

QUARTERLY ISSUES

JANUARY 2018

- 1. Stephenville ISD announces three-year iChampion digital initiative: (January 10, 2018, 8am-:30) – Stephenville Independent School District is proud to announce iChampion, a 3-year, multi-phased initiative centered on enhancing academic learning by way of digital-based innovations and resources. With a straight-arrow focus to empower learners to achieve excellence through initiative and integrity, SISD's iChampion 1:1 initiative leverages the power and mobility of technology to create a personalized, student-centric environment.
- 2. Tarleton students present research at national history honor society conference: (January 19, 2018, 8am-:30) – Two Tarleton State University undergraduate students and an assistant professor of history recently presented research findings at the biennial conference of the National History Honor Society, Phi Alpha Theta, in Orlando, Fla.
- 3. 14th Annual Youth Fair 2018 results: (January 5, 2018, 8am-:30) Erath County 4-Hers showed off their talents and heart recently at the 14th annual Youth Fair held in conjunction with the Erath County Junior Livestock Show. 261 items were entered in the Youth Fair. In addition to having their items judged, 4-H clubs made baskets filled with different themed goodies to raffle. This year proceeds benefit Erath County United Way and 4-H clubs impacted by Hurricane Harvey program. It is a great way for 4-H to give back to the community.
- 4. Coaches all over map with realignment thoughts: (January 29, 2018, 8am-:30) If area football coaches seem to be all over the map with realignment thoughts it's because they could very well end up just about anywhere on that map when the UIL unveils football districts for 2018 and 2019 on its website – UILTexas.org – and in front of coaches scattered across Texas at whatever regional location they believe will serve them best.
- 5. Dallas attorney donates $100,000 to support Tarleton's legal studies program: (January 30, 2018, 8am-:30) – Dallas attorney Scott Summy and his wife, Lenna, have donated $100,000 to Tarleton State University to create an endowed scholarship for students planning a legal career. Tarleton will induct the Summys into the university's Scholarship Society and John Tarleton Society at its annual gala in February.
