NOTE: ABC Sports programs may necessitate the pre-emption or re-scheduling of various news feeds.

ABC NEWS PROGRAMS – Third Quarter, 2013

PT: WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

When you think no one is watching...what would you do? The popular ABC News series, Called "a Candid Camera of Ethics" by The Columbia Journalism Review, returns with all-new scenarios.

Friday, July 5, 2013

- Women in Business: What would you do if you witnessed a job interview at a cafŽ where the male manager tells a younger female interviewee that she will not be hired because of her gender? Will any customers stand up for the female job-seeker? "Shark Tank" judge Barbara Corcoran guest stars. (OAD 9/14/12)
- Food for the Homeless: When a waiter/bartender refuses to serve a homeless man, even though another woman leaves money to cover his food bill, will anyone intervene? (OAD 9/14/12)
- Super Sour Sixteen: How will fellow shoppers react when a bratty and entitled girl throws a fit at a dress shop because she hates her custom-made Sweet 16 dress? (OAD 9/14/12)
- Sandwich Board Kids: Recently some parents have been turning to a controversial form of punishment: making their kids wear a sandwich board that describes their offense (from stealing to smoking to doing drugs) on a public street. Will any bystanders intervene? (OAD 9/14/12)
- Careless Pharmacist: What would you do if you saw a pharmacist loudly disclosing potentially embarrassing information regarding a prescription pick-up about someone waiting in line? Will anyone tell our loudmouthed pharmacist to tone it down? (OAD 5/11/12)

Friday, July 12, 2013

- Boy Manicure: What would you do if you saw a mom taking her young son for a manicure and someone was criticizing her for doing such a "girlie" activity? What if it was the dad objecting?
- Drive Thru: What would you do for a fast food freebie? From asking customers to perform jumping jacks to singing your order – how long before this unique drive thru experience forces you to drive off?
- Wedding Cake: What would you do if you saw a lesbian couple being denied a wedding cake at a bakery because the owner doesn't believe in gay marriage?
- Insult Comic: What would you do if you were at a comedy show and one of the comedians was insulting audience members, including two overweight women and an older man with an attractive young Asian woman. (OAD: 10/12/12)

Friday, July 19, 2013

- Open Car: A man walks down a sidewalk, checking the handle on every parked car in his path, until he gets to our staged unlocked car. He then leans in, rummages around, and starts to take items from the car. Will anyone confront him on his blatant attempt at theft? What will happen if the thief is African American or a woman?
- The Cool Dad: At a liquor store, a father is buying his teenage son alcohol for a party with his friends. Will anyone confront the dad or tell the store manager? (OAD: 10/5/12)
- Daughter Diet: Will anyone dining in a restaurant intervene when they witness a mother restricting what her young daughter can eat, saying that the daughter is getting too heavy and must slim down? (OAD: 10/19/12)
- Vintage Bottle: When a clumsy customer accidentally breaks a very rare, expensive bottle of wine and pretends she has nothing to do with it, even placing the blame on other customers, will anyone in the store speak up? What if the clumsy customer casts the blame on a store employee who does not speak English? (OAD: 10/12/12)

WOULD YOU FALL FOR THAT?

From the creators of What Would You Do? comes Would You Fall For That? - a one hour, unscripted show that takes eye-opening and head-scratching psychological experiments out of the classroom and into the real world. Anchored by Nick Watt.

Friday, July 26, 2013 (Season Premiere)

- Photo Swap/Change Blindness: Under the right circumstances our brains are wired to be blind to changes happening right in front of our eyes. Using only a digital camera, a large cardboard sign and some helpful passersby, "Would You Fall for That?" gives this scientific principle a real-world test. Watch as people agree to snap a photo of our bearded host, Scott, only to end up taking a picture of clean-shaven Nick -- without ever spotting the switch! And what if Scott and Sasheer switch places? Or a picture of Scott and Sasheer becomes a three-shot of Scott, Sasheer and Nick? Will anyone even notice?
- Bird in a Tree/Foot in the Door Theory: "Foot in the door" theory says that if you start small, you can gradually get people to do more and more outlandish things. Really? How outlandish? "Would You Fall for That?" takes flight to New York's Central Park to find out. Scott, dressed as a bird watcher, stops random park goers and tells them he's spotted a ridiculously rare bird in a tree. What he doesn't tell them is he bought the stuffed bird and wired it to the tree. Using "foot in the door technique," Scott sees how far out on a limb he can get people as he asks them to perform more and more bizarre things in an effort to attract the attention of our Bird in A Tree.
- Horoscope/The Forer Effect, Subjective Validation: How many people will believe that a generic horoscope, cut and pasted from several newspapers over 60 years ago by a psychology professor, is meant just for them? Why do horoscopes have such a powerful impact on people? To find out, Nick Watt disguises himself as a famous astrologer from London and "reads" the horoscopes of six random people who believe they'll be on a pilot for a new TV show. Will they fall for it? And how will they react when we tell them the truth? Cameras are rolling for their surprising reactions.

Friday, August 2, 2013

- Power Drink/The Placebo Effect: Will beachgoers feel stronger and more energetic after drinking what they are told is an energy drink that is actually nothing more than club soda? "Would You Fall for That?" tests their strength, before and after drinking the placebo drink, on the classic carnival game, the High Striker.
- Marry a Stranger/Obedience: How far will people go just because they're told to do something? Could "Would You Fall for That?" actually get someone off the street to marry a stranger?
- Celebrity/Follow the Crowd: Social science tells us that, in situations where people are unsure of what to do, they generally just follow along with the crowd. We test this theory by dressing Sasheer up like a pop icon and bringing her to Times Square, accompanied by fake fans and fake paparazzi. Will the fake hype generate real hype? Will people believe she is a superstar simply because we've made her look like one?
- Lost Dog: If you were given a "Lost Dog" flyer, do you think you'd recognize the same dog if he was standing 50 feet away? What if the dog is dressed in a Elvis Presley costume?

Friday, August 9, 2013

- anchors Away: Nick Watt is playing an all familiar role of a news anchor. Yet, this time, there is a catch. Can he convince unsuspecting passersby in Washington Square Park in New York that he needs them to sit in for his expert who is running late? How far can Nick push their limits?
- Change Blindness: People often fail to notice change when it happens right in front of them. To demonstrate, "Would You Fall for That?" tests visitors to the Intrepid aircraft carrier to see if they will notice when we switch out one person for another after participating in a power of memory experiment.
- Stop Eating: What would you do if an authority figure came between you and your lunch? Would you put on a suit jacket to eat at a hot dog joint? Would you stop eating a sandwich mid-bite just because a red light told you not to eat? "Would You Fall for That?" tests to see if people will obey authority figures even in the most absurd circumstances.
- Dirty Diaper: Social science tells us that when the price tag is zero, rational behavior goes out the window. So "Would You Fall for That?" set out to test the power of "free" to its very limits, setting up a promotional event giving away free ice cream to passersby in a Brooklyn park. The catch? All the chocolate ice cream you can eat as long as you eat it from a “recycled” diaper. Will people really take anything for free?

- Designated Lanes: What if a fake park ranger asks pedestrians to walk on one side of the bridge because of their hair color, relationship status or height? Will people obey his outrageous orders just because he is an authority figure?
- Elevator: Will people conform to group dynamics? If we face the back of the elevator, will they do the same? What if we start dancing? Or sit on the floor? “Would You Fall for That?” tests the Asch Paradigm to see how far people will go to feel like a member of the group.

LOSING IT

From road rage, athletes gone wild and unbelievable courtroom shenanigans to a successful doctor who keeps making headlines for alleged violence against women, this week everybody is "Losing It" (OAD: 6/22/12)

Friday, July 12, 2013

A SHOT IN THE DARK

It's been the burning question in a murder case that has polarized the country - what exactly happened when teenager Trayvon Martin was shot dead after a fatal encounter with 28-year-old George Zimmerman? Was it murder or self-defense? The case comes to a close after a heated three-week trial that presented the jury with two wildly different versions of events. From inside the courtroom and interviews with key players, ABC News' Matt Gutman reports the latest and most in-depth information from the trial.

I ESCAPED MY LIFE

Eric Myers seemed to have it all...so what would cause him to go missing on a business trip and literally disappear from his life and his family for more than 15 years? Was it a kidnapping? Amnesia? Was there another woman? In this dramatic and surprising story, Deborah Roberts uncovers exclusive details of how Myers allowed his own wife and kids to think he was dead for so long, and what he did while he was away.

Friday, July 26, 2013

DUNWOOD DAY CARE TRIAL

Andrea Sneiderman claims she's a grieving wife whose obsessed boss loved her enough to kill her husband, Rusty Sneiderman. But Sneiderman's family has long insisted that she was the master manipulator behind the murder plot. This week "20/20" covers stunning developments in the case, known as the Dunwoody Day Care trial, which has captured national attention.

Friday, August 2, 2013

THE NAKED TRUTH

- Too Attractive to Work: After working as a dental assistant for 10 years, 32 year-old Melissa Nelson was fired by her dentist boss for being too attractive. Dr. James Knight, who is married, said that he felt Ms. Nelson's beauty was simply too tempting and presented a threat to his marriage. But Nelson was not about to take this reverse form of beauty bias lying down. She sued Knight for gender discrimination. The all-male Iowa Supreme Court would make a surprising decision, not once, but twice. Paula Faris reports.
- The Tongue Patch Diet: A Long Beach cosmetic surgeon is helping patients lose weight by sewing a patch onto their tongues. The postage stamp-sized patch is abrasive, making it so painful to eat solid foods that the patient can only consume liquids. Promising to help shed 20 pounds in 30 days. ABC News Correspondent Cecilia Vega reports.
- Six Pack Abs in 60 Minutes: You know those too-good-to-be-true before and after weight-loss photos we see on TV? Famed personal trainer Andrew Dixon had everybody talking last week by demonstrating that the secret to body transformation on film was just a few lighting tweaks and grooming tools. "20/20" put Dixon's tactics to the test.
- Charity Angels: The old adage "sex sells" apparently holds true even for charity fundraising, as Los Angeles-based company Charity Angels only hires attractive women in a bid to get wealthy men to part with their cash at philanthropic events -- from golf tournaments to black tie galas and cancer fundraisers. Chris Connelly reports.

Friday, August 9, 2013

- One of the Luckiest Men Alive: David Hayes of Columbus Ohio knows a bit about luck - good and bad. Last October he went on an incredible streak playing blackjack at an Ohio casino, walking away with $36,000 in cash. But some thugs were watching him. He awoke in his bed at home hours later with three armed men pointing a gun at his head, stealing his winnings. Hayes returned to the same casino and in subsequent visits won back all that money again. So, is it skill, karma, or blessed good fortune? Deborah Roberts reports.

- Pennies From Heaven: What it's like to suddenly get a pile of cash dumped on you, when you weren't expecting it in the least? Just ask actors Kevin Brophy and Peter Barton, former stars of the Young and the Restless, who so entertained Illinoisan Ray Fulk that he left them a $1 million estate. Amy Robach reports.
- Lucky to be Alive: When expert skydiver Craig Stapleton jumped from a plane in March, it was routine until his main parachute didn't deploy and even his back-up chute got stuck in its strings. Stapleton believed he was living the final two minutes of his life while he plummeted to earth from 8,000 feet in the sky. Matt Gutman reports on a very lucky man.
- Make Your Own Luck: Can you make yourself lucky? Ty Igodmind of West Palm Beach thinks you can -- especially if you buy his IGodMind brain programming videos, which he says uses binaural beats and hypnotic visuals to help your subconscious absorb "positive subliminal programming" and make yourself a better receptor for good fortune. Dan Harris speaks with Ty and a hypnotist about their approaches to attracting good luck.
- Superstitions: We all know rationally that walking under a ladder isn't really bad luck, and that rabbit's feet don't bring good fortune. Yet many of us still practice these superstitions anyway. Jay Schadler conducts some social experiments with skeptic Tom Shermer.

FAMOUS PARENTS, FAMOUS PROBLEMS

- Kid Stalkerazzi: Nick Watt reports on Halle Berry and Jennifer Garner's emotional testimony in front of the California legislature this week as they described their encounters with the relentless paparazzi that make no excuses for their endless pursuit of celebrity kids. Nick Watt goes on a lively joy-ride with a well-noted paparazzo to see first-hand how they hunt their pint-sized celebrity prey.
- Custody Battles: Hollywood Style: Usher's ex-wife Tameka Raymond sits down for an exclusive interview about her son's recent near-drowning accident and her strategy to establish full child custody. Dan Abrams reports on the very public and ugly collateral damage that is caused when celebrity kids take center stage in a grizzly battle of tug of war.
- That's My Boy!: What happens when a celebrity donates his sperm and then decides he wants to raise a child? A lot of tabloid headlines -- and maybe even precedent-setting legislation -- get written. Actor Jason Patric opens up to David Muir in a new interview about his struggle to be not just a donor, but a father to his son Gus.
- Kids Tweet the Darndest Things: For a generation of celebrity kids who have no filter, social media is the new public confessional. From Paris Jackson's online breakdown to Arnold Schwarzenegger's son tweeting about his own father's extra-marital affair and celebrity kids outing the real-life excess of their parents' lives on Instagram -- their parents may be the Hollywood stars, but these kids know how to find and shock their own audience. Chris Connelly reports.

HIGHWAYS FROM HELL

- GPS Astray: How much do you trust your GPS navigator? It might be much less after hearing this tale. In July 2010, Donna Cooper, her daughter, Gina, and their friend, Jenny Leung, took a wrong turn in Death Valley. Turning to their GPS for navigation, things quickly went downhill -- and off the beaten trail. With no cell phone signal or paper maps, the women had no idea they were driving into one of the most remote and unforgiving corners of the 3.5 million acre desert. Jay Schadler reports their harrowing ordeal. (OAD 3/15/13)
- Pileup: Matt and Catie Stegmoyer and their two children were driving along a Texas highway last Thanksgiving when they found themselves in the middle of a deadly 118 vehicle pileup. But the Stegmoyers were able to walk away unscathed largely because they ignored conventional wisdom about what to do in a traffic accident. John Quiñones reports. (OAD: 4/26/13)
- Hit and Run: Inside the LAPD's Hit and Run Investigations Unit, cops use the latest forensic techniques and caught-in-the-act video to track down hit and run drivers in the country's deadliest city for pedestrians. Cecilia Vega reports.
- Truckers: Jim Avila report on the sights, the sounds and the smells of life on the road as one of America's long-haul truckers.
- Dead Man's Curve: John Quiñones lets you know if you're driving on one of the nation's most notorious and dangerous highways every day.

- Drive Home Alive: Mudslides, downed wires, avalanches, flash floods, earthquakes... ABC News Correspondent Gio Benitez with a how-to survival guide to best handle potentially deadly roadside scenarios.

MR. RIGHT on MATCH.com

Those who date online might expect a certain amount of innocent fudging in others' profiles; there's always the risk of encountering a liar. But police say when Jeffrey Marsalis created his Match.com profile, his intentions were far less innocent than getting a date. He wasn't just a conman. Cops and criminal prosecutors say he may have been the worst date-rapist in the nation's history. David Muir updates an investigation into the man who called himself "Dr. Jeff. (OAD: 7/15/09)

Friday, September 6, 2013 (Season Premiere)

SNEAKING SUSPICIONS

Does Michael Wohlschlaeger have terrible luck or is there something more at play in the sudden death of his fifth wife, Shirley Seitz? Seitz died in 2010 from a blunt force head injury. Yet the manner of death was undetermined. And that's not all... 33 years earlier, Wohlschlaeger's first wife, Lynn, died at the age of 25 after choking on a cough drop, and his third wife, Gloria Potts, now alleges that he tried to harm her during their marriage, which ended nearly two decades ago. Jim Avila reports.

Friday, September 13, 2013

SMALL TOWN SCANDAL

Former Mayor Linda Lusk and her husband Kevin Lusk, were one of the most respected couples in Prosser, Washington. Linda was accused of having inappropriate contact with a 14-year-old high school student who also happened to be her daughter's ex-boyfriend. After a police investigation, the once golden couple was under siege. Linda admits that what started out as a maternal and nurturing relationship with the boy, turned terribly. But how much of the story was true? David Muir updates a report with an exclusive new surprising interview with Linda.

Friday, September 20, 2013

- Bulldozer: What would drive a Port Angeles, Washington man to destroy his neighbor's property with a bulldozer? Jay Schadler reports on the ultimate neighbor nightmare, including exclusive video of the unbelievable act in progress.
- Neighbor From Hell: Lori Christensen made it her mission to ruin the lives of Kim and Greg Hoffman's lives. Her brand of terror was wide ranging. She had agreed to plead guilty to violating a harassment restraining order and receive 10 years probation and "stay away" order that would have kept her out of her house for a decade. Last week she submitted a motion to withdraw her guilty plea, suggesting it had been coerced. Amy Robach reports.
- Nextdoor.com: It's billed as a customized social network for individual neighborhoods – a way to connect, to problem-solve, even to fight crime. Nextdoor.com is a high-tech neighborhood watch, where neighbors can post personal observations and security cam images. But is it also just another way to gossip or to spy? Nick Watt reports.
- A Lethal Line in the Sand: Matt Gutman reports the tale of two neighbors...a do-gooder who devoted his life to helping children and the elderly, and the other, an intellectual, an inventor, and immigrant carving out his American dream. Neither of them are magnets for trouble. So how does one of them end up in jail and the other in the morgue over bushes that separated their homes?

Friday, September 27, 2013

BETRAYAL

- Remeo Jo Lee had always dreamed of becoming a mom. Earlier this year, she was thrilled when she became pregnant with the baby of her boyfriend John Andrew Welden, a medical student and the son of a prominent gynecologist. But what happened next is unthinkable. Lee lost the baby after Welden deliberately switched her medication without her knowledge. In an exclusive network interview, she speaks candidly to Elizabeth Vargas.
- Who killed family man, churchgoer and former marine Randy Stone? It was a mystery that baffled the community members who turned up for the funeral and listened to David Love give a stirring, heart-felt eulogy. But mourners weren't the only ones in attendance... detectives were there as well, because they believed the killer might be attending the funeral.

20/20 SATURDAY

Saturday, July 6, 2013

- The Bling Ring: There's a new brat pack in Hollywood, and police say it's comprised of teenagers hungry for celebrity status. The man at the center of this accused group of teen burglars, known as the infamous "bling ring," sits down with ABC News to talk about the details of their alleged crimes. (OAD 3/5/10)
- How Well Do You Know Your BFF: A small town girl leaves Washington for the glitz and glamour of Los Angeles. Like so many other Hollywood hopefuls, Meili Cady hoped to make it big on the silver screen, but the 19-year-old also longed for friendship. One day the aspiring actress was introduced to Lisette Lee, a wealthy young socialite, Meili struggled to make ends meet - until her good friend proposed the perfect solution -- take a position as her executive assistant. The job seemed simple enough. As Elizabeth Vargas reports, Meili says she had no idea that her troubles were just beginning... she had become a drug trafficker. (OAD 3/29/13)

Saturday, July 13, 2013

- The Performers: Theresa Caputo is your average suburban mom -- with one major exception: she says she talks to dead people. In the last several years she has parlayed her "sixth sense" into stardom with her hit TLC show, "Long Island Medium." There is rarely a moment when Theresa is not describing messages from spirits she says are looking to connect with their loved ones in the physical world.
- The Power of Premonitions: Have you ever had a gut feeling or a hunch that later came true? You may have actually experienced a premonition. Elizabeth Vargas meets people who say they've experienced the two most likely types.
- Proof of Heaven: Five years ago neurosurgeon Dr. Eben Alexander contracted a brain infection that brought him to the brink of death. So close, in fact, that he believes he went to Heaven. But Heaven apparently wasn't ready for Dr. Alexander. He survived, and shares his tale and his No. 1 bestselling book, Proof of Heaven, with Vargas.
- Animal Premonitions: "20/20" looks at the sixth sense and predictive abilities of animals. Jay Schadler reports.
- Do You Have the Gift?: Laura Day believes she has the power of premonitions and has turned it into a lucrative career as a psychic advisor to major corporations -- advising them on everything from hiring decisions to investments and mergers. How and why do some people have this ability?

SIXTH SENSE

When nothing adds up and a gut feeling is all you have, forget about your five senses... what you really need is the sixth sense. Featuring an interview with "Long Island Medium" Theresa Caputo, who says she can communicate with the dead, "The Sixth Sense," is anchored by Elizabeth Vargas.

Saturday, August 10, 2013

- How Well Do You Know Your Boyfriend?: Do you think you know your new boyfriend? Do you think saying, "Maybe we should just be friends" is the way to end it and just walk away? Soraida Hicks says to think again. David Muir reports. (OAD: 3/29/13)
- Looking for Love: From a professional cuddling service to make-out parties, Dan Harris reports on the crazy and sometimes extreme tactics people do to seek love and affection in today's hectic world.
- Sniff Your Way to Love: It's the new trend in the world of dating that's spreading throughout the country -- Pheromone Parties. At these get-togethers, singles submit a T-shirt that has been slept in for three consecutive nights so that other participants can pick the scent that is most appealing to them. ABC News Correspondent Nick Watt reports.
- Wacky Wedding Proposals: It used to take just a ring, a drop to one knee and those four magical words, but today it seems a successful proposal needs to wow not only your girlfriend but millions online. Elizabeth Vargas reveals some of the wackiest and most romantic viral proposals.

THE LOOKOUT

A survival guide to the modern consumer jungle, this weekly broadcast will offer a mix of compelling undercover investigations and lively dispatches separating fact from fiction about how you spend your money. ABC's powerhouse team of correspondents will report.

Wednesday, July 3, 2013

- Undercover Mechanic: ABC is on the lookout for what you should know when you go into an auto repair shop. We take a real mechanic and send her undercover with Correspondent Elisabeth Leamy to repair shops for some simple fixes. Our undercover mechanic plays like she doesn't know, but she's an expert when it comes to cars. We also send in two men to the same shops with the same cars...two cars to the same five shops, all rigged with undercover cameras. Our expert bites her tongue while she is in the shops. But you won't want to miss what she says once she's out, and what our cameras catch. Will the shops we visit give our teams a fair shake or will they take them for a ride? (OAD 6/19)
- Undercover House: The Great Pillow Case Fight -- 300, 400, 1000... Does a higher thread count mean a better night's sleep? With the help of a Consumer Reports' textile expert, "ABC's The Lookout" takes to Central park with two queen-sized mattresses to unravel the secrets of thread counts before you spend big. Deborah Roberts reports. (OAD 6/5)
- TSA iPad Theft: (Nightline repeat) After reports of TSA agents stealing from airline passengers around the country, ABC News decided to investigate. We purposely left iPads behind at TSA checkpoints at ten major airports--each with a history of theft by government screeners. At the Orlando airport, the device disappeared, but we tracked it 30 miles away to the home of the TSA officer last seen handling it. (OAD 9/12)
- Skymall: Bill Weir's visit to Skymall HQ in Phoenix, first aired two years ago.... Skymall is the ubiquitous airplane magazine that sells products from the sublime to the ridiculous to millions of American travelers...We have an update with newly trending items. (Originally aired on "Nightline")

Wednesday, July 10, 2013

- The Ring: It might be the most important decision one makes before popping the question -- buying that diamond engagement ring. Dan Harris went undercover in New York's famous diamond district to see how upfront jewelers would be about the diamonds they sold us. What many consumers may not realize is that some diamond rings are "clarity enhanced," which means that cracks inside the diamond have been treated.
- Bridal Boot Camp: "ABC's The Lookout" follows three brides as they take on Bridalicious Boot Camp in Dallas, Texas to lose that excess weight before their special wedding day. We see their hurdles, frustrations, workouts, dress fittings -- and finally, their weddings. Cecilia Vega unveils who lost the most weight and who won a special prize.
- The Cake Test: Big box supermarkets are now in the wedding cake business, but how do they stack up? "The Lookout" put a cake from big box store Safeway to the taste against a cake baked by a high-end N.Y. cake master and a Betty Crocker cake baked by an ABC News assistant. Paula Paris traveled the cake slices across the country to a special group of cake experts - who won the very unscientific taste test?

- Hypoallergenic Cat: After a big publicity splash trumpeting the world's first scientifically proven hypoallergenic cat, hundreds of allergic pet lovers felt it was worth thousands of dollars to solve their sniffing. But then complaints began to surface. So "ABC's The Lookout" took some of these pricey pets to the lab to find out just how special they really are. Dan Harris reports.
- Ordering Flowers: How close do online flower orders come to the pictures that are advertized on their sites? To find out, "ABC's The Lookout" ordered three different flower arrangements from three of the top online sites, For You Flowers, FTD and Teleflora. The arrangements were sent to three ABC News producers in Chicago, Los Angeles and Atlanta, and to Correspondent Paula Paris in New York.
- Mani and the Mob: He's sold stolen cars to unsuspecting customers, but that may be the least of his crimes. Chief Investigative Correspondent Brian Ross tracks down an FBI informant and former Russian Mob figure who's been allowed to live the high life until he is implicated in a murder case.

Wednesday, July 24, 2013

- A Lookout Claim Check: Juju Chang checks out the huge calorie-burning claims made by makers of two new high tech weight loss gadgets. We're taking it to the lab.
- Fine Print: Commercial ads are required to have a level of transparency to protect consumers, but the most important information is often reduced to the fine print, or in the case of radio, to fast talk. "ABC's The Lookout" examines some of the tricks of the trade when it comes to obscure disclaimers. Linsey Davis reports.
- Dogs Day Out: Americans love their dogs, and now there are new ways to lavish luxury on your pet pooch. But do they really need or even want it? Nick Watt takes a few four-legged friends out on the town.
- Ice Cream "Study": It shouldn't take much to sell ice cream in the middle of a hot summer. "The Lookout" considers Baskin Robbins' new research linking ice cream flavor to personality traits, and takes to the street to see if the study passes our own taste and smell test. Gio Benitez reports.

Wednesday, July 31, 2013

- Flood Car Investigation: When Superstorm Sandy hit the Northeast last fall, an estimated quarter of a million cars were submerged for days in corrosive salt water. Now tens of thousands of those cars are washing up on used car lots across the country. Bill Weir and the "Lookout" team go undercover to show consumers how to spot these potentially dangerous cars.
- Hyper-milers: "ABC's The Lookout's" Jon Donvan shares the secrets of miles millionaires who freeload the friendly skies.
- Boosters: Rings of organized shoplifters are driving up retail prices. Matt Gutman is along for the ride with police during a Central Florida investigation into an alleged shoplifting ring.
- Pet Psychic: Think you know your pet? Would you pay up to $200 to find out what's on your pet's mind? Cecilia Vega is on the lookout for pet lovers.

Wednesday, August 7, 2013

- Boosters: Rings of organized shoplifters are driving up retail prices. Matt Gutman is embedded with sheriffs on a Central Florida investigation.
- Debt Collectors: How far is too far when it comes to debt collectors? "ABC's The Lookout" turns the tables on an agency that just might have crossed the line. Elisabeth Leamy is on the case.
- All-Inclusive Vacations – Correspondent Paula Faris, her husband and two children go undercover on vacation in Mexico to learn what to look out for when booking that all-inclusive trip. Also, from restaurants, oceanfront rooms and room décor, an expert shows us how sometimes online photos can be deceiving. (OAD 6/12/13)
- Gourmet Dog Food: How much would you pay to feed your pooch? "ABC's The Lookout's" Reena Ninan is in search of dog foodies.

Wednesday, August 14, 2013

- Infomercial King Kevin Trudeau Update: The US government won a lawsuit against infomercial king Kevin Trudeau, saying he has to pay $37 million back for misleading costumers about a weight loss program he was selling. But Trudeau didn't pay. In the premiere episode of "ABC's The Lookout," Bill Weir went in search of Trudeau, finding him living in Switzerland, claiming he has no assets. Now Trudeau is back in the U.S., and back in court. Are his days of living large finally over?
- Extreme Couponers: Stores have tightened their policies on couponing, but that hasn't stopped two extreme couponers. "ABC's The Lookout" pits the two famed couponing divas against each other to see who can help keep more money in your pocket. Juju Chang reports.
- Airline Ticket Prices -- Our bags are packed and we are heading to the airport to find out if and why you are paying more for your airplane ticket than the person sitting next to you. Plus, Correspondent Linsey Davis asks experts: Are there really tricks to buying cheap tickets? (OAD: 6/12/13)
- Gas Meters: Think that gas pump meter is accurate? Think again. Cecilia Vega looks at the efforts to calibrate gas pumps, the army of workers out on the road testing them, and how a pump can 'creep' – sometimes picking your pocket and sometimes giving you a little surprise. (OAD: 6/26/13)

Wednesday, August 21, 2013

- The Preacher's Son: Ephren Taylor used the pulpit of some of the country's biggest mega-churches to quote the bible and allegedly take millions of dollars from parishioners. The feds say he needs to pay up. Taylor has dodged the court and our cameras before. But ABC News Correspondent Steve Osunsami and "ABC's The Lookout" track him down.
- Irresistible Summer Food Treats: Summer treats are everywhere and hard to resist. ABC News Correspondent Paula Faris, with the help of Dave Zinczenko, ABC News' Nutrition and Wellness Editor and author of the best-selling book, Eat This, Not That, look at which treats are the least fattening.
- Germis!: "ABC's The Lookout's" "germ team" joins Correspondent Nick Watt and a germaphobic mom and her family on the great American road trip to investigate where an average family encounters the most germs and what dangers they may pose. (OAD: 6/12/13)

Wednesday, August 28, 2013

- Yo-Yo Car Finance: Done deal on that used car purchase? Better check the small print. Brian Ross takes a closer look at a growing practice in the car trade associated with conditional car sales. Consumer advocates and government regulators say some car dealers attempt to renegotiate a used car sale with more expensive terms after the consumer takes delivery. Dealers say they need the ability to work out a new deal or undo the deal if financing falls through. Brian Ross investigates.
- Skimmer Scam: One swipe of your credit card at the gas pump is all it takes for a new breed of digital thieves to steal your money. It's all part of a high-tech crime wave called "Skimmers," in which tiny credit card readers are criminally installed inside gas pumps to record credit card information. A former hacker takes The Lookout inside this criminal subculture and shows how this works and what consumers can do to protect. Nick Watt reports.
- Make Up Wars: How much do you really have to spend on make-up to achieve a perfect look that lasts all day? The Lookout puts a spectrum of cosmetics through extreme conditions to find out. Juju Chang reports.
- Real Estate Update: In June, The Lookout's Cynthia McFadden profiled realtor Dottie Herman's 24-hour makeover of a small suburban house that stayed empty on the market for months. The Lookout has an update to the story with news that the house is now in contract and will soon become someone's new home. (OAD: 6/26/13)
- Online Flowers: Have you ever wondered if the bouquet you just received looks like what your cousin in Vermont picked out for you online? How close do online flower orders come to the pictures that are advertized on their websites? Paula Faris tests three online flower companies to see if what the consumer views online is really what the recipient gets at their doorstep. (OAD: 7/17/13)

Wednesday, September 4, 2013

- The Mortgage Rescue: Thinking of lowering your mortgage payments? Be careful whom you trust... Brian Ross and ABC News Fixer Stephanie Zimmerman try to save one woman's home from foreclosure after she was allegedly cheated by a company that said it would help fix her financial problems. "ABC's The Lookout" with a cautionary tale for homeowners.
- Online Rental Scams: It is happening all over the country: internet scammers posing as home owners to rent out properties that are real but not theirs to rent out. Cynthia McFadden is on the lookout to help make sure your dream rental doesn't turn into a horror story.
- Vegas Survival Guide: They say what happens in Vegas stays in Vegas. And, as Rebecca Jarvis reports, that often includes visitors' money -- without ever walking into the casinos. "ABC's The Lookout" with a can't-miss Vegas survival guide that will help beat the odds in keeping the cash in your pocket.
- Rental Cars: "ABC's The Lookout" hits the road to show how you get the best deal on a rental car with the help of Vroomvroomvroom.com's David Eastes.
- Mattress Wars: How much does it cost to get a good night's sleep? "ABC's The Lookout" puts a spectrum of mattresses to the test to find out.
- Flood Cars Update: This summer Bill Weir reported on dangerous flood cars from Hurricane Sandy that have washed up on used cars lots throughout the country. Weir's report has led to an about face by a major insurance company and a potential change in how the industry handles such cars. A complete report is will air on "Nightline" Wednesday.
