Issue Description:	Program Segment	Date/Time:	Duration:	Description of Segment
Relationships	License to Parent	1/1/2022 / 5:31 AM	0:01:00	We hear a lot today about not being over-protective parents, and that natural consequences are the best teachers. However, there are times when we simply cannot be protective enough. Wouldn't we take car keys away from a drunk? Like the drunk, a teenager's executive brain function isn't optimal. It's still years away from being fully developed. I'm all about natural consequences. But some consequences are too great a risk when an ounce of prevention can be worth a pound of cure.
Relationships	License to Parent	1/5/2022 / 4:10 PM	0:01:00	It's been said that fear isn't the best motivator. However, like shame, it can still be a motivator. The Bible says that the fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge and the beginning of wisdom. Fear is just the beginning of these things. It's not the whole and it is certainly not the end. Our kids need love, training, encouragement, a secure environment to foster emotional health. But a healthy fear of us may be just the thing that keeps our kids from a dangerous or evil deed.
Relationships	License to Parent	1/12/2022 / 4:10 PM	0:01:00	I was watching television when a man quoted wise sayings of his father, who had only a third-grade education. Here are just a few of those saying: "How you do anything is how you should do everything." "It's never wrong to do the right thing." "Make sure your servant's towel is bigger than your ego." "You haven't lost hope, just perspective. How can you lose what God gave you?" There are people with PhDs who could learn from this gentleman. They could help bring encouragement, contentment, success, and value to their students."
Relationships	License to Parent	1/21/2022 / 7:41 AM	0:01:00	What is Reality? A common misconception is that science trumps religion because science has reality on its side. However, science only has physical reality on its side. Things like love, hate, intentions, or ideas are all just as real as anything we can prove physically. For example, every physical creation had to first be someone's idea, right? So like God himself, we have overwhelming evidence for the reality of the metaphysical also.

Relationships	License to Parent	2/2/2022 / 4:10 PM	0:01:00	What do you feel about God? Feelings can lead to false views of God. We live in a time where feelings are considered the final arbiters of truth. Anything causing discomfort isn't received very well anymore. There is nothing evil or unloving about a God who can be angered. Psalm 7:11 is one of many verses that speak to this truth. It says, "God is a righteous judge, a God who expresses his wrath every day." We do no one any favors when we fail to acknowledge this attribute of God.
Relationships	License to Parent	2/11/2022 / 7:46 AM	0:01:00	There's some concern that besides being tech wizards, today's kids aren't handy at much else. I'm not saying to urge your children towards a vocation they don't like, but it's ok to make your kids build or fix things around the house once in a while. Show them how to use a hammer, a screwdriver or a wrench, and then let them go to town. You're equipping them with basic do-it-yourself skills. Who knows, they may even enjoy it.
Relationships	Real Family Life - Dennis Rainey	2/16/2022 / 2:06 PM	0:01:30	Do your children have a realistic view of alcohol abuse? He took two of his teenagers with him to an Alcoholics Anonymous meeting. They heard people give testimonies, often in tears, about how alcohol had destroyed their lives and how much they needed God to release them from their addiction. An indelible image was etched in his children's minds. Drinking is often portrayed as fun and glamorous. Our children need to develop an accurate picture of what alcohol abuse can do to a life.
Relationships	Real Family Life - Dennis Rainey	2/23/2022 / 2:07 PM	0:01:30	It's easy for a teen's schedule to get out of control. There's an exercise that you can do to help your child realize that too much activity is a problem. Start by having your child hold a table knife with some kernels of corn on the blade and ask him to balance it. Then have him keep it in place and start writing a note with the other hand. Begin adding other activities until your child can't handle them all at once. After you've both had a good laugh, talk about how the exercise relates to a life that's too busy. Parents are responsible to keep a watchful eye on their schedule and to help them maintain balance.
Relationships	License to Parent	3/2/2022 / 7:10 AM	0:01:00	Should what you teach your kids about America focus on divisions we see now and America's worst? Or do we judge by the heart of what America's always been? Our kids need to know the whole truth. Certainly, we've made mistakes. The fact that America recognizes her mistakes and works to make them right should tell all of us something very profound about this country. It's why folks from other countries flood our borders. Bob Woodson, a black man, said "America is a country of redemption."

Relationships	Real Family Life - Dennis Rainey	3/10/2022 / 2:06 PM	0:01:30	When people look at your marriage, are they seeing the love of God? I took a picture one day, of mountains from the edge of a lake. The water was perfectly still and it acted like a mirror. When I look at that picture, I think of God's purpose for marriage: to mirror God's image. A successful Christian marriage provides a vivid model of God's love and His character. Protect it from sin that can distort the image of God. The world is desperate to see God's love reflected by you.
Relationships	Our Daily Bread	3/18/2022 / 7:15 AM	0:02:00	Unable to fit his tea in the cupholder, a pilot put it on the console and turbulence made it spill - making an engine shut down. Two months later it happened again, on a different airline to a different pilot. Small details can wreck the best plans. This is also true of relationships - it is often the little details that derails relationships. May God help us to ask for and grant forgiveness and nourish ordinary acts of thoughtfulness to those we interact with.
Relationships	Real Family Life - Dennis Rainey	3/23/2022 / 2:05 PM	0:01:30	When was the last time you shared your faith? "I believe the last time I shared my faith was on an airplane trip and my seatmate and I were discussing things of the world, and we talked about faith and I shared a testimony." Who do you know that needs to hear the gospel today? Don't wait!
Relationships	Our Daily Bread	3/31/2022 / 7:17 AM	0:01:30	Ludmilla, a 82 year old widow, has made her home "an extension of Christ's kingdom" by welcoming strangers and friends who are in need - with loving hospitality, by providing food and a place to sleep - always with a compassionate and prayerful spirit. Serving others with humility is one way we can be representatives of the Kingdom of heaven. We can put the needs of others before our own in creative ways. How can I extend God's kingdom today?

That's a promise in the Bible: the Lord will hear us. In your anger do not sin. When you're on your beds search your hearts and be silent. You have to make a decision to move the world out of your brain and your system. Ask forgiveness and for God's peace and tranquility so your sleep might be sweet. God can give you godly dreams. May Your eyes see what is right." verse 5 says "My steps have held to Your path. My feet have not slipped."

Biblical Education	Our Daily Bread	3/22/2022 / 7:17 AM	0:02:00	Starting where people are and keeping evangelism simple can be an effective way to share Christ. Philip demonstrated this when he met the treasurer of Ethiopia who was reading aloud from Isaiah. Philip asked if the man understood what he was reading - then shared the good news about Jesus, when invited to explain. The Ethiopian believed, was baptised and went joyfully on his way.
Biblical Education	Heartbeat - Salvation Army	3/29/2022 / 8:44 PM	0:01:00	A well-designed anchor is shaped like a very heavy shovel. When it reaches the seabed, a ship drags the anchor as it digs deeper and deeper into the sand. Larger ships have multiple anchors in case they have to cut one of them loose. In Hebrews 6, it says 'we have this hope as an anchor for the soul'. Every promise God has made is an anchor. Our hope is dug into our heavenly father, firm and secure.

Community	Faith Matters in Maine	2/23/2022 / 8:18 PM	0:01:00	The Christian Civic League's number one issue for this legislative session is to stop an attempt to memorialize a woman's right to an abortion in our state constitution. The bill is LD 344, also deceptively known as 'The Equal Rights Amendment'. Last week LD 344 fell short of the number of votes necessary to move this legislation forward. Thank you to those who asked your legislators to vote no on the ERA, or showed up as advocates in the halls of the capitol on the day of the vote.
Community	Faith Matters in Maine	3/2/2022 / 4:04 AM	0:01:00	The Christian Civic League and the Life Coalition are celebrating another defeat of the so-called 'Equal Rights Amendment' here in Maine. As we've advocated against this deceptively labeled legislation, which would potentially memorialize abortion rights and redefine sex and gender in our Constitution, we have been confident the bill would be stopped in the House of Representatives. Last week the Senate Republicans stood up against this bill and sent it to its death throes. A couple of procedural votes remain. Thanks to all who contacted your legislators.
Community	Faith Matters in Maine	3/8/2022 / 2:10 PM	0:01:00	Part of the Church Ambassador Network is creating opportunities for pastors to invest in the lives of our leaders through prayer and scriptural encouragement, with visits to the capitol. Community	Faith Matters in Maine	3/22/2022 / 4:04 AM	0:01:00	There are several bills attempting to expand gambling in Maine. The Christian Civic League is against gambling because it's a destructive, multi-billion dollar industry that leaves a wake of bankruptcies, divorces and suicides wherever it does business. The state is playing its own citizens for suckers, so we can repair our roads, build our schools and fix our bridges. Don't be confused with these attempts to wrap in patriotism, racial equity or claims of prosperity. Go to CCLMaine.org and fill out a form to send an email to your legislator.
