Time Aired: 6:00 AM

Length: 15 min

TOPIC OF THIS SHOW: Arizona Primary
Election Update

ISSUE: #5 Government

George Braun joined Cody Beeson to discuss some of the important facts regarding the upcoming primary election in Arizona. The deadline to register to vote and request an early ballot is quickly approaching and if you need to do either of those, sooner is better than later. The county recorder's office and elections department has to deal with a lot of problematic ballots and you don't want yours to be one of those. If you are going to request an early ballot you need to get it turned in as soon as possible, otherwise your ballot may end up being a "late early" meaning it won't be counted until it can be verified later.

TOPIC OF THIS SHOW: CASA of Yuma
Guest: Cori Rico

ISSUE: #7 Community Service
Organizations

Cori Rico joined Cody Beeson to discuss the needs of Arizona's Children Association. Currently there is a great demand for foster homes for teens. In Yuma county the problem is to the point where many teenage children are forced to relocated to the Phoenix area until they become adults. Arizona Children Association wants to keep the teen in the community they know and the school and social environment they are used to. Arizona's Children Association is Arizona's best resource for helping children and families. Their programs target the type of future we all want to see: a future where every child has a safe and loving home and families are supported through difficult and trying circumstances. It is our commitment to provide a specifically tailored continuum of services to children and families in need. All programs are family focused, strength-based, and culturally sensitive and outcome driven.

TOPIC OF THIS SHOW: Summer Vehicle Maintenance

Guest: Russell McCloud

ISSUE: #8 Consumer Protection

Russell McCloud joined Cody Beeson in studio to discuss the importance of vehicle maintenance during the summer months. It is important to prepare for the summer differently than the winter months in Yuma, AZ. Russell wanted to remind the community of the importance of checking tire pressure, oil and coolant levels as well. If someone is experiencing their vehicle running hotter than normal, it could save them thousands of dollars to simply pull over when the heat is rising. Failing to do so is the most common reason for this type of preventable incident. In addition to keeping the vehicle cool and running properly, it is also a good idea to keep an extra gallon of water in your vehicle as well, especially during summer in Yuma.

TOPIC OF THIS SHOW: Drowning
Awareness
Guest: Mike Erfert

ISSUE: #6 Health

Yuma Fire Department Public Information Officer Mike Erfert joined Cody Beeson in the studio to discuss drowning awareness month and the simple but effective steps that can be taken to prevent childhood drowning. The first critical step is awareness at all times. You also want to have a physical barrier, such as a wall, gate or fence. Training and teaching your young children to swim is another critical component. Studies show the more comfortable children are around water, the less likely they are to have a drowning related accident. TOPIC OF THIS SHOW: Emergency
Preparedness
Guest: Mike Erfert

ISSUE: #6 Health

Yuma Fire Department Public Information Officer Mike Erfert joined Cody Beeson in the studio to discuss Emergency Preparedness month. September is National Emergency Preparedness month and it's the opportunity to bring awareness to the need for emergency preparedness. Example are things such as every family should have a plan for communication and connecting if an emergency were to happen. Every family should have a 72-hour kit for each member of their household. Also know where you have important documents in the event you need to evacuate quickly. Mike suggests having a way to purify water is among the most important items to have in your kit. In the event of an emergency, 3 days worth of water and food is suggested. Mike published information about building your own kit. You can find that and more on the website. ISSUE: #8 Consumer Protection

Shawn Garner from the Deason Garner Law Firm stopped by the station to discuss an important consumer awareness topic. One that he sees often in the estate planning area. That is out of date planning and life insurance. The mission of Shawn Garner is to educate the community about the important issues regarding life planning, wills, trusts, etc. Today he discussed the awareness of out of date life insurance. Many times our small life insurance policy is a sleeping giant, however, a growing number of adults are unaware what their options are or how the process works. The Better Business Bureau's John Hessinger; who is the community representative for the pacific region was able to stop by the studio to bring awareness to the scams that are currently going on in the Yuma community. Currently the most common scam that the BBB is hearing about is a telephone-based scam where the con impersonates a government body, utility company or the IRS. The BBB reminds everyone if they receive a call to take down any details and call back after doing your own due diligence. Also never give any payment information over the phone. In addition to the telephone scams the BBB hears reports of more door-to-door scams appearing now that the community's winter visitor population is growing for the season. Remember if a door-to-door salesman stops at your door; ask to see their city business licenses. For more information please visit BBB.org

Call Letters: KBW-AM

QUARTERLY ISSUES REPORT, JULY-SEPTEMBER, 2018

Disc # 2018-26

Date aired: 6/30/18 Time Aired: 6:30AM

Barry Schwartz, PhD, Professor of Psychology at Swarthmore College, author of "Why We Work"

Dr. Schwartz discussed his research that examined why Americans work. He said the reasons are surprising and complex, but that the need for a paycheck is not the primary factor. He discussed the most common trends and patterns that lead to happiness in the workplace, and how employers can try to improve productivity and employee satisfaction.

Issues covered:

Length: 9:27

Workplace Matters

Mental Health

William MacAskill, PhD, Associate Professor in Philosophy at Oxford University, cofounder of the nonprofit organizations Giving What We Can and 80,000 Hours, author of "Doing Good Better: How Effective Altruism Can Help You Make a Difference"

Dr. MacAskill said Americans often base their decisions on where to donate money and what career to pursue on emotions and false assumptions. He outlined five key questions that may help consumers make wiser altruistic decisions. He explained how to use evidence and careful reasoning to chart the best course to help others.

Issues covered:

Length: 7:58

Charitable Giving

Consumer Matters

Career

Katie Liljenquist, Assistant Professor of Organizational Leadership and Strategy at Brigham Young University's Marriott School of Management, expert in behavior and decision making

Prof. Liljenquist led a study that found that the smell of cleaning products can make people act more virtuous. She explained the reasons behind the behavioral changes. She also talked about potential ways to smells could be used to reduce societal problems such as crime or vandalism.

Issues covered:

Length: 4:57

Health

Parenting Issues

Show # 2018-27

Date aired: 7/7/18 Time Aired: 6:30AM

Alvin E. Roth, PhD, Craig and Susan McCaw Professor of Economics at Stanford University, Gund Professor of Economics and Business Administration Emeritus at Harvard University, author of "Who Gets What — and Why: The New Economics of Matchmaking and Market Design"

Dr. Roth is one of the world's leading experts on matching markets, where "sellers" and "buyers" must choose each other, and price isn't the only factor that determines who gets what. He explained how market designs affect many less obvious aspects of life, such as the chances of getting a job or whether a university accepts a prospective student.

Issues covered:

Length: 9:17

Economics

Career

Education

Joel Kahn, MD, Clinical Professor of Medicine at Wayne State University School of Medicine and Director of Cardiac Wellness, Michigan Healthcare Professionals PC, author of "The Whole Heart Solution"

According to Dr. Kahn, more than 75 percent of cases of heart attacks, strokes and other cardiovascular disease events are preventable. He explained how lifestyle choices can make a huge difference in the development of heart disease and he said changes in diet and exercise can often reverse the disease.

Issues covered:

Length: 8:01

Personal Health

Paul Tough, former editor at the New York Times Magazine, nationally recognized writer on poverty, education and the achievement gap

Mr. Tough discussed a groundbreaking anti-poverty initiative called the Harlem Children's Zone. The creator of the program theorized that in order for poor kids to compete with their middle-class peers, everything in their lives—their schools, neighborhoods, parenting practices—all must be changed at once.

Issues covered:

Length: 5:00

Poverty

Education

Minority Concerns

Parenting

Disc # 2018-28

Date aired: 7/14/18 Time Aired: 6:30AM

Elizabeth Wallace, co-author of "The Ambition Decisions: What Women Know About Work, Family, and the Path to Building a Life"

Over the last sixty years, women's roles at home and on the job have radically changed, and the question of whether they can really "have it all" is still debated. Ms. Wallace outlined three distinct paths where a woman's life and career choices may lead. She talked about the importance of the support of husbands when ambitious women move into high-level corporate positions. She offered advice for women who are facing today's complex career choices.
