01/28/24	05:20am	10:00	Amber Phifer, Director of Development and External Relations Briscoe Western Art Museum

Issue: Feb events and needs. Why is the Briscoe hosting programs that focus on Black history? The museum is dedicated to sharing the authentic history of the West. That's not always what people have seen in Westerns. Western art tells the stories of Native Americans, vaqueros, animals, landscape and cowboys -- and not all cowboys were white. What would people be surprised to learn about the role of Blacks in the West? One in four cowboys was black. Cattle drives were more integrated than what Hollywood shows in Western movies. What types of programs can people enjoy at the Briscoe? Programming for toddlers to adults: storytime, hands-on learning for kids, programs for adults that range from painting to films to lectures that bring art to life FREE program and admission -- locals can visit the museum for free on the first Sunday of each month Tell us about the Briscoe's collection -- what can people see at the museum? Art and artifacts -- from fantastic sculptures (there are more than 35 sculptures on the museum's campus, including the McNutt Sculpture Garden, all on the banks of the River Walk) to paintings, photography and sketches. As well as a terrific diorama of the Alamo battle, Santa Anna's sword, Roy Rogers' saddle, spurs that go back more than 400 years -- we bring the West to life.

Issue: The first week of February, the Holocaust Memorial Museum of San Antonio will host a powerful exhibit called: Hate Ends Now Cattle Car exhibit which has been called immersive, emotional and unforgettable. It seems so relevant and really important to today. And there are important teaching points that we all can glean from this experience regardless of your gender, race, or religion. (We can all look inward and also stand up for what's morally right) who should see this powerful video exhibit? (Age 12+)
