment Topic: FCAT Controversy
Organization: University of Florida
Guest(s): Professor David Miller
Phone: 15:00
Date: 6/17/12
Duration: 30:00

Issues: Miller spoke about the controversy surrounding this year's FCAT results, which were so much lower than last year's. He explained how this kind of standard assessment works and how the results are interpreted. Miller said he thinks that there are some problems with FCAT because changes are being made too quickly, before certain data is being evaluated. As such, he says, comparisons from one year to the next become difficult.

Phone: (407) 599-0909; newhopeforkids.org
Date: 4/8/12
Duration: 30:00

Issues: Joswick explained that the main focus of New Hope for Kids is supporting families who have experienced death -- usually the death of a parent. The focus is to help children to work through their feelings about the loss because children who do not receive this kind of support often have emotional problems later in life. However, there is also support for adults.

Next week, New Hope for Kids will raise money at Art of the Vine, an event featuring wine, food, and entertainment.
