

Dear Station,

Pursuant to the Children's Television Act of 1990, "LIVING GREENER" will satisfy the FCC Children's programming requirement and can be classified as either core or non-core programming. "LIVING GREENER" serves the educational and informational needs of children 13 to 16 years of age with its program content, including the importance of understanding our environment and showcasing the latest innovations to help make the planet more eco-friendly. The series travels around the world to show how people and nations are addressing today's environmental problems and how they are seeking solutions.

"LIVING GREENER" as delivered is formatted to allow for no more than 14 minutes of total commercial time per broadcast hour (7 minutes per half-hour). "LIVING GREENER" does not display any Internet web site address or host selling during or adjacent to the program, and is otherwise in compliance with Sections 73.670(a) through (d) of the Commission's Rules.

To facilitate your FCC filings, episode synopses are available on line at our website, www.telcoproductions.com. Also available on-line are testimonials from our educational advisory review board, consisting of educators and other professionals who have reviewed the series (see the following letters for details).

If you have any other questions, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

Dear Alex,

I have reviewed several episodes of the program "LIVING GREENER" and I am confident that it meets the educational and informational needs of children 13 to 16 years of age with its program content. The series features stories on the environment and explores solutions to making planet earth greener. Stories range from how solar power is helping African villagers to using hydrogen cars to monitoring greenhouse gases. The series expands a teenager viewer's knowledge of the environment and how other people around the world are dealing with such issues as pollution and other environmental problems. At the same time, the series examines current and future eco-friendly ideas and practices.

"LIVING GREENER" is educational, informative and entertaining, while providing teen viewers with specific examples of showing how people from various places are trying to live greener.

Sincerely,
