Judy Woodruff joins Geoff Bennett from Madison, Wisconsin to discuss the state's hotly contested Senate race. |
| EDUCATION: | 10/10/2022 | 6PM | 5 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | As Americans begin to cast ballots in the midterms, voters who struggle to read will confront an election system that relies on literacy. Experts estimate that roughly one in five Americans, including those with disabilities and those who have not learned English, struggle to read. Laura Barrón-López reports. |
| ENVIRONMENT/SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE: | 10/10/2022 | 6PM | 8 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | The number of confirmed and reported COVID cases in the U.S. is at its lowest point since last spring. But the average number of deaths associated with COVID remains at more than 350 a day. Public health experts are increasingly concerned that too many Americans are missing out on a chance to get new boosters and avoid a worse winter. Dr. Peter Hotez joined John Yang to discuss. |

|---|------------|-----|-----------|--------------|------|--|
| ENVIRONMENT/SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE: | 10/10/2022 | 6PM | 8 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | The studying and exhibiting of human remains and sacred objects taken from Native American graves and sites have been a source of bitter relations between many cultural institutions and Indigenous tribes. After facing criticism, the University of California, Berkeley is working to repatriate many of those artifacts. Jeffrey Brown reports for our arts and culture series, "CANVAS." |
| ENVIRONMENT/SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE: | 10/10/2022 | 6PM | 7 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | There are questions once again about the future of Twitter and what it should and should not allow online. Specifically, how far should the company go when it comes to permitting free speech? What should be taken down when it comes to misinformation? And does the company adequately guard against hatemongering speech? Charlie Warzel joined William Brangham to discuss. |
| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/11/2022 | 6PM | 7 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | A growing movement led by right-wing politicians is increasingly challenging the separation of church and state. On the ballot this November are several high-profile Republican candidates who are embracing Christian nationalist ideals. Kristin Kobes Du Mez of Calvin University joined Laura Barrón-López to discuss. |
| MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS/CRIME/LEGAL/LAW ENF | 10/12/2022 | 6PM | 5 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | Conspiracy theorist Alex Jones has been ordered to pay nearly $1 billion for the lies he spread about the Sandy Hook school massacre in 2012. Jones falsely claimed the attack was a hoax and accused a grieving parent of being an actor in the days after the murders. Attorney Jesse Gessin joined Amna Nawaz to discuss the verdict. |
| MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS/CRIME/LEGAL/LAW ENF | 10/12/2022 | 6PM | 5 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | In our news wrap Wednesday, a jury in Florida starts deliberating on whether Parkland school shooter Nikolas Cruz will be sentenced to death, seven more people were killed in Ukraine as Russia fired missiles and artillery rounds into major cities and new protests swept Iran despite heavy police presence and an internet outage that hindered communications. |

| EDUCATION: | 10/12/2022 | 6PM | 6 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | President Biden's executive order to cancel student debt is facing its most serious legal challenge to date. A federal judge in Missouri heard arguments from six states hoping to block the plan from taking effect. White House Correspondent Laura Barrón-López has been following it all and reports for our series, "Rethinking College." |
| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/12/2022 | 6PM | 8 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | Some U.S. lawmakers are reevaluating the relationship with Saudi Arabia after a cut in oil production that's pushing up gas prices. Representative Ro Khanna of California is a member of the House Armed Services Committee and is spearheading the House version of a bill to end U.S. arms sales to Saudi Arabia for one year. Rep. Khanna joined Amna Nawaz to discuss the proposal. |
| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/12/2022 | 6PM | 9 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | With a month until the midterms, we're digging into races that could determine the balance of power in Congress. Republicans hoped for a wave of wins, but the end of Roe v. Wade and improvement in gas prices may help Democrats. Karen Kasler of Ohio Public Radio and Television, Scott Shafer of KQED in California and Zoe Clark of Michigan Radio join Lisa Desjardins to discuss control of the House. |
| MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS/CRIME/LEGAL/LAW ENF | 10/13/2022 | 6PM | 6 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | A Florida jury recommended life in prison without the possibility of parole for the gunman who killed 17 people at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland in 2018. The decision spares Nikolas Cruz from the death penalty. Cruz admitted to the shooting but state law required unanimous agreement to impose a death sentence. Attorney David Weinstein joined John Yang to discuss the verdict. |

|---------------------------------------|------------|-----|-----------|--------------|------|---|
| ECONOMY/BUSINESS: | 10/13/2022 | 6PM | 5 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | For older Americans and retirees, there was some helpful news to accompany the latest inflation report. Americans taking Social Security will see an 8.7% bump in their benefits. That's starting in January thanks to the 2023 cost of living adjustment, known as the Social Security COLA. But how much will it help? Economics Correspondent Paul Solman breaks it down. |
| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/13/2022 | 6PM | 8 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | In a major move, the January 6 Committee voted to subpoena former President Donald Trump. It will likely be the last major action of the committee before the upcoming midterm elections. The committee's aim is to question the former president about his actions leading up to the attack on the Capitol and will likely set off a court battle. Lisa Desjardins reports. |
| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/13/2022 | 6PM | 5 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | In our news wrap Thursday, the U.S. Supreme Court refused former President Trump's request for an independent arbiter to examine classified White House documents found at his Mar-a-Lago estate, the U.S. Labor Department turned in another tough report on inflation at the retail level and the U.S. and Saudi Arabia traded tough talk over sharp cuts in oil output. |

| ENVIRONMENT/SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE: | 10/14/2022 | 6PM | 6 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | Elon Musk said SpaceX can no longer fund the Starlink satellite internet service in Ukraine. The service has helped both the Ukrainian military and civilians stay connected during the war with Russia. Musk said the cost is nearly $20 million a month and SpaceX has asked the Pentagon to take over financing. Felicia Schwartz of the Financial Times joined John Yang to discuss. |
| ECONOMY/BUSINESS: | 10/14/2022 | 6PM | 9 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | Gas prices in much of the country have dropped substantially this fall. But in California, it's been just the opposite. Prices there are pushing some residents to the edge, and the record costs are raising concerns about whether price gouging is to blame. William Brangham looked into the state government's response and discussed it with business and public policy professor Severin Borenstein. |
| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/15/2022 | 5PM | 7 Minutes | PBS News Week | News | In 2020, the state of Georgia flipped blue for President Biden and secured Democrats' control of the U.S. Senate by electing Sen. Jon Ossoff and Sen. Raphael Warnock. But in one of the country's most divided states — where Biden beat Donald Trump by fewer than 12,000 votes — the question is whether Georgia will stay blue come November. Geoff Bennett reports. |
| ENVIRONMENT/SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE: | 10/15/2022 | 5PM | 5 Minutes | PBS News Week | News | This week, the New York Times reported a nationwide wave of hospitals shutting down their pediatric units. Though the pandemic, loss of staff and more profitable adult patients are a few key factors, the problem has been decades in the making. Dr. Scott Krugman, vice chair of the Department of Pediatrics at Herman and Walter Samuelson Children's Hospital, joins Geoff Bennett to discuss. |

|--|------------|-----|------------|---------------|------|---|

| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/16/2022 | 5PM | 5 Minutes | PBS News Week | News | Ohio has been shifting to the right over the past few election cycles, but the U.S. Senate race this year has been fiercely competitive — with Democratic Rep. Tim Ryan locked in a dead heat against Republican candidate J.D. Vance. Karen Kasler, Ohio Public Radio and Television's Statehouse Bureau chief, joins Geoff Bennett to discuss. |
| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/17/2022 | 6PM | 6 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | Election Day is three weeks away and in many ways, it's all about the money. Over the weekend, candidates faced a federal deadline to report their campaign spending and fundraising through September. Lisa Desjardins joined Judy Woodruff to discuss the filings. |
| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/18/2022 | 6PM | 6 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | For many voters this year, the focus has been on contests for governor, senator or local representatives, but voters in 36 states will decide the future of abortion access, health care and even voting itself. Laura Barrón-López sat down with Reid Wilson of Pluribus News to discuss the ballot measures. |

|--|------------|-----|------------|--------------|------|--|
| ENVIRONMENT/SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE: | 10/18/2022 | 6PM | 7 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | In the past week, several antisemitic comments from public figures, including former President Trump and Ye, have sparked concern about the real-world implications of the statements. Dov Waxman, a professor and Chair of Israel Studies at UCLA, joined John Yang to discuss the recent rhetoric. |
| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/18/2022 | 6PM | 9 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | We are in the thick of midterm season and with election night just a few weeks away, candidates are taking to the debate stage. But are these debate performances sending the message candidates hope? Republican strategist Brett O'Donnell and Democratic strategist Stephanie Cutter joined Amna Nawaz to discuss how it's playing out. |
| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/19/2022 | 6PM | 10 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | Control of Congress is on the ballot in this year's midterms, but so is control of dozens of governor's seats. Democrats and Republicans alike are hoping to flip some of the 36 states that have gubernatorial matchups. Lisa Desjardins takes a look at three of the races with Dirk VanderHart of Oregon Public Broadcasting, Zac Schultz of PBS Wisconsin and Yvonne Wingett Sanchez of The Washington Post. |
| ENVIRONMENT/SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE: | 10/19/2022 | 6PM | 8 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | President Biden announced the release of an additional 15 million barrels of oil from the U.S. strategic reserve. The president insisted the move is not politically motivated ahead of the midterms and criticized oil companies for not doing more to ease pain at the pump. Geoff Bennett digs deeper into what the administration is doing and the questions around its broader approach. |
| LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT: | 10/20/2022 | 6PM | 9 Minutes | PBS NewsHour | News | British Prime Minister Liz Truss is on the way out after fewer than seven weeks on the job. Her Conservative Party vows to select a new prime minister by next Friday, but now the Brits are picking up the political pieces. Bronwen Maddox of Chatham House joined Nick Schifrin to discuss the resignation and what's next. |
