		Clearview, Diane also speaks with the cold case investigator involved in the search, Gloria Coppola. The interview concludes with Mary Lyall talking about the recent rescue of three women who were held captive in Cleveland and the Center for Hope that she and her husband created after their daughter Suzanne went missing from Albany.
GOVERNMENT	CLEARVIEW - ARREST RATES	Young men are being arrested at an astonishing rate, according to a study published in the journal Crime and Delinquency. Excluding arrests for minor traffic violation, national data shows half of black males, and 40% of white males are arrested by the age of 23. UAlbany Criminal Justice professor Shawn Bushway collaborated on the study. He talks about the methodology of the study, as well as findings regarding the rates of arrests for Hispanics and for young women. While the purpose of the study is to create a measurement, Bushway does talk about what some of the take-aways might come from looking at the numbers. He asks why is the arrest rate so different for men of different races but not much different for women of different races? Bushway talks about how Zero Tolerance policies at schools may have contributed to the rates. He says at around age 23 most men age-out of the behaviors that are more likely to lead to arrests. Bushway also says society may need to reframe its opinion of people who have been arrested, but not convicted. With so many experiencing at least one arrest in a lifetime, it is hard to imagine they are all potential criminals.	SHAWN BUSHWAY	12/14/2014 07:02 PM	013:58
