Equal Employment Opportunity Public Inspection File Report

Georgia Public Telecommunications Commission (Combined Report)

This report covers the following fourteen noncommercial educational radio and eight noncommercial educational television stations licensed to Georgia Public Telecommunications Commission ("GPTC") as well as the headquarters of the GPTC in Atlanta: Stations WABR (FM), Tifton; WACG (FM), Augusta; WJSP (FM), Warm Springs; WSVH (FM), Savannah; WUGA (FM), Athens; WUNV (FM), Albany; WUWG (FM), Carrollton; WWET (FM), Valdosta; WXVS (FM), Waycross; WJWV (FM), Ft. Gaines; WPPR (FM), Demorest; WNGU (FM), Dahlonega; WWIO (FM), Brunswick; WGPB (FM), Rome; WABW-TV, Pelham; WACS-TV, Dawson; WCES-TV, Wrens; WNGH-TV, Chatsworth; WGTW, Athens; WJSP-TV, Columbus; WVAN-TV, Savannah; and WXGA-TV, Waycross. This report also covers two noncommercial educational radio stations that GPTC operates pursuant to management agreements: Stations WNGH (FM), Chatsworth and WATY (FM), Folkston. None of these stations has five or more employees, and therefore, GPTC has prepared a combined report for all these stations.

GPTC operates its radio and television stations as state public broadcast networks, with all the television programs originating in Atlanta and simulcast by all of the stations in the network. Most of the radio stations are operated in a similar manner, although some originate some programming locally. Given this structure, the bulk of GPTC's employees are located at its Atlanta headquarters. The employees at the individual stations are primarily technical personnel assigned to assure the proper operation of the stations.

While GPTC has employees throughout the state, it operates as a single agency for recruitment purposes and employs the same recruitment sources and employment initiatives for all of its job openings. GPTC is also an agency of the state of Georgia and its recruitment and employment practices are subject to the requirements of the State Personnel Administration, Georgia's equivalent of the federal civil service system.
