US economy grew at strong 3.5 percent rate in Q3 - WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. economy grew at a robust annual rate of 3.5 percent in the July-September quarter as the strongest burst of consumer spending in nearly four years helped offset a sharp drag from trade.

The Commerce Department says the third quarter's gross domestic product, the country's total output of goods and services, followed an even stronger 4.2 percent rate of growth in the second quarter. The two quarters marked the strongest consecutive quarters of growth since 2014.

Pueblo Police check on sex offenders before Halloween - PUEBLO – Thousands of kids will soon go knocking on neighborhood doors in search of the best candy Halloween has to offer.

But before they hit the streets, Pueblo Police are working to make sure the children stay safe.

Officers conducted unannounced compliance checks on the 14 most sexually violent predators in the city this week. All but one were found to be in compliance, which essentially checks to see the person is living at the address given to authorities.
