Weekdays 6:30 a.m. – 5:30 p.m. 11 hours each weekday and Sundays 6 a.m. – 9:30 a.m. 3 1/2 hours each Sunday
2. Education	Science Trek “Simple Machines” Simple machines include the lever, the inclined plane, the wedge, the pulley, the wheel and axle, and the screw. Combine these simple machines and you can create almost anything that makes work easier. John Gardner and Kathryn Devine answer students’ questions. Woody Sobey of the Discovery Center of Boise does a special demonstration of simple machines. Science Trek “The Earth” Guest scientists, Virginia Gillerman, a geologist with the Idaho Geological Survey and Jeffrey Johnson, an assistant research professor of geophysics at Boise State University, answer students’ questions. Science Trek “Garbage” When you toss something into the trash, science takes over. Scientists find ways to dispose of trash and not ruin the environment. They can even turn garbage into electricity. Guests, Ted Hutchinson, Deputy Solid Waste Director for the Ada County Solid Waste Management and Megan Durrell, Trash and Recycling Coordinator for the City of Boise, answer students’ questions. Science Trek “Bats” Bats play an important role in our ecosystem. They help pollinate plants so we have food. They eat insects so bugs do not overwhelm us. But 25 percent of all bat species are threatened with extinction. Guests, Rita Dixon, State Wildlife Action Plan Coordinator for the Idaho Department of Fish and Game and Jesse Barber, Assistant Professor of Biology at Boise State University, answer students’ questions.	10/1/19 4 p.m. 30 minutes 10/22/19 4 p.m. 30 minutes 10/29/19 4 p.m. 30 minutes 11/5/19 4 p.m. 30 minutes

	Science Trek “Astronauts” What is it like to work in space and on the International Space Station? Astronauts have a challenging and fascinating job. It takes lots of different scientists to make it possible for astronauts to do their work. On this program, the Science Trek crew travels to the Johnson Space Center to answer students’ questions about what it takes to be an astronaut. Science Trek “Earthquakes” Every 30 seconds, somewhere in the world the ground shakes. Most earthquakes are too tiny to be felt, but some earthquakes can be devastating. Why do earthquakes happen? What should you do if the earth shakes? Can we predict when they will happen? Guests, Jeffrey Johnson, an Assistant Research Professor of Geophysics at Boise State University and Dennis Feeney, a Senior Geologist with the Idaho Geographical Survey at the University of Idaho, answer students’ questions. Science Trek “Blood” Blood does more than just carry oxygen to your cells. The body’s circulatory system keeps you warm, carries away waste and helps you stay healthy. There is more to blood than you think. Guests, Dr. Roger Turcotte and Dr. Alicia Lachiondo, answer students’ questions. Science Trek “Robotics” We use robots everywhere, even on Mars, but how are robots developed? How will robots change things in the future? Guests, Josh Johnston, professor at Boise State University and Dean Klein, Vice President of Advanced Memory Solutions at Micron, answer students’ questions. Science Trek “Food Web” The flow of the sun’s energy touches all living things on Earth. But how are plants and people connected? Why, it is through the food web. All living things on Earth depend upon one another for food. Guests, Holly Holman, veterinarian at Zoo Boise and Adare Evans, wildlife educator for the Idaho Department of Fish and Game, answer students’ questions.	11/19/19 4 p.m. 30 minutes 11/26/19 4 p.m. 30 minutes 12/3/19 4 p.m. 30 minutes 12/10/19 4 p.m. 30 minutes 12/17/19 4 p.m. 30 minutes
3. Outdoor Adventures	Outdoor Idaho “Bear Lake, Caribbean of the Rockies” Bear Lake is a brilliant blue beauty on the Idaho-Utah border. Known as the Caribbean of the Rockies, it draws visitors from across the West to camp, fish, and feast on Bear Lake’s famous raspberries.	10/31/19 8 p.m. 30 minutes

	Outdoor Idaho “Chasing the Light” Some of Idaho’s professional landscape photographers share their secrets for positioning themselves to capture a special scene in a photograph, often waiting hours, even days, for the natural lighting they seek to preserve. Outdoor Idaho travels with them to locations that encapsulate Idaho’s treasured scenery. Outdoor Idaho “Jewel of the North” The water is so clear and the colors so intense that people sometimes mistake photographs of Priest Lake for Hawaii! In the 1920’s silent-movie star Nell Shipman came to the most northern of Idaho’s big lakes to produce her silent films. Today the area is a magnet for campers, fishermen, rock climbers, skiers and anyone who loves magical settings. Outdoor Idaho “Boat Builders” Idaho’s boat builders draw on old craft techniques as well as new technology to rebuild wooden boats or design new ones. Whether working on a 1939 speedster or creating new drift boats, they turn out stylish products for Idaho’s waters. Outdoor Idaho “Hometown Ski Hills” Community ski hills are scattered throughout Idaho, each with its own “field of dreams” story to tell. We profile three of them - Bogus Basin near Boise; Little Ski Hill by McCall; and Pomerelle near Albion - to learn what makes each of these ski areas unique.	11/28/19 8 p.m. 30 minutes 12/5/19 8 p.m. 30 minutes 12/12/19 8 p.m. 30 minutes 12/26/19 8 p.m. 30 minutes
4. History	Outdoor Idaho “Gold Rush Days and Ghost Towns” Thousands of gold seekers pour into Idaho Territory in the 1860s constructing instant cities in rugged terrain. This look at the past and present of these towns - some only a memory, others active county seats - includes interviews with descendants of the miners of yesteryear. Idaho Experience “The Conquest of the Snake” For generations people living on Idaho’s Snake River Plain had learned to live and cope with the dry and hostile environment. But in the late 19th century a group of pioneers began to dream of a green land full of farms and fields. The Conquest of the Snake reveals the story of how people in South Central Idaho labored together to build towns, plow land and build an irrigation system that would transform the desert and attract thousands of new settlers. Scramble The Seawolves The HA(L)-3 Seawolves would become the most decorated Squadron in the Vietnam War, arguably in all of Naval Aviation History. From meager beginnings, the most effective and offensive	10/3/19 8 p.m. 1 hour 10/24/19 8:30 p.m. 30 minutes 11/12/19 8 p.m. 90 minutes

	Navy squadron, Helicopter Attack Light Squadron Three Seawolves, was established inside the Republic of Vietnam in support of Task Force-116, Operation Gamewarden in 1967. This is their story. Dialogue “Never Give Up! Minoru Yasui” Holly Yasui, the director of Never Give Up! Minoru Yasui and the Fight for Justice, talks about this documentary about her father, who was a prominent activist for Japanese American rights. In 1942, Minoru Yasui was arrested when he deliberately violated a curfew for all persons of Japanese ancestry living in the United States that was put in place after the bombing of Pearl Harbor. He was convicted and subsequently sued the federal government, with his case going all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court, where his conviction was upheld. While waiting for a decision, he was held in solitary confinement for nine months and was also incarcerated at the Minidoka internment camp in Idaho twice. After World War II, he became an attorney and continued to advocate for minority rights. Idaho Experience “Albion Normal: A Teachers College” When Idaho first became a state in 1890, state leaders recognized the need for teachers. Lots of teachers. But it wasn’t easy to convince a qualified teacher to move to those small pioneering communities found in early Idaho. So lawmakers opened Albion Normal School, a teachers college. But not everyone felt Albion was the right place for a state funded school. Thus began a 56-year battle to save the school from closure. Along the way, the college provided more than 6,000 teachers and lives on in spirit at the old campus that still exists today. Idaho Experience looks at the role Albion Normal School had on the state and how training future teachers has evolved over the years.	12/6/19 8 p.m. 30 minutes 12/8/19 5:30 p.m. 30 minutes
5. Local Community Interest	Outdoor Idaho “Jobs Without Walls” Not everyone works inside four walls. For some, the great outdoors is their office. Some pick this type of work to improve the environment or to celebrate history. Others see it as a way to help people or to bring joy to a whole country. This episode profiles five extraordinary Idahoans who make a difference. Outdoor Idaho “Living With Wildfire” Wildfire is now a fact of life, both in the mountains and on the prairie. How are we adjusting, as wildfires seem to grow bigger, hotter, and more numerous? Outdoor Idaho “Home on the Range” The real heyday of the American cowboy has come and gone; but in Idaho, the hard-scrabble hero of so many of our nation’s legends can still be found, riding the range on the West’s public lands. It	10/10/19 8 p.m. 30 minutes 10/24/19 8 p.m. 30 minutes 11/21/19 8 p.m. 30 minutes

	seems there will always be a place for cowboys, wherever there are cattle to be rounded up and wild horses to be tamed, and wherever there are people who love the cowboy lifestyle. As cowboy poet Rudy Gonzales reminds us, "People want to be cowboys!" Hymns of Thanksgiving This annual Thanksgiving concert special returns with an orchestra and chorus made up of volunteer musicians from across the Treasure Valley. The program is hosted by Governor Brad Little and First Lady Teresa Little. Outdoor Idaho "State of Change" The changes in Idaho in the past three decades have been astounding, affecting just about everything, from cities and towns to public lands and wildlife. We examine some of the changes that are occurring, as well as the reasons for optimism, in the nation's 43rd state, a state of change. Dialogue "American Cipher: Bowe Bergdahl" This program features Michael Ames, co-author of "American Cipher: Bowe Bergdahl and the U.S. Tragedy in Afghanistan." Ames, a former reporter in Ketchum, became fascinated with the story of Bowe Bergdahl, a U.S. Army soldier captured by the Taliban for five years. He decided to write a book that looked not only at Bergdahl's life, but also at the politics surrounding the search for him and his eventual release. Dialogue "Author Pete Fromm" Montana author Pete Fromm talks about his latest novel, "A Job You Mostly Won't Know How to Do." Fromm also reminisces about his time living in the Idaho backcountry, which he recounted in his award-winning memoir, "Indian Creek Chronicles: A Winter Alone in the Wilderness."	11/28/19 8:30 p.m. 90 minutes 12/8/19 7 p.m. 1 hour 12/13/19 8 p.m. 30 minutes 12/27/19 30 minutes 8 p.m.
6. Health	Resilience: The Biology of Stress & the Science of Hope Researchers have recently discovered a dangerous biological syndrome caused by abuse and neglect during childhood. As this documentary reveals, toxic stress can trigger hormones that wreak havoc on the brains and bodies of children, putting them at a greater risk for disease, homelessness, prison time, and early death. While the broader impacts of poverty worsen the risk, no segment of society is immune. Resilience, however, also chronicles the dawn of a movement that is determined to fight back. Trailblazers in pediatrics, education, and social welfare are using cutting-edge science and field-tested therapies to protect children from the insidious effects of toxic stress – and the dark legacy of a childhood that no child would choose.	10/7/19 7 p.m. 1 hour

	Resilient Idaho: Hope After Trauma As a follow-up to the preceding program, and as part of a weeklong effort, IdahoPTV presents a three panel discussion that includes 12-15 guests from around the state who are experts in the field of human services. The program focuses on identifying and discussing complex problems caused by trauma and stress encountered in childhood and how this impacts us as we age. Hope Lives: Preventing Teen Suicide Utah’s suicide rate has always been higher than that of the rest of the nation. Among teens ages 10 to 17, the suicide rate has tripled in less than a decade. On average two Utah teens attempt to end their lives every day. It can be easy to lose hope given the current trends showing teen suicide rising rates of suicide in the state. Their stories are intertwined with interviews with experts as well as the story of a peer Hope Squad at Lone Peak High School in Highland, Utah, that has reduced suicide rates. Currently Hope4Utah has 180 hope squads in schools across the state with 5,000 school age students reaching out to help their peers every day. In addition, the program has 500 Hope Squad advisors who are most often school counselors and teachers. Dialogue “Made in Boise” Filmmaker Beth Aala talks about how she discovered the surrogacy story, why she thought it would make a good documentary, and the challenges involved in filming it. Aala is a three-time Emmy Award-winning producer and recipient of a Peabody Award for her documentary work at HBO. Independent Lens “Made in Boise” Go inside the lives of four surrogates in Boise, Idaho and the intended parents whose children they carry. Follows the women as they navigate the rigors of pregnancy and the mixed feelings of their own families, who struggle to understand.	10/7/19 8 p.m. 1 hour 10/8/19 8 p.m. 1 hour 10/25/19 8 p.m. 30 minutes 10/28/19 10 p.m. 90 minutes
