

QUARTERLY ISSUE/PROGRAM TOPIC REPORT
 JULY TO SEPTEMBER 2022
 FOR RADIO STATIONS LICENSED TO THE STATE OF WISCONSIN EDUCATIONAL COMMUNICATIONS BOARD

Attached Reports Represent Q3 of 2022

ECB Radio Stations WLBL (AM/FM), WHAA (FM), WHAD (FM), WHBM (FM), WHDI (FM), WHHI (FM), WHLA (FM), WHSF (FM) and WHWC (FM) are affiliates of the WPR Ideas Network

ECB Radio Stations WERN (FM), WHWA (FM), WHND (FM), WHRM (FM), WHSA (FM), WPNE (FM), WSSU (FM), and WSSW (FM) are affiliates of the WPR News and Classical Network

During the period, this station, as part of the network that makes up Wisconsin Public Radio, has served the public interest by producing and broadcasting diverse content which addresses national, statewide and regional issues. The following is a list of some of the produced or acquired programming or news stories aired in response to areas of concern to listeners served by Wisconsin Public Radio.

ISSUES OF COMMUNITY CONCERN:

- AGRICULTURE
- ECONOMY
- EDUCATION
- ENVIRONMENT
- HEALTH
- POLITICS
- SOCIAL ISSUES

The Ideas Network Quarterly Issues and Programs List July to September 2022
AGRICULTURE	PROGRAM	DATE
Hear stories of American farmers and their reliance on Mexican workers and how their developed relationships contrast with the politics around immigration. (Duration: 21 min, 12 sec)	Central Time	7/13/22 @ 3 pm
Farm to table is not just a catchphrase in Madison. Hear how some of the chefs who have used their proximity to great fresh ingredients to make their mark on the capitol's restaurant scene. (Duration: 50 min, 20 sec)	The Larry Meiller Show	7/19/22 @ 11:45 am

A look at this year's Soil Sisters event that annually celebrates women farmers and food artisans championing local food and conservation. We focus on homesteading and how to live more seasonally, sustainably and closer to the land. (Duration: 39 min, 19 sec)	The Larry Meiller Show	7/27/22 @ 11 am
More than half of Wisconsin farmers say farming isn't their primary occupation. Hear what that means for the future of the state's agricultural industry. (Duration: 21 min, 17 sec)	Central Time	8/2/22 @ 3 pm
A new report from the American Farmland Trust says between 2016 and 2040, more than 515,000 acres of Wisconsin's farmland will be paved over, fragmented or converted. Two Wisconsin researchers explain why land use-planning matters. (Duration: 43 min, 27 sec)	The Morning Show	8/4/22 @ 8 am
Community Supported Agriculture — or CSA farms — attempt to make producing food a community project, getting cooperation from the microbes and worms up to the neighbors and local businesses. Hear a chat with a pioneer of the CSA movement who has written a memoir and cookbook about her farm in Iowa. (Duration: 43 min, 58 sec)	The Morning Show	8/8/22 @ 8 am
Wisconsin won 90 awards during the national American Cheese Society Judging and Competition. It was more than 25 percent of awards won around the country. A champion cheesemaker and owner of Marieke Gouda discusses making cheese in the Dairy State. (Duration: 20 min, 58 sec)	The Morning Show	8/16/22 @ 7 am
Each year, the Great Lakes Indian Fish and Wildlife Commission oversees about 6,000 acres of off-reservation wild rice wetlands in Wisconsin. Learn about the Indigenous harvesting practice from a tribal member known as "She who takes care of the wild rice." (Duration: 20 min, 58 sec)	The Morning Show	8/30/22 @ 7 am
About one quarter of greenhouse emissions are created from our food, agricultural and land-use systems. Hear from the authors of a report about how our food system's emissions can be reduced and how farming practices could be modified to absorb carbon from the atmosphere. (Duration: 43 min, 26 sec)	The Morning Show	9/1/22 @ 8 am
Learn how the Ukwakhwa farm (Our Foods) encourages food sovereignty and preserving and connecting people to heirloom crops that Native Americans flourished on for centuries. (Duration: 20 min, 59 sec)	The Morning Show	9/22/22 @ 7 am

ECONOMY	PROGRAM	DATE
As some rental and housing prices are rising, inflation is increasing, too. Two housing advocates discuss the future of renting and what can be done to make it more affordable. (Duration: 22 min, 5 sec)	Central Time	7/5/22 @ 3:30 pm
Gas and oil prices are starting to come back down. What does that mean for inflation and fears of a recession? (Duration: 22 min, 5 sec)	Central Time	7/19/22 @ 3 pm
Milwaukee County plans to use $19 million of American Rescue Plan funding to build affordable housing in the Milwaukee suburbs. Hear about the plans and updates on efforts to reduce racial disparities and improve residents' health. (Duration: 22 min, 24 sec)	The Morning Show	7/26/22 @ 7:30 am
Learn about a new project in Oshkosh to provide struggling residents short-term affordable housing, as well as skills for managing finances and home management. (Duration: 6 min, 18 sec)	Central Time	8/1/22 @ 4 pm
The Inflation Reduction Act is on its way to becoming law. Besides a game-changing investment in climate change mitigation and adaptation funding, there's also provisions regarding corporate taxes and stock buyback. A look at the details of those less headline-grabbing measures. (Duration: 21 min, 59 sec)	Central Time	8/12/22 @ 4 pm
The tight labor market has employers offering bigger salaries to attract new workers and that's creating big gaps in pay with the employees who never left. Learn how companies and workers are dealing with the problem. (Duration: 21 min, 40 sec)	Central Time	8/17/22 @ 3 pm
Rural communities often lack the resources to engage in detailed economic development planning that urban areas routinely conduct. Hear from a UW-Madison economics professor who is assisting with a pilot project to help five rural communities create a development strategy. (Duration: 22 min, 20 sec)	The Morning Show	8/23/22 @ 7:30 am
Some economists say the U.S. is in the midst of a housing recession. Learn what that means, how it's impacting buyers, sellers and renters, and what it tells us about the health of the American housing market. (Duration: 22 min)	Central Time	9/1/22 @ 3:30 pm
A recent workforce study from a UW policy institute says that conditions have broadly improved for Wisconsin workers. The associate director of a UW-Madison think tank discusses how national labor trends are playing out in Wisconsin. (Duration: 22 min, 19 sec)	The Morning Show	9/13/22 @ 7:30 am

Fewer people are actively looking for a job now than before the pandemic, and part of the reason is that many workers have dropped out of the labor force entirely. A business reporter for The New York Times shares stories of these workers and talks about what it means for the economy. (Duration: 22 min, 9 sec)	Central Time	9/15/22 @ 3:30 pm
EDUCATION	PROGRAM	DATE
Last week, the state Dept. of Justice started accepting grant applications for schools to improve building safety. Wisconsin's state superintendent of public instruction discusses school safety and other issues facing K-12 education. (Duration: 22 min, 28 sec)	The Morning Show	7/18/22 @ 7:30 am
Women hold about 26 percent of STEM leadership positions in the federal government, according to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. The director of STEM equity at the UW-Oshkosh shares how the school is using a $1 million increase in funding to empower women in science, technology, engineering and math. (Duration: 20 min, 57 sec)	The Morning Show	7/22/22 @ 7 am
Last year, the NCAA changed its rules to allow college athletes to profit from their names, image and likeness. A look at how this change has affected the players and their teams. (Duration: 37 min, 53 sec)	The Larry Meiller Show	8/2/22 @ 11 am
School districts around the country are reporting teacher shortages, ahead of schools starting back up in the near future. Hear what's happening nationally and what's being done to fix the problem in Wisconsin. (Duration: 22 min)	Central Time	8/5/22 @ 4 pm
A federal student loan forgiveness program waiver is set to expire later this year. A UW-Madison financial wellness advisor shares who is eligible for loan forgiveness and how to apply before the October deadline. (Duration: 22 min, 20 sec)	The Morning Show	8/9/22 @ 7:30 am
The U.S. Supreme Court decision that ended school segregation also had a destructive legacy, with the firing of 100,000 teachers and administrators of color who were replaced by less-qualified white educators. The author of a new book discusses how this troubling history resonates today. (Duration: 43 min, 42 sec)	The Morning Show	8/11/22 @ 8 am
A new CDC report looks at the long-term effects of COVID-19 in kids. Learn what it found and what parents and caregivers need to know about the state of the pandemic as kids get ready to head back to school. (Duration: 21 min, 32 sec)	Central Time	8/11/22 @ 3 pm

Art education is seen as an important element of schooling, but how can art transform the way we learn? An educator and artist discusses her research on how art impacts education. (Duration: 21 min, 55 sec)	Central Time	9/6/22 @ 3:30 pm
National test scores among 9-year-olds have dropped since the start of the pandemic. Learn more about the disruption to learning and how to help students catch up. (Duration: 21 min, 15 sec)	Central Time	9/7/22 @ 3:30 pm
The College Board is testing a new AP course in African American Studies. Hear about the potential of the course and where it fits into the national climate of teaching about race and racism. (Duration: 21 min, 23 sec)	Central Time	9/8/22 @ 4:30 pm
ENVIRONMENT	PROGRAM	DATE
A Supreme Court ruling will limit the EPA's ability to regulate carbon emissions. Learn more about the legal and environmental impacts. (Duration: 21 min, 28 sec)	Central Time	7/6/22 @ 3 pm
Wisconsin utility companies installed more solar-powered projects in 2021 than any other year. But projects set for 2022 are facing global supply chain disruptions. A renewable energy expert explains what this means for the state. (Duration: 20 min, 58 sec)	The Morning Show	7/8/22 @ 7 am
Every year Wisconsin generates more than 100 million metric tons of carbon dioxide. But the state's 17 million acres of forest have the capacity to store 37 percent of carbon emissions from burning fossil fuels. A new report outlines what state foresters and officials could do to accomplish that. (Duration: 20 min, 23 sec)	The Morning Show	7/11/22 @ 7 am
A team of researchers working with the organization Winter Grab obtained new data this year about ice coverage on the Great Lakes. The founder of Winter Grab and one of those researchers discusses the data and what the future of declining ice coverage means for the Great Lakes ecosystem. (Duration: 10 min, 30 sec)	Central Time	7/18/22 @ 4:15 pm
Three of Wisconsin's major coal-fired plants will not be shutting down as soon as expected. A reporter shares insight on the fossil fuel industry in Wisconsin and explains what delays mean for renewable energy projects. (Duration: 17 min, 29 sec)	The Morning Show	8/3/22 @ 7:30 am

Hear a conservation group's priorities for lawmakers and how federal action on climate change could affect Wisconsin. (Duration: 22 min, 26 sec)	The Morning Show	8/8/22 @ 7:30 am
Democrats in the U.S. Senate have passed a bill that's being called the most ambitious action on climate change from the U.S. to date. A climate policy reporter shares what the bill will do and where efforts to fight climate change go next. (Duration: 21 min, 13 sec)	Central Time	8/9/22 @ 3 pm
Congress is poised to pass the most ambitious plan ever to fight climate change. A leading climate change scientist shares what is in the plan, what it could accomplish and what more needs to be done. (Duration: 20 min, 53 sec)	The Morning Show	8/12/22 @ 7 am
Ammonia can be used as a fuel source that could provide a clean way to power internal combustion engines and reduce greenhouse emissions. Hear from a UW professor whose lab has discovered a way that might make the process cleaner and simpler. (Duration: 22 min, 26 sec)	The Morning Show	9/6/22 @ 7:30 am
Research shows how scientists can break down one class of PFAS using sodium hydroxide, also known as lye. A professor at Michigan State University discusses the developing ways experts are learning to destroy forever chemicals. (Duration: 16 min, 27 sec)	The Morning Show	9/7/22 @ 7 am
HEALTH	PROGRAM	DATE
The Food and Drug Administration has banned Juul Labs from selling its vaping products in the U.S. market. A pulmonology doctor at UW Health shares the effects of vaping and nicotine products have on the teenage body. (Duration: 20 min, 58 sec)	The Morning Show	7/6/22 @ 7 am
According to CDC data, sexually transmitted infections are on the rise in most of the country. A Wisconsin doctor discusses what's causing the trend and the preventative steps to stay safe. (Duration: 8 min, 49 sec)	Central Time	7/6/22 @ 4:15 pm
In the dog days of summer, many people are basking in the sun. But what risks are they taking? A cosmetic chemist shares what makes up sunscreen and why Europeans have more sunscreen options and hear from a dermatologist who gives advice on sun safety and cancer screening. (Duration: 42 min, 51 sec)	The Morning Show	7/11/22 @ 8 am

Preoperative education programs tell patients what to expect during and after a surgery. Physical therapy experts are back to tell us why preoperative learning matters. (Duration: 1 hr, 13 min, 16 sec)	The Larry Meiller Show	7/18/22 @ 11 am
Monkeypox cases are rising across the world and in the U.S. An immunologist talks about what the virus is and what you need to know to stay safe. (Duration: 10 min, 39 sec)	Central Time	8/2/22 @ 3:45 pm
Many U.S. workers report they are stressed at work or feel burned out. A psychologist shares ways to recover from work stress. (Duration: 37 min, 21 sec)	The Larry Meiller Show	8/9/22 @ 11 am
Many kids have fallen into bad sleeping routines over the summer. Learn how to get them back into a regular schedule. (Duration: 35 min, 51 sec)	The Larry Meiller Show	8/9/22 @ 11:45 am
Back pain is one of most common reasons why people miss work. Physical therapists share the best ways to manage back pain. (Duration: 1 hr, 13 min, 20 sec)	The Larry Meiller Show	8/15/22 @ 11 am
We live in a world full of poisons and toxins — our homes are filled with harmful chemicals in cleaning supplies and dangerous metals that can kill us, if ingested. Learn about the management, science and history of poison with a toxicologist and emergency medicine pharmacist. (Duration: 43 min, 24 sec)	The Morning Show	9/5/22 @ 8 am
The CDC recommends the new Omicron-targeting booster shot for everyone ages 12 and older. Hear about how this new booster works, how much protection you can expect and how it could impact the wider fight against COVID-19. (Duration: 21 min, 46 sec)	Central Time	9/7/22 @ 4:30 pm
POLITICS	PROGRAM	DATE
A political scientist discusses a Wisconsin Supreme Court ruling that will establish boundaries around the use of ballot drop boxes and absentee ballots. (Duration: 21 min, 41 sec)	Central Time	7/8/22 @ 3 pm
Tim Michels is racking up endorsements in Wisconsin’s Republican primary for governor and the latest Marquette poll shows two candidates in the Democratic primary for U.S. Senate are neck and neck. A UW-Madison political scientist breaks down that and more in Wisconsin election news. (Duration: 21 min, 58 sec)	Central Time	7/14/22 @ 3:30 pm

Pres. Biden wrapped up a trip to meet with leaders of countries in the Middle East. Learn the implications for U.S. foreign policy. (Duration: 21 min, 51 sec)	Central Time	7/18/22 @ 3:30 pm
Ballot curing is the process of correcting mistakes on absentee ballots and it's become a point of contention in Wisconsin. An election law expert shares how it works and the fight over letting local election clerks correct certain mistakes. (Duration: 21 min, 26 sec)	Central Time	7/26/22 @ 3 pm
Abortion rights supporters had a surprising win in Kansas, after voters in the red state voted to uphold abortion rights. Learn about the message that vote sends, how it could impact midterm races in Wisconsin and across the U.S. and the gap between public sentiment on abortion and GOP state restrictions to the procedure. (Duration: 17 min, 28 sec)	Central Time	8/4/22 @ 3:30 pm
Assembly Speaker Robin Vos shut down Michael Gableman's investigation into alleged voter fraud in the 2020 election last week, just over a year after hiring him. A look back at how the investigation impacted state politics and why it could still loom large over the fall elections. (Duration: 22 min, 5 sec)	Central Time	8/16/22 @ 3:30 pm
Aggregate polling site FiveThirtyEight lists Wisconsin's third congressional district as the state's only competitive U.S. House race for the Midterms. A WPR reporter and a local political scientist break down the details of the upcoming election. (Duration: 20 min, 59 sec)	The Morning Show	8/23/22 @ 7 am
Former Wis. U.S. Senator Russ Feingold and a fellow scholar of constitutional law warn in a new book about conservative efforts to invoke a constitutional convention. The authors talk about how convention delegates could rewrite foundational laws that impact generations to come. (Duration: 43 min, 23 sec)	The Morning Show	8/31/22 @ 8 am
2016 was the closest the United States has come to electing a female president for the first time. A discussion about why we haven't reached that milestone and what it would take to elect a woman as chief executive. (Duration: 21 min, 31 sec)	Central Time	9/1/22 @ 4 pm
Politics is a constant conversation on social media, but what's been the impact of bringing politics to the digital world? Hear from the author of a new book who takes a closer look at that question and who examines the digital strategies behind two past U.S. presidents. (Duration: 21 min, 16 sec)	Central Time	9/6/22 @ 4 pm

SOCIAL ISSUES	PROGRAM	DATE
A Dane County judge recently referred former state Supreme Court justice Michael Gableman to the Office of Lawyer Regulation for comments he made in court about a female lawyer. The judge called the comments "misogynistic." Hear from an author, law professor and attorney about gender discrimination in courtrooms. (Duration: 22 min, 40 sec)	The Morning Show	7/5/22 @ 7:30 am
Comedians and comedy writers walk a fine line between what is funny and hurtful in their jokes. Learn how the industry is navigating modern sensibilities. (Duration: 21 min, 4 sec)	Central Time	7/5/22 @ 4 pm
Some legal experts think the push to recognize fetal personhood may be the next big fight in reproductive rights now that Roe v. Wade has been overturned. A reproductive law expert discusses the history of the movement and some of the practical and legal implications of granting personhood to the unborn. (Duration: 21 min, 52 sec)	Central Time	7/18/22 @ 3 pm
Studies show Wisconsin often ranks among the worst states for African Americans to make a life. A look at early Black migration to the Midwest, racial relations and African American voting rights. (Duration: 22 min, 26 sec)	The Morning Show	7/21/22 @ 7:30 am
Learn the different ways to think about, evaluate and question types of evidence people present. A legal theorist teaches how to reason better. (Duration: 20 min, 49 sec)	Central Time	8/1/22 @ 4 pm
A recent national report estimates lesbian, gay and bisexual people are more than twice as likely to be arrested compared to heterosexual individuals. The report's author discusses the factors leading to disparities in the criminal justice system. (Duration: 20 min, 44 sec)	The Morning Show	8/2/22 @ 7 am
Learn about the links between higher education, class divide and political animosity in the U.S. and hear some solutions for how to improve the system. (Duration: 20 min, 57 sec)	Central Time	8/4/22 @ @ 3 pm
Being a mother is more than just birthing and raising children. A new book looks at the wider role that motherhood plays in American society. (Duration: 21 min, 2 sec)	Central Time	8/9/22 @ 4 pm

The U.S. is in the midst of a reckoning over racism. But one Black intellectual argues that much of the current rhetoric against racism is itself racist and hurts people of color. Learn about his new book, "Woke Racism: How a New Religion Has Betrayed Black America." (Duration: 43 min, 22 sec)	The Morning Show	9/1/22 @ 7 am
Twelve percent of law enforcement officers are women, according to The 30x30 Initiative, which aims to increase that number to 30 percent by the year 2030. Hear from one of the 30x30 program founders and the new president of the Wisconsin Association of Women Police about the importance of gender parity in policing. (Duration: 43 min, 27 sec)	The Morning Show	9/2/22 @ 8 am

NPR/Classical Music Network Quarterly Issues and Programs List July to September 2022 Segment Duration: About 1 minute
AGRICULTURE	PROGRAM	DATE
Plastic has helped make farming easier, by providing a low cost and simple way to store livestock feed. Some farms wish there was a better way to recycle the products after they're used.	Morning Edition	7/4/22 @ 6 am
Animal activist group PETA has filed a lawsuit against Organic Valley, claiming the Wisconsin-based farmer cooperative is misleading consumers.	Morning Edition	7/21/22 @ 5 am
Wisconsin producers spent about 8 percent more to farm in 2021 compared to the previous year. Farmers saw most expenses increase, especially for trucks and tractors.	BBC Newshour	8/2/22 @ 3 pm
Studies show dairy farms emit around 1.5 percent of greenhouse gasses in the U.S. But new research from the UW-Madison showed ways dairy farmers can reduce their environmental footprint.	Morning Edition	8/22/22 @ 5 am
Wisconsin farmers will receive some of the $2.8 billion the federal government is investing in climate-smart agriculture projects.	Morning Edition	9/15/22 @ 5 am
ECONOMY	PROGRAM	DATE
Gas prices are falling across the state. But drivers are still stretching their budgets to cover the cost.	Morning Edition	7/7/22 @ 6 am

Northeast Wisconsin and the Fox Valley are ready for what could be one of the region's busiest weeks for tourism in years. An international soccer exhibition this weekend and an air show next week are expected to bring millions into the local economy.	Morning Edition	7/21/22 @ 6 am
The 2024 Republican National Convention could bring 50,000 visitors to Milwaukee. City leaders say it could bring $200 million to the city as well.	Morning Edition	8/17/22 @ 8 am
As he campaigns for re-election, Gov. Evers proposed a new tax cut. The plan would draw from the state's unprecedented budget surplus.	Morning Edition	8/23/22 @ 6 am
As Wisconsin employers continue to struggle with a shortage of workers, state officials hope a one-year grant program will show businesses that covering childcare costs could help.	Morning Edition	9/21/22 @ 6 am
EDUCATION	PROGRAM	DATE
Wisconsin is falling behind other states when it comes to public education spending. That's according to a new report from the Wisconsin Policy Forum.	BBC Newshour	7/6/22 @ 3 pm
Parents and educators in Muskego are planning a "teach-in" event outside the local school board meeting. They'll be giving away 100 copies of the book the district chose to exclude from classrooms.	All Things Considered	7/18/22 @ 5 pm
The first day of school is less than a month away. But as the summer winds down, districts are still struggling to fill open teacher and staff positions.	Morning Edition	8/8/22 @ 5 am
The UW System has announced a Wisconsin Tuition Promise that will help cover final expenses at state colleges. The goal is to reduce financial barriers to higher education.	Morning Edition	8/15/22 @ 5 am
Administrators at UW System schools say they're optimistic about the increasing number of first-year students coming in, even as overall enrollment at the state's 13 universities fell this fall by around one percent.	All Things Considered	9/23/22 @ 5 pm
ENVIRONMENT	PROGRAM	DATE
Wisconsin's five largest electric utilities are on track to cut carbon emissions 45 percent by 2028. Even so, most will fall short of their 2030 carbon reduction goals.	BBC Newshour	7/4/22 @ 3 pm

Two northern Wisconsin residents are accusing the Wis. Dept. of Natural Resources of violating its own standards to protect water quality as part of logging activity along lakeshores.	All Things Considered	7/18/22 @ 5 pm
Wisconsin lawmakers are divided over the Inflation Reduction Act that the U.S. House is expected to pass. The legislation includes a historic investment in efforts to fight climate change.	BBC Newshour	8/12/22 @ 3 pm
Climate hazards like flooding, drought and wildfires are making known infectious diseases worse for people.	All Things Considered	8/19/22 @ 5 pm
Industry and local governments are navigating supply chain issues while they electrify their vehicle fleets. The challenge comes as Wisconsin is preparing to build out a network of fast-charging stations for electric vehicles.	Morning Edition	9/13/22 @ 5 am
HEALTH	PROGRAM	DATE
In anticipation of the end of Roe v. Wade, clinicians at Planned Parenthood of Wisconsin sought licenses to be able to practice in Illinois. They're now traveling across the border to help care for Wisconsinites seeking abortion services.	Morning Edition	7/15/22 @ 6 am
A new national hotline modeled on the 9-1-1 system will soon give people having a mental health crisis an easy-to-remember way to get immediate help.	BBC Newshour	7/15/22 @ 3 pm
Dentists are retiring or dropping out of the workforce across Wisconsin. And that's left many patients at rural community health centers with few options.	Morning Edition	8/12/22 @ 5 am
Voters in rural western Wisconsin will have a chance to tell lawmakers whether they favor a universal health care program. A referendum in Dunn County is the first of its kind in the state.	Morning Edition	8/30/22 @ 5 am
Wisconsin health leaders are encouraging residents to get their annual flu shot after two years of milder flu seasons and lower vaccinations rates.	All Things Considered	9/20/22 @ 5 pm
POLITICS	PROGRAM	DATE
The Wis. Elections Commission will launch a voter education campaign this fall aimed at building trust in elections. It comes amid new calls by former Pres. Trump and some state lawmakers to decertify the 2020 election.	Morning Edition	7/25/22 @ 6 am

Some absentee voters in Wisconsin are asking to resubmit their ballots ahead of the Aug. 9 primary election. Those requests are up as prominent Democratic primary candidates have dropped out of the U.S. Senate race.	All Things Considered	7/29/22 @ 5 pm
In 2018, a failed ballot measure sought to eliminate the state treasurer position. But this year, six primary candidates for the seat say the role is indispensable.	Morning Edition	8/1/22 @ 5 am
Assembly Speaker Robin Vos has fired former Supreme Court Justice Michael Gableman and closed the election investigation he was hired to run.	All Things Considered	8/12/22 @ 5 pm
Gov. Evers has called a special session that he says would "create a pathway" to overturning Wisconsin's 1849 ban on abortion.	All Things Considered	9/21/22 @ 5 pm
SOCIAL ISSUES	PROGRAM	DATE
State and federal officials are eyeing the removal of more sites with derogatory names as they narrow down replacement terms for 28 geographic features across Wisconsin.	BBC Newshour	7/15/22 @ 3 pm
A Stoughton charity is helping some of the families fleeing Ukraine as they resettle in Wisconsin.	BBC Newshour	7/27/22 @ 3 pm
Some Wisconsin school districts are facing backlash over their plans to teach elementary school kids about gender identity.	Morning Edition	8/11/22 @ 5 am
Some Marquette University students protested what they say is an unwelcoming environment for students of color at a convocation.	BBC Newshour	8/26/22 @ 3 pm
Black women artists are speaking out about what they say is a lack of support in the Madison community after reports of harassment and racism surfaced.	Morning Edition	9/22/22 @ 6 am