FLT's Schoolhouse Players presents Peter Rabbit

Silly Peter Rabbit! His brothers and sisters always try to keep him away from trouble. His mother warns him about going into Mr. McGregor's garden but he won't listen. He gets trapped inside the garden fence and barely gets out in time. If that wasn't enough excitement Cousin Benjamin comes over and calls Peter a chicken. Peter HAS to go back to the garden now! You can bet they'll get out safely after they learn a valuable lesson!

2016 Building Bridges Diversity and Leadership Summit

Monday, March 21, 2016, 11:00am - 05:00pm

2016 Building Bridges Diversity & Leadership Summit will take place on Monday, March 21 from 11am-5pm at the Floyd Conference Center.

Building Bridges is a group experience in cultural diversity and competence. This year, we will include a luncheon with a keynote speaker, Ms. Nika White, the Vice President of Diversity and Inclusion for the Greenville Chamber of Commerce. The keynote presentation will be followed by interactive panel discussions on workplace diversity, community diversity, cultural competence as well as faith and values. The community is encouraged to attend, along with other business and community leaders. The mission of Building Bridges is to enable our community to address diversity issues through a continuing process of changing attitudes and hearts through education and conscious-raising.

Cost is $20 per participant or $15 each for 5 or more participants.
