Making It Grow

October

Join us for “Making It Grow” October 1 at 7pm on SCETV. Clemson Extension Agent Amanda McNulty will be joined on the panel to answer gardening questions by Clemson Agents Chris Burt and Chase Smoak along with Mary Ridgeway from Kalmia Gardens of Coker University. We will share “Gardens of the Week” pictures and will also give the panel the “Question of the Week” for a more in-depth conversation about a timely topic. Clemson Extension Agent Terasa Lott will monitor the Facebook Live discussion.

Our first featured segment will be trip to McBee, SC and McLeod Farms and take a look at their corn maze. Amanda talks with Spencer McLeod on how they grow and cut the corn to achieve the planned design. This year’s design is a super-hero theme called “Amazons” and 50% of all ticket sales go to the McLeod Children’s Hospital.

Since October is National Farm to School Month for our second featured segment, we Briggs Elementary School in Florence, SC. While holding chickens, Amanda and teacher Jeff Murrie talk about the Farm at Briggs. We also talk to the students about what they have learned and what they have enjoyed about working in the garden. Mr. Murrie is also a graduate of Clemson Extension’s School Gardening for SC Educators which is a horticulture-based program designed to help SC educators grow successful school gardens to address childhood obesity and improve academic outcomes.

Making It Grow will broadcast from the SC State Fair at 7pm on October 15 near the Nutt Cattle Arena at the Academic Avenue Stage and will be answering gardening questions from the audience. Clemson Extension Agent and Host Amanda McNulty will be joined by fellow agents Vicky Bertagnolli and Tony Melton and also Dr. John Nelson from the A.C. Moore Herbarium. Clemson Agent Terasa Lott will help relay the questions from the audience to the panel. We will also have some younger Fair exhibitors and talk to them about some of their chickens and bunnies they have at the Fair.

In addition, we will have three featured segments. The first one is with historian and author, Dr. Richard Stroup, as he discusses a few aspects from his new book “Meet Me at the Rocket” including the State Ball, where the moniker “Big Thursday” came from, and how the fair reflects what’s going on in South Carolina.

Our second segment will highlight the SC State Fair’s Ride of Your Life Scholarship Program. General Manager of the SC State Fair, Nancy Smith, talks about the program and also two recipients (Riley Nordin and Sierra Small) will share their story on how the scholarship impacted their lives.

Our third segment highlights the Heifer Dairy Project as we follow 4H 12 year old twin girls Madelyn and Logan Bolin of Clover, SC. We first follow them as they first receive their cows at the Clemson Spring Dairy Weekend. Then, we visit them over the summer to see the day to day responsibilities for caring for the cows. Finally, we watch them compete in the SC State Fair Dairy Cow Show and also as they auction off their cows they received the previous year.
