The Children's Home of Pittsburgh's Pediatric Specialty Hospital was originally founded in 1984 as Transitional Infant Care Hospital (TIC), to care for premature and medically fragile infants who were transitioning from a Neonatal Intensive Care Unit to home. In 2007, TIC expanded its unique model of care to serve patients up to age 21 and became the Pediatric Specialty Hospital.

The Pediatric Specialty Hospital – the only hospital of its kind in Pennsylvania – provides family-centered care in a home-like atmosphere. Licensed by the Pennsylvania Department of Health, the Pediatric Specialty Hospital offers a transitional setting to bridge between hospital and home for infants, children and their families.
