FAMILY LIFE TODAY

Monday, January 18 — Exposing the Darkness It takes courage to break an addiction. Craig and Jen Ferguson, authors of the book, "Pure Eyes, Clean Heart," talk to Dennis Rainey about their dating years.

Tuesday, January 19 —Craig and Jen Ferguson talk about their early years of marriage. Jen shares what it was that first began to alert her to a problem with her husband. Find out what Jen uncovered about Craig that left her stunned and heartbroken.

Wednesday, January 20 —Craig and Jen Ferguson talk openly about Craig's battle with pornography. Find out what Craig did to break this stronghold in his life. Also hear Jen coach other wives who may be facing a similar situation in their marriage.

Thursday, January 21 —Vicki Tiede recalls finding her former husband's inappropriate magazines. Distraught and pregnant, she sought help from her pastor and recommitted her life and her marriage to Christ.

Tuesday, February 16 — Leaning on God Marriage isn't for sissies. Each couple will face their fair share of challenges and will need to rely on God to see them through. Barbara Rainey, founder of Ever Thine Home®, recalls her early years as Dennis's bride and her first year as a mom, which tested her faith and drove her to lean on God even more.

Wednesday, February 17 — Being His Helper -Are you building up your husband? Barbara Rainey talks about a wife's role as helper as it's defined in the Bible. Barbara reminds women that being a helper involves more than just cooking and cleaning; it involves helping a husband become all God intends him to be.

Thursday, February 18 — Embrace This Season of Life -Are you savoring today, or anxiously awaiting tomorrow? Priscilla Shirer, a wife and mother of three, challenges women to embrace this season of life, whatever that may be, and resist the urge to hurry through today.

Wednesday, March 23 — Getting Back to the Book -Never frown on small beginnings. Steve Green, president of Hobby Lobby, talks about his family's faith and the small arts and crafts business his father started in his garage that has turned into one of the largest retail chains of our time. Steve gives us a sneak peek at his new venture, the Museum of the Bible, opening in Washington, DC, in November of 2017.

Thursday, March 24 — The Bible: A Story Worth Telling -The Bible has impacted lives throughout history. Steve Green, president of Hobby Lobby, talks about the logistics of building the largest Bible museum of its kind. The museum is set to open in the fall of 2017.

Friday, March 25 — The Suffering of Jesus-Good Friday is the day when we reflect on the suffering of Jesus on our behalf. Bob Lepine, pastor and co-host of FamilyLife Today®, explains the importance of remembering that Jesus not only suffered for us, but that He suffered under Pontius Pilate, He was crucified, dead, and buried. Bob points out that remembering Jesus' death should be an ongoing practice and not something we do once a year.

FOCUS ON THE FAMILY

Monday, January 18: Speaking of Life: Our Listeners' Stories Celebrate the gift of life on the next "Focus on the Family," as listeners share their intriguing—even miraculous—stories to kick off Sanctity of Human Life Week, Find out how God has shown Himself strong in the lives of some very special people...pre-born children, orphans, the elderly and those with special needs.

Tuesday, January 19: Human Trafficking: What You Need to Know - I There's no nice way to put this—human trafficking is modern day slavery, and it's happening in your own "backyard." "Focus on the Family" reveals how children are being bought and sold, but not in the way you might think. Learn some of the tactics that abductors are using to lure even the smartest high school kids away from home—and find out how to make them safer.

Wednesday, January 20: Human Trafficking: What You Need to Know - II If your teenager were hanging out with a human trafficker, would you know the signs? We'll discuss the tactics that abductors use to enslave children, and not just in bad neighborhoods, but in your own "backyard." Find out what's being done to rescue victims and educate parents.

Thursday- Friday, February 4-5: The Transforming Power of God's Grace- I & II The abandoned, the homeless, the hopeless—where is God's grace in these situations? Atheist-turned-Christian Lee Strobel shares moving testimonies of God's grace interlaced with his own personal experiences. He'll paint a powerful picture of how grace impacts every aspect of our lives, giving us hope.

Monday, February 8: Establishing Healthy Boundaries with Your Teens - I Your teenager wants to get out on his own – but you're still the parent! Dr. John Townsend gives you tips for knowing how to balance your authority with your teen's desire for freedom. Learn to establish healthy boundaries with your teenager.

Tuesday, February 9: Establishing Healthy Boundaries with Your Teens – II One of the goals of parenting is for your child to embrace adulthood. Learn how to transition your child through the teenage years to maturity. Dr. John Townsend suggests reasonable ways to enjoy these final years of child-rearing as you give your teen more choices and freedoms - and grace, too.

Monday, March 14: God's Grace for Wild Women - I Do you know any "wild women"?...the kind that the Bible warns against? You may not think so, but you'd be surprised. She could be the girl next door, or your friend at church. She's the one who can't say "no" to temptation...even as a Christian. Is there hope for the wild woman in your life?

Tuesday, March 15: God's Grace for Wild Women - II The Bible calls them "little foxes"... little things that slip through the cracks and cause major problems later on. We'll talk about how certain sexual behaviors can hurt you...even when they seem harmless at first. Learn to spot the warning signs and build a healthy perspective of sex in your family.

Wednesday, March 16: Understanding Biblical Manhood - I You may have been without a father, or had a bad upbringing, or be unemployed, but men...whatever your situation, you can be a real man of integrity! Don't miss this candid, brass tacks interview with Dr. Tony Evans, as he helps men to understand their biblical role in their marriage, family, and community.

ISSUE TWO

The preceding issues were determined through phone calls from listeners, letters from listeners, and a "verbal" sampling of community leaders, and monitoring of other media sources (i.e. television, newspapers, etc.) as well as issues that have come to the attention of the American Family Association .

FAMILY LIFE TODAY

Thursday, January 7 — Preparing Your Children What kind of world will our children face? Russell Moore explains that we live in a culture that is largely in opposition to the Christian community. Russell encourages parents to teach their children who they are in Christ, even if it means being seen as different.

January 27 — Modeling Grace to Our Kids How are your kids doing spiritually? Kara Powell talks to parents about modeling grace to their kids. Kara explains that if our faith is only about behaviors then it's no wonder our youth are struggling.

Thursday, January 28 — Benefitting From Intergenerational Relationships Who else is encouraging your child's faith? Kara Powell tells how our kids benefit from intergenerational relationships. She encourages parents to provide opportunities for their kids to interact with people from all age groups.

Friday, January 29 — Dealing with Your Child's Doubts What if your child doubts God? Kara Powell reveals that 70 percent of high school seniors have doubts about their faith, but parents shouldn't be alarmed. Kara explains that when young people explore their doubts, it leads to maturity.

Thursday, February 4 — Winning Your Daughter's Heart When Greg Wright realized that he didn't have a clue who his daughter's best friend was, he decided to do something radical to reconnect. That's when the concept of dating his daughters took shape, and he's never looked back. Greg joins another fan of daddy-daughter dates, Rob and Joanna Teigen, to talk about the benefits and challenges of spending one-on-one time with their daughters.

Friday, February 5 — Connecting to Your Kids We have e-mail, cell phones, and Instagram. But some of the fondest memories in life are reserved for face-to-face time with those we love. That's why intentional dads Greg Wright and Rob Teigen decided to really get to know their daughters—their likes, dislikes, concerns, fears and passions—by taking them out for regular father-daughter dates. Greg, Rob, and Rob's wife, Joanna, tell how these special one-on-one times have increased the family fun and have built a bridge to their daughters' hearts that will last well into adulthood.

Tuesday, March 29 — Growing Up Wooden Obstacles represent a stop sign to some people. To others they're a stepping-stone to success. In an interview from 2002, Dennis Rainey talks with the late, legendary basketball coach John Wooden about what it was like growing up in the Midwest in the 1920s.

Wednesday, March 30 — Coaching Pressure A player is only as good as his coach. Legendary basketball coach John Wooden tells Dennis Rainey about the thrills and challenges of his highlight-filled coaching career in an interview from 2002.

Thursday, March 31 — Growing Up the Zeller Way You never forget your upbringing. Steve and Lorri Zeller reminisce about their childhood and fondly recall their days spent as high school sweethearts. Dating eventually led to marriage and then to raising a family of their own. The Zellers remember the fun of raising their three boys, who would all eventually go on to play in the NBA.

FOCUS ON THE FAMILY

Tuesday, January 26: Raising Kids with Healthy Boundaries - I You can raise kids that take responsibility for their actions, attitudes, and emotions. Dr. Henry Cloud shares practical ways you can set limits while still being a loving parent, and how you can raise kids that exhibit self-control.

Wednesday, January 27: Raising Kids with Healthy Boundaries - II You can raise kids that will lead balanced, productive, and fulfilling adult lives, but it all begins with setting boundaries! Dr. Henry Cloud shares how to motivate your child to action, and how you can avoid over-identifying with your child's pain.

FOCUS ON THE FAMILY

Thursday, January 21: Special Needs Children: How the Church Can Help - I You'll hear the dramatic story of one family's difficult journey with a special needs child. They routinely dealt with life-threatening seizures, constant disruption in their home, and serious challenges to their faith. Discover how God finally gave them His peace and comfort.

Friday, January 22: Special Needs Children: How the Church Can Help - II Special needs ministry may sound difficult or expensive. Many churches don't have the resources to handle disabled kids. A willingness to recruit volunteers and welcome these families with open doors can transform your church in amazing ways!

Tuesday, January 26: Raising Kids with Healthy Boundaries - I You can raise kids that take responsibility for their actions, attitudes, and emotions. Dr. Henry Cloud shares practical ways you can set limits while still being a loving parent, and how you can raise kids that exhibit self-control.

Wednesday, January 27: Raising Kids with Healthy Boundaries - II You can raise kids that will lead balanced, productive, and fulfilling adult lives, but it all begins with setting boundaries! Dr. Henry Cloud shares how to motivate your child to action, and how you can avoid over-identifying with your child's pain.

Monday, February 8: Establishing Healthy Boundaries with Your Teens - I Your teenager wants to get out on his own – but you're still the parent! Dr. John Townsend gives you tips for knowing how to balance your authority with your teen's desire for freedom. Learn to establish healthy boundaries with your teenager.

Tuesday, February 9: Establishing Healthy Boundaries with Your Teens – II One of the goals of parenting is for your child to embrace adulthood. Learn how to transition your child through the teenage years to maturity. Dr. John Townsend suggests reasonable ways to enjoy these final years of child-rearing as you give your teen more choices and freedoms - and grace, too.

Monday, March 28: Teaching Kids to Be Respectful - I With a little hard work and determination, you can raise children to become respectful adults who reach their God-given potential! You'll learn how to focus on your child's purpose and instill the virtue of respect, while avoiding some of the traps parents fall into.

Tuesday, March 29: Teaching Kids to Be Respectful - II Teaching your child to be respectful can have a lifelong impact. Author Jill Rigby Garner addresses the importance of focusing on your child's purpose— not performance—consistently sticking to boundaries, and using media discernment. You'll learn how to cultivate gratitude rather than entitlement in your child.

ISSUE SIX

Community involvement. The preceding issues were determined through phone calls from listeners, letters from listeners, and a "verbal" sampling of community leaders, and monitoring of other media sources (i.e. television, newspapers, etc.) As well as issues that have come to the attention of the American Family Association. Throughout this period, WAFR ran announcements for local churches, community groups and organizations to promote their events. These Community Clipboard announcements are in the public file.

ISSUE SEVEN

Government Involvement: Getting citizens involved in the system for a change.

The preceding issues were determined through phone calls from listeners, letters from listeners, and a "verbal" sampling of community leaders, and monitoring of other media sources (i.e. television, newspapers, etc.) As well as issues that have come to the attention of the American Family Association.

FOCUS ON THE FAMILY

Tuesday, January 19: Human Trafficking: What You Need to Know - I There's no nice way to put this—human trafficking is modern day slavery, and it's happening in your own "backyard." "Focus on the Family” reveals how children are being bought and sold, but not in the way you might think. Learn some of the tactics that abductors are using to lure even the smartest high school kids away from home—and find out how to make them safer.

Wednesday, January 20: Human Trafficking: What You Need to Know - II If your teenager were hanging out with a human trafficker, would you know the signs? We'll discuss the tactics that abductors use to enslave children, and not just in bad neighborhoods, but in your own “backyard.” Find out what’s being done to rescue victims and educate parents.

Monday, February 15: Practical Advice for Raising Responsible Children As well-meaning parents, we provide everything we can for our kids. But what if we’re missing what they need most? We’ll examine how dealing with failure, doing chores, and learning the value of hard work can benefit children in profound ways.

Wednesday, February 24: Speaking Up When the Culture Wants Silence - I Throughout history, there’s never been a time in America when Christians encountered so much opposition from those who disagree with our moral principles. Dr. Al Mohler explains how Christians and churches can live out our faith in a culture that doesn’t agree with our beliefs. Learn to speak love – and truth.

Thursday, February 25: Speaking Up When the Culture Wants Silence - II America has long been seen as having a “Christian” culture, but that’s no longer the case. Dr. Al Mohler describes the cultural and judicial changes that are causing believers to rethink the way we relate with non-Christians.

Tuesday, March 1: Fighting for a Stronger Marriage - I Did you know that fighting is...good for your marriage? Dr. Greg Smalley and his wife, Erin, explain how your differences can actually bring you closer, once you know how to fight the right way.

Wednesday, March 2: Fighting for a Stronger Marriage - II You just think you’re fighting with your spouse about money, work, or the kids. Dr. Greg Smalley and his wife, Erin, explain how your marital spats are actually rooted in a fear of being disrespected, taken for granted, or feeling powerless. Discover the source of your marital conflicts, and find solutions.
