DACA / DAPA	Noticias al Minuto	4/17/2015	5:30 PM	:30	Topic: APPEALS COURT HEARS ARGUMENTS ON OBAMA IMMIGRATION ACTION Federal appeals judges peppered lawyers on both sides with questions in a fight over President Barack Obama's move to shield millions of immigrants from deportation. A 5th Circuit Court of Appeals panel on Friday held a special hearing in a closely watched case that is holding up Obama's immigration action. A coalition of 26 states, led by Texas, sued to block the plan. The hearing was on an appeal of a Texas judge's injunction. The Justice Department argued that Texas has no legal standing in the matter. Texas' solicitor general countered that granting legal status to immigrants will be costly for Texas. The judges did not rule and took the case under advisement. Throughout the hearing chants and drumming by pro-immigrant protesters outside the courthouse filtered into the packed courtroom.

	Noticias al Minuto	6/8/2015	2:30 PM	:30	Topic: OBAMA EXPRESSES FRUSTRATION WITH BLOCK OF IMMIGRATION EXECUTIVE ACTIONS A series of legal setbacks have halted the government's intensive preparations to move forward with President Obama's executive actions shielding millions of illegal immigrants from deportation, even as community organizations continue a rapid push to get ready for the programs, according to U.S. officials and immigrant advocacy groups. Since a federal judge first blocked the new programs in February, the Department of Homeland Security has suspended plans to hire up to 3,100 new employees, most of who would be housed in an 11-story building the government has leased for $7.8 million a year in Arlington, Va. That building, in the Crystal City area, is now sitting mostly unused, DHS employees say. Yet inside and outside the Beltway, community groups are mobilizing, educating immigrants and training volunteers to help them apply for relief, even though it remains unclear whether the program will ever begin.

	Noticias al Minuto	5/5/2015	11:26 PM	:30	Topic: HILLARY CLINTON IMMIGRATION Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton announced at a Nevada campaign stop that she supports a full path to citizenship for undocumented workers as part of an overhaul of the U.S. immigration system. Clinton appeared at a Las Vegas high school Tuesday afternoon during her third campaign trip in an early-voting state after declaring last month that she would be seeking the presidency in November 2016. Rancho High School is where Clinton appeared at a roundtable discussion, the school is less than 10 miles north of the famous Las Vegas strip of casinos. Its student body is approximately 70 percent Hispanic and includes some students who would be eligible for a special residency status for those who entered the U.S. as children under a stalled Democratic immigration proposal.

	Noticias al Minuto	5/14/2015	6:30 PM	:30	Topic: JEB BUSH ON IMMIGRATION AND IRAQ Republican Jeb Bush visited the state of Arizona on Thursday and said about immigration that the system should be changed in order to grow financially. He suggested that any decision should be made legally within the law. One of Bush's speaker said that Jeb Bush supports an immigration bill based on economic growth, in which the benefiting immigrants should pay fines, learn English, and not ask for any government help. He also reversed his position on whether the U.S. should have invaded Iraq, reflecting a struggle between being his own man in his expected run for the White House and remaining loyal to his brother who started the war, former President George W. Bush. Jeb Bush's days-long search for the right formulation to describe his position on Iraq appeared to expose some rustiness on the campaign trail eight years after serving as governor of Florida.

That's roughly $600 more than rent in the Los Angeles area, $800 more than metro New York City, and $1,000 more than the Washington, D.C. area. Prices are also climbing in cities without the same hype from startups and venture capital. Louie Gohmert (R-Texas) over the Obama administration's immigration policies during a Tuesday House Judiciary Committee hearing. Things eventually got so tense that ICE Director Sarah Saldana actually had to ask Gohmert to stop yelling. Gohmert noted that Judge Andrew Hanen has temporarily halted President Barack Obama's executive actions to shield millions of illegal immigrants from deportations - and then accused the administration of misleading the judge in its past approval of benefits for eligible immigrants. The Obama administration apparently argued in court and in legal documents that the president's immigration plan would not be implemented until late February, according to Hanen. However, the Department of Justice later told Hanen that more than 100,000 illegal immigrants had been issued three-year deferrals between November 20 and February 16, when the injunction was ordered, a move that irked the federal judge.

That week, 80 mothers refused to work or eat to bring attention to their imprisonment and demand their immediate release. In response, authorities at the privately run facility, placed mothers like Kenia Galeano who will join the call in isolation. The Administration's policy of detaining asylum seeking mothers and children as part of a deterrence strategy has also come under fire in the courts recently with a class action lawsuit filed by the ACLU and the immigration clinic at the University of Texas law school. Added-on fees have led to outrageous fines that working people simply can't afford. Most of these fines are never paid, which is why there's $10 billion in unpaid fees. We will now be creating both a fairer system and a more efficient one by distinguishing between the unwilling to pay and those unable to pay. Many of Hertzberg's aims were included in the budget via a trailer bill, Hertzberg's office says. His own bill, with many of the same goals, will still work its way through the Legislature, his spokesman told us. The bill seeks to provide 50 to 80 percent off ticket debt, along with license reinstatement, depending on your income level. The budget language will help folks get their driving privileges back if they have had their licenses taken away because they can't afford ticket fees.

Obamacare/ACA	Noticias al Minuto	4/7/2015	4:35 PM	:30	Topic: CALIFORNIA LAWMAKERS AIM TO AID MIGRANTS Democratic lawmakers unveil a slew of new immigration-related proposals including measures that would extend state-paid health coverage to those in the country illegally and offer more protection against deportation. Legislators behind the 10-bill package aim to build on the landmark immigration laws passed in California in recent years, such as one that allows people without legal residency to obtain driver's licenses. By keeping momentum on immigrant-aid policies, legislative leaders said, they hoped to spur liberalization of immigration laws nationwide. The most far-reaching of the new proposals would offer enrollment in Medi-Cal - California's healthcare program for the poor - to people who qualify regardless of immigration status. In California, about 1.8 million people who are in the country illegally lack healthcare coverage, according to estimates by UC Berkeley and UCLA. About 1.5 million of them would qualify for Medi-Cal.

The report found that in California, four million people - 17 percent of adults with licenses in the state - had their licenses suspended as recently as 2013 because they had failed to pay fines or to appear in court. The issue of aggressive enforcement of traffic violations by police officers and the imposition by courts of substantial financial penalties for late payment has attracted widespread attention recently as state, county and municipal governments across the nation have increased fines, in some cases significantly, to offset budget shortfalls caused by the financial crisis.

	Noticias al Minuto	5/19/2015	10:30 PM	:30	Topic: LARGEST AUTOMOBILE RECALL DUE TO DEFECTS In the largest automotive recall in U.S. history, car makers will fix faulty air bags in nearly 34 million vehicles after Japanese parts supplier Takata Corp. bowed to pressure from regulators on Tuesday. The move doubles the number of vehicles already targeted by the recall, which is aimed at repairing malfunctioning air-bag inflators that can explode and send shrapnel flying into cars. The recalls, expected to be conducted by up to 11 auto makers, would be one of the largest actions for any industry. Some 31 million bottles of Tylenol were recalled in the early 1980s. The suspect air bags are found in everything from sport-utility vehicles made by Honda Motor Co. to autos produced by Toyota Motor Corp., General Motors Co. and Daimler AG trucks. Vehicles equipped with the faulty Takata air bags represent almost 14% of the roughly 250 million vehicles on U.S. roads.

Taxes	Noticias al Minuto	4/5/2015	10:48 PM	:30	Topic: OBAMACARE IS GOING TO AFFECT YOUR TAXES The Affordable Care Act, aka Obamacare, inserted health insurance into tax season in two ways, affecting nearly all of us. The first is the law's mandate that almost all U.S. residents get health coverage or pay a penalty. The second is the tax-credit subsidy that millions of Americans received via Obamacare's exchanges to lower their health insurance premiums. The tax-filing deadline is just two weeks away, on Wednesday, April 15. Before you freak out, rest assured that little has changed for about 80 percent of Americans. Still, some people will have to jump through new hoops -- and might see big effects on their tax refunds or bills.

World	Noticias al Minuto	4/2/2015	6:09 PM	:30	Topic: JOHNS HOPKINS SUED OVER STD STUDY IN GUATEMALA More than 770 plaintiffs are suing the Johns Hopkins Hospital System Corp. over its role in a series of medical experiments in Guatemala in the 1940s and 1950s during which people were deliberately infected with venereal diseases without their consent. The lawsuit filed in Baltimore City Circuit Court seeks $1 billion in damages for individuals, spouses and children of people infected with syphilis, gonorrhea and other sexually transmitted diseases through a U.S. government program between 1945 and 1956. The suit claims officials at Johns Hopkins had "substantial influence" over the studies by controlling some panels that advised the federal government on how to spend research dollars. The suit also alleges that Hopkins and the Rockefeller Foundation, which is also named as a defendant, "did not limit their involvement to design, planning, funding and authorization of the Experiments; instead, they exercised control over, supervised, supported, encouraged, participated in and directed the course of the Experiments."
