PROBLEMS / NEEDS / INTERESTS

Identified by person contacted and interviewed:

"PKD" is polycystic kidney disease, not as high-profile as cancer or heart disease, but "PKD" affects more people than Down Syndrome, Cystic Fibrosis, muscular dystrophy, and sickle cell anemia combined. There is no treatment or cure for PKD and it can kill you. And one of the mysteries of "PKD" polycystic kidney disease is that it is highly inherited. So unless someone on either side of the family has a history of "PKD" chances are you'll never have to worry about it. BUT also mysteriously, just because one or even both parents may have "PKD", that doesn't mean any of their children will be born with "PKD". Over 1 parent randomly inherited disease. "PKD" attacks the kidneys, and as a result of the cysts that grow on the kidneys, and as a result of the cysts, your kidneys can become huge, as big as a football. As "PKD" progresses, you either need dialysis or a kidney transplant.
