Suicide Prevention	:30	12
--------------------	-----	----

Suicide can affect anyone, devastating families and communities, but it's not inevitable. If you're feeling alone, having thoughts of suicide, or know someone who is, don't remain silent. Help is available. You can talk to someone you trust by calling nine-eight-eight, the suicide and crisis lifeline. The "My GCAL" app can be used if you need help by text or chat. Visit nine-eight-eight dot GA dot ORG for more information. A message from the Georgia Hospital Association.

Ga811- Echols	:30	30
---------------	-----	----

This is PSC commissioner Tim Echols reminding you to call eight-one-one before you dig. By calling eight-one-one you will save you and your neighbors the inconvenience of your power, gas, or internet service going out. Give yourself one week if you know you're going to be digging in and around your street and yard. Maybe you're adding onto your house or building a fence. No matter what, you, as the homeowner should make sure that the eight-one-one service is called and that the flags have been placed on your property. The fines can be in the thousands of dollars, and the inconvenience sometimes worse. Call eight-one-one.

Thanksgiving	:30	7
--------------	-----	---

It's the time of year to give thanks. Some are thankful for seatbelts, because buckling up saved their life or the life of a family member. Mistakes happen, including when we're driving, so we all need to choose to wear a seatbelt. Seatbelts offer the best protection when a mistake on the road leads to a crash. Taking a few seconds to buckle up could lead to a lifetime of memories. Click it. Don't risk it. Message from the Governor's Office of Highway Safety.

Distracted Driving :30 1

How many times have you been on your phone and drifted off the road or in the other lane of traffic? Consider yourself lucky you didn't hit someone or something when you did. The point is: one day your luck will run out if you continue to drive distracted by a phone or anything that takes your focus off the road. You're four times more likely to be in a traffic crash talking on your cell phone. There is not a call, text, or email that is worth more than your life or the lives of others. Put down your phone and drive, so we can all get where we're going alive. This message brought to you by the Governor's Office of Highway Safety.

Cheers :30 11

The holiday season is here, but drinking and driving is no reason to cheer. That's because drunk driving is a factor in one out of four traffic deaths in Georgia. Preventing drunk driving deaths is very easy – just hand the keys to a sober driver. Those who make the wrong decision to drink, and drive may find themselves in the backseat of a patrol car, because Georgia law enforcement officers do NOT give warnings to drunk drivers. They take them to jail. The Governor's Office of Highway Safety asks everyone to make the holidays and every day merrier by driving sober, so they won't have to pull you over.

Digital ID :30 11

Did you know you can now add your Georgia digital driver's license and ID to your Apple Wallet and Google Wallet? It's easy to add to your device, and it's a safe and secure way to confirm your identity. Officially accepted at select TSA checkpoints, including Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport and select vendors. To learn more, visit DDS dot Georgia dot gov.

How many times have you been on your phone and drifted off the road or in the other lane of traffic? Consider yourself lucky you didn't hit someone or something when you did. The point is: one day your luck will run out if you continue to drive distracted by a phone or anything that takes your focus off the road. You're four times more likely to be in a traffic crash talking on your cell phone. There is not a call, text, or email that is worth more than your life or the lives of others. Put down your phone and drive, so we can all get where we're going alive. This message brought to you by the Governor's Office of Highway Safety.

The holiday season is here, but drinking and driving is no reason to cheer. That's because drunk driving is a factor in one out of four traffic deaths in Georgia. Preventing drunk driving deaths is very easy – just hand the keys to a sober driver. Those who make the wrong decision to drink, and drive may find themselves in the backseat of a patrol car, because Georgia law enforcement officers do NOT give warnings to drunk drivers. They take them to jail. The Governor's Office of Highway Safety asks everyone to make the holidays and every day merrier by driving sober, so they won't have to pull you over.
