KHTS-FM
Quarterly Issues/Programs List

KHTS-FM provides its listeners with programming and public service announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:

- BIG BROS BIG SIS SD: Jeremy Pfouts interviewed Louie Evans who (tm)s a Big Brothers Big Sisters recruitment specialist and a Big Brother, Matt May and his little brother Robert.
- CALIFORNIA'S DROUGHT: I'm Cliff Albert. Our state is facing one of the worst droughts in history. The Governor declared a drought state of emergency for California at the start of this year. In San Diego County, the various water agencies have been dealing with trying to get us all to conserve and with the fall out of conservation, will our efforts be enough? What more can we do to ride out these dry times? Joining us on Community Connection, our guests represent water districts in this County to bring us up to speed: Jeff Stephenson, Principal Water Resources Specialist with San Diego County Water Authority; Richard Namba, Senior Water Conservation Specialist with Otay Water District; Mario Remillard, Meter & Customer Services Supervisor/Conservation Coordinator with City of Carlsbad; and Luis Generoso, Water Resources Manager for City of San Diego. Discussions included: - State regulations that mandate water savings levels for each water district became effective June 1st. The savings levels vary from 12%-36%. Visit your water agency's website to see the water savings target that is in effect in your area. - The targets were set by the state, which looked at an agency's water use in 2013, and then determined how deep the cuts needed to be to achieve an overall 25% statewide goal. - The San Diego region achieved a 26% drop in June. - Although San Diego has invested in local supplies like recycled water and desalinated seawater, these are not counted in the requirement to save. - It's important for everyone to keep saving to meet the local and regional water use targets, and help the state save water in case next year is also dry. - Save water by stopping or limiting watering of ornamental turf - use potable water. - It's prohibited to water grass more than 2 times per week. - Make sure you're watering trees. They should be given a higher priority because lawns and shrubs can easily be removed/replaced. - Take shorter showers. - Replace toilet or washing machine. - Fix leaks.
- DOMESTIC VIOLENCE: Cliff Albert interviewed San Diego Police Lieutenant, Misty Cedrun. Domestic violence doesn't stay within the bounds of a victim's home life. It's a crime that can spill over into the workplace. If you're the co-worker of someone who is being abused, or the employer of that person, what can you do? What SHOULD you do? Joining us on the show is San Diego Police Lieutenant, Misty Cedrun. She's part of the Domestic Violence Unit and also works with the Family Justice Center. She's working with San Diego companies to educate them on ways they can identify and help their employees who are victims of domestic violence and keep the workplace safe for others. - FIRST RESPONDERS: Cliff Albert talked with Lt. Dan Willis, Retired Police Detective and Author of "Bullet Proof Spirit", a book about Lt. Willis' journey of emotional healing that he hopes will help other first responders. The book is an emotional survival guidebook that offers wellness strategies that will help protect, heal, and nurture the spirit of First Responders so they won't suffer in service. It is a positive book filled with hope. First Responders include Police Officers, Firefighters, Paramedics, EMTs, etc., and all have to deal with an emotional stress that can affect their non-working lives. Websites: www.firstresponderwellness.com www.EMDR.org (referrals to therapists)

- HELEN KNOLL FOUNDATION: Cliff Albert talked with David Knoll, co-founder of the Helen Knoll Foundation, and Cecile Bereal, Board Member of the Helen Knoll Foundation. Thousands of women every year in the United States are diagnosed with breast cancer - it is the 2nd leading cause of cancer death in women in this country. The Helen Knoll Foundation was started in 2006 by David and Helen Knoll. Founded because Helen Knoll had breast cancer before she could have a mammogram since mammograms were only done on women 40 years and older (Helen was younger than 40). They raised awareness by sharing that women should be proactive by taking care of their health, be aware of pre-cursors, and be aware that there are screenings for women under 40. Be proactive: - Stop worrying and stressing because it weakens the immune system - There are screenings to help you become educated - Don't wait, take care of yourself even if you're under 40 (exercise to decrease obesity, limit alcohol, don't put cell phones in your bra, eat healthy) - Learn what the precursors to breast cancer are - Be aware that anyone at any age can get breast cancer so know your body and do self-exams - Talk to your mom and/or grandmother - Ask questions The rate of breast cancer in women under 40 is growing. Ultrasounds are a more effective screening for women under 40. Website: www.helenknollfoundation.org
- HIRE PATRIOTS.COM: Cliff Albert interviewed Mark Baird, CEO/Founder of HirePatriots.com and Bryan Wiggins, a former serviceman who did three tours in Iraq and has benefited from the program. The Hire a Patriot program provides a free community service to San Diego's civilians and military. It operates a job board on HirePatriots.com. Residents and businesses can hire a local US Marine or sailor to help with chores, repairs, hauling, painting, moving, cleaning, caretaking etc. HirePatriots.com, patriotichearts.org
- REALITY CHANGERS: Cliff Albert is joined by Christopher Yanov, Founder/President of Reality Changers; and Carlos Gomez, Graduate and Staff Member of Realty Changers. A local group called Reality Changers works to mentor and offer college scholarships to inner-city youth to help them become first generation college graduates. Reality Changers believes that college is everything. They shift the thinking of youth

by training them to think about college as a hope and way out of gang life, poverty, etc. The value of the program connects young people with college students and gives them the tools and resources they need. Resources include positive guidance, information, and knowledge; motivation; encouragement; hope; peer mentoring; tutoring; and access to college courses. To volunteer, make a financial contribution, offer space for mentoring, make home-cooked meals, tutor, etc., visit the website at www.realitychangers.org.

- SAN DIEGUITO RIVER VALLEY: Cliff Albert is joined by Trish Boaz, Executive Director of San Diego River Valley Conservancy, and Kevin McKernan of San Diego River Park to talk about efforts to act as conservators to the San Dieguito River Valley. Both organizations bring communities together with the Coast to Crest Trail from Del Mar to Julian. San Diego has a lot of great hiking, biking and equestrian trails. The goal is to continue and increase the trails from the coast to the mountains. The San Diego River Valley Conservancy was formed because new communities were growing and impacting the environment, and concerned San Diegans wanted to protect the area. Volunteers are needed to monitor wildlife along the trail and maintain the trail, throughout the year. Website: www.sdrvc.org
- SERIAL INEBRIATE PROGRAM: I'm Cliff Albert. Getting people off the streets is one challenge; another is keeping them off the streets. One local program focuses on a major factor that leads many people to a life of chronic homelessness - Alcohol. It's called the Serial Inebriate Program, or SIP. The program has been used in San Diego with success and the non-profit organization that developed it along with local law enforcement will be helping other cities develop programs to provide recovery and support services to homeless people who have issues with alcohol. Joining us on our show are SIP Program Manager, Deni McLagan and San Diego Police Officer, John Liening. Website: www.mhsinc.org
- SOLUTIONS FOR CHANGE: (No issue/program description given.)
- SPECIAL OLYMPICS WORLD GAMES: Special Edition of Community Connection: Los Angeles plays host to the 2015 Special Olympics World Games at the LA Coliseum. The Special Olympics provides people with intellectual disabilities the opportunity to come together to compete in over 25 sports. Athletes came from around the world. Lisa Foxx, host of MYLA, interviewed Jeff Carr, COO of Special Olympics World Games. They discussed the organization/planning that went into coordinating this spectacular event, along with countries that have hosted past events. San Diego also played a big part as a number of cities (National City, Encinitas, and El Cajon) hosted some of the people who participated in the Special Olympics. San Diegans opened their hearts and their homes to give the athletes and their families a little taste of the San Diego culture.
- SUMMER SAFETY: Cliff Albert talks to Oceanside Lt. Leonard Cosby from the Oceanside Police Department about Summer safety. As we enter into the summer months, the days are longer and the weather is warmer, making it a great time to explore, but not a good time to let down your guard because crime is year round. Oceanside Lt. Leonard Cosby is responsible for community policing for the department and he has some advice on how to stay safe in the summer months. The number one concern during the summer months should be to be mindful of your property. In Oceanside, there has been a surge in car break-ins in the last couple of months. Car break-ins can happen almost anywhere and almost any time of the day, and most times it only takes 30-60 seconds before they can strip your car of the radio and other electronic devices. Lock your car, and if you can take belongings with you, do that instead of leaving them in the car, or at the least, lock belongings in the trunk.

Section I
LOCAL PROGRAMMING
