Face the Issues

30 Minutes

Saturdays at 3:00pm

Issues: Public Health, Community Development

Back to School

For many children, their academic performance is not the only thing that causes anxiety in their return to school. Sam Chen speaks Jessica Meade, a counselor with Foundations Christian Counseling, about what challenges students face and how parents and the community can support them. Discussions include how to best prepare your child for a return to school, anxieties a child may have about things like being bullied and how that has shifted over the years with social media, and what a parent's role in their child's education should be to neither be absent or overbearing.

First Amendment Rights

One of the Supreme Court cases in the summer of 2023, out of Colorado, seemingly pitted religious rights against same sex marriage rights in the case of 303 Creative v. Elenis. Sam Chen speaks with Adam Carrington, associate professor of politics at Hillsdale College, and the William and Patricia Lamothe Chair in the US Constitution, about what happened in that case and how we can understand the ruling and Supreme Court cases in general.

Books on Wheels :

In some communities the library comes to you. As book accessibility continues to be an issue in some areas the Bethlehem Area Public Library, for the last half of a century has been bringing books to many of its patrons in the form of a bookmobile. This week Sam Chen interviews Josh Berk (Exec. Director of Bethlehem Area Public Library) and Mike Henninger (Bethlehem Area Public Library: Bookmobile Librarian).

Burn Prevention Network : Face the Issues

This week Sam Chen talks with Dan Dillard & Matt Ferdock of the Burn Prevention Network. Find out about some of their safety campaigns, programs and services; including their annual camp Susquehanna for children who have suffered severe burns.

Forecasting Weather & Its Impact : Face the Issues

Sam Chen interviews Bill Kirk, Founder and CEO of Weather Trends International. In this episode, Bill Kirk explains how weather forecasting works and how its accuracy can be improved.

Judicial Ethics & Reform: Face the Issues

Sam Chen interviews Adam Carrington, Associate Professor of Politics at Hillsdale College and William and Patricia LaMothe Chair in the US Constitution, about judicial ethics and reform in the Supreme Court.

Century Promise

In some regions across the country, students are coming out of high school unprepared for college, unprepared for work, and in many cases, unprepared for many of the challenges that life has. So why is this? And what can we as a community do to make these students more prepared and to help them take on the challenges of life? Yusuf Dahl is the chief executive director of the Century Promise. And this is one of the issues he has dedicated his life to accomplishing. He joins Sam Chen to talk about the Century Promise. What can be done in these communities and how his own life journey has led him to where he is today.
