[TAKE PKG] {PKG} [Anchor:EMANUEL] <PRESIDENT BIDEN, ON HIS WAY TO WISCONSIN TO TALK UP INFRASTRUCTURE - AND THE JOBS HE SAYS WILL COME WITH IT. BIDEN says: "To answer your direct question, we have a deal." LAST WEEK A BIPARTISAN GROUP OF SENATORS STRUCK A DEAL, AND PRESIDENT BIDEN PRAISED IT. IT'S A PRICEY PACKAGE - $1.2 TRILLION DOLLARS. BUT NOT BIG ENOUGH ACCORDING TO SOME PROGRESSIVES, WHO WANT A MUCH LARGER BILL COVERING CHILD CARE, CLIMATE CHANGE, AND EDUCATION. BUT THE WHITE HOUSE SAYS IT HAS THE NUMBERS. RICHMOND says: "We plan to pass them, just like we did the rescue plan. People keep underestimating us. We keep delivering. 09:14:40 THEY PLAN TO DELIVER BY PASSING THE SMALLER BIPARTISAN DEAL WITH REPUBLICAN HELP, AND THEN PASSING THE REST SEPARATELY WITH A SIMPLE MAJORITY -- BYPASSING THE FILIBUSTER THROUGH RECONCILIATION. PELOSI says: "There ain't gonna be no bipartisan bill unless there is a reconciliation bill." AT FIRST, PRESIDENT BIDEN SAID HE WOULD ONLY SIGN THE BIPARTISAN DEAL IF BOTH BILLS PASSED, THEN HE BACKTRACKED OVER THE WEEKEND. YORK says: "President Biden just said the quiet part out loud. The plan was to have him be Mr. Bipartisan while Nancy Pelosi plays tough partisan hardball." ((TAG)) IF ALL 50 DEMOCRATS STICK TOGETHER IT WOULD TAKE 10 REPUBLICANS TO PASS THE BIPARTISAN BILL THROUGH THE SENATE. BUT THAT'S NOT A DONE DEAL, BECAUSE MINORITY LEADER MITCH MCCONNELL STILL HASN'T SIGNALLED HIS SUPPORT. IN WASHINGTON, MIKE EMANUEL, FOX NEWS.>

That's actual brine leaking from this well, which hasn't been operational in decades and was supposed to be plugged back in the 90s. Nothing for the moment is stopping the leak. The environmental risk is obvious.01:52:22 we are going to have to monitor the ground water. Cover this. 01:53:13 I mean it has benzene in it, I'm not doctor but we know benzene is a carcinogen. 01:53:25 on camera the biggest thing that caused this is this well was drilled in the 1940's it's been in the ground since the 1940s, it's been in the ground for 60 something years it's been exposed to heat pressure and chemicals that degrade the quality of the steel pipe.Joe St. George @joestgeorge 1:04 - 1:14 04:45:20 what's happening behind me is rare to see up close, but for many it underscores the importance of the need to pass an infrastructure plan through Congress. To help with America's aging energy infrastructure.President Biden wants to spend $16 billion to clean up old oil and gas wells as part of his infrastructure plan. Whether that can pass is still unclear right now, but fixing oil wells is still part of a bipartisan framework that has been gaining steam in Congress.06:38 I don't know what's in that water, it's all coming from that blowoutAshley Williams Watt owns this ranch and says while government help would be nice, oil and gas companies should have prevented leaks like this in the first place.This leak is being cleaned up by Chevron who told us they are "taking responsibility" for the well and the surrounding area even though they recently sold their stake in minerals here to another company. The oil and gas company telling us they are committed to protecting the environmentFor Ashley all of this is still frustrating. Even though Chevron tells us their latest lab results show the drinking water on this ranch meets all standards. Ashley is worried about her cattle. After all, this isn't the only old well she has issues with, she found this one recently and believes that crude-looking black rock near the base of the pipes isn't supposed to be there.06.43 I have no confidence that it's drinkable I don't know if there health is in dangerWhile what's happening here is a worry for Ashley, what has both energy and government leaders even more concerned are old and gas sites that have no company claiming responsibility, putting the burden on taxpayers to clean them up. The EPA has estimated there are 2 million abandoned and unplugged oil and gas wells across the US.When a site doesn't have an owner willing to clean it up, they are often known as orphan wells.Because orphan wells pose a danger, state governments are forced to clean them up.Each orphan well cleanup costs taxpayers around $20,000.Congress giving $16 billion to clean sites like this up would go a long way.01.54.52 you can't have cattle without clean waterAs for Sarah she just hopes this brewing crisis with old oil and gas sites doesn't get worse. Although she fears it will.01:53:40 we need to fix thisIn Monahans Texas. I'm Joe St. George.

6-25-2021 4P DANGERS OF OLD OIL WELLS IN DEPTH
[TAKE PKG] {PKG} [Anchor:ST. GEORGE] This is how the majority of America's energy is generated. And while every day nearly two million wells in the U.S. function just like they are supposed to Orphan Wells_B CAM_RAW 8.43 this is the button of an ancient see Sarah Stogner is taking us on a tour to show us how more and more issues are happening with our country's aging oil and gas industry. this is an active blowout Our first stop an active leak investigation on a ranch outside Midland, Texas. That's actual brine leaking from this well, which hasn't been operational in decades and was supposed to be plugged back in the 90s. Nothing for the moment is stopping the leak. The environmental risk is obvious. 01:52:22 we are going to have to monitor the ground water. Cover this. 01:53:13 I mean it has benzene in it, I'm not doctor but we know benzene is a carcinogen. 01:53:25 on camera the biggest thing that caused this is this well was drilled in the 1940's it's been in the ground since the 1940s, it's been in the ground for 60 something years it's been exposed to heat pressure and chemicals that degrade the quality of the steel pipe. Joe St. George @joestgeorge 1:04 - 1:14 04:45:20 what's happening behind me is rare to see up close, but for many it underscores the importance of the need to pass an infrastructure plan through Congress. To help with America's aging energy infrastructure. President Biden wants to spend $16 billion to clean up old oil and gas wells as part of his infrastructure plan. Whether that can pass is still unclear right now, but fixing oil wells is still part of a bipartisan framework that has been gaining steam in Congress. 06:38 I don't know what's in that water, it's all coming from that blowout Ashley Williams Watt owns this ranch and says while government help would be nice, oil and gas companies should have prevented leaks like this in the first place. This leak is being cleaned up by Chevron who told us they are "taking responsibility" for the well and the surrounding area even though they recently sold their stake in minerals here to another company. The oil and gas company telling us they are committed to protecting the environment For Ashley all of this is still frustrating. Even though Chevron tells us their latest lab results show the drinking water on this ranch meets all standards. Ashley is worried about her cattle. After all, this isn't the only old well she has issues with, she found this one recently and believes that crude-looking black rock near the base of the pipes isn't supposed to be there. 06:43 I have no confidence that it's drinkable I don't know if there health is in danger While what's happening here is a worry for Ashley, what has both energy and government leaders even more concerned are old and gas sites that have no company claiming responsibility, putting the burden on taxpayers to clean them up. The EPA has estimated there are 2 million abandoned and unplugged oil and gas wells across the US. When a site doesn't have an owner willing to clean it up, they are often known as orphan wells. Because orphan wells pose a danger, state governments are forced to clean them up. Each orphan well cleanup costs taxpayers around $20,000. Congress giving $16 billion to clean sites like this up would go a long way. 01:54:52 you can't have cattle without clean water As for Sarah she just hopes this brewing crisis with old oil and gas sites doesn't get worse. Although she fears it will. 01:53:40 we need to fix this In Monahans Texas. I'm Joe St. George.

< They are images that at times have been difficult to watch over the last few months, at times stunning. Migrants attempting to jump fences and walls at the southern border only to be taken into custody by border patrol agents shortly thereafter. Our cameras captured this video back in March. This week though Vice President Kamala Harris is attempting to address it with her first international trip as vice president. She's in Guatemala on Monday and Mexico on Tuesday. Her first stop is in a region known as the Northern Triangle composing Guatemala, El Salvador and Honduras. It's essential to solving the migration influx experts say because it's estimated each year over 100 thousand people leave their homes and cross Mexico in an attempt to enter into the United States. Joe St George @joestgeorge 0:46-0:54 Vice President Harris's mission? Try to make citizens of Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Mexico and elsewhere stay where they are and not make the dangerous journey to the United States. 1:50 if you travel to Guatemala you won't find a single family that hasn't been impacted by migration Noah Gottschalk is an international policy analyst with Oxfam International, a group that fights poverty across the globe. He says the Vice President has a tough task with the wealth gap there and corruption which leave families little choice but to try and leave. 2:55 Guatemala isn't a poor country, It's a middle income country but it's got some of the worst wealth inequality anywhere in the world. 2:05 it's moms and dad's who are simply trying to find safety for themselves for their families their kids because there is a threat of gangs, not having enough food on the table Prior to trip, the Vice President announced these companies and institutions are committing resources to the region to create jobs and education opportunities, all in an effort to keep people there. As for the latest on what's going on at the border. In April, 178 thousand 622 migrants were apprehended trying to enter the United States. That doesn't count the ones who successfully entered A 20-year high. According to the Department of Homeland Security, around 111,000 of those migrants were removed from the United States. 6-30-2021 4P COVID UNVACCINATED RISK
[TAKE PKG] {PKG} [Anchor:GROSSMAN] Social behavior dictates that when speaking about the majority, attention will naturally shift to the minority0:48 "Today we have 5 patients hospitalized..."Those who society dictates have chosen to be different2:41 "We have observed a direct correlation with the vaccination rate and the decrease rate of hospitalizations."But on this day, Dr. Phil Stahel, the medical director of one of our nation's larger hospitals in Aurora, Colorado, wants to focus on the majority because here- in his hospital- it's a copy of much of the country. The majority those not vaccinated -- are the ones who still need his help1:48 "Those few patients... are young, really sick, and almost without exception not vaccinated."STAND UPIf you want to see how effective the vaccine just take a look at this empty corridor. At the start of COVID in March of last year this was this hospital's first COVID wing when every one of these rooms were full with more than 100 patients. Today, that number stands at 5, all of whom are behind a closed door at the end of the hall, and all of whom are unvaccinated.GRAPHICAcross the country that observation holds. CDC data shows only 150 of the more than 18,000 COVID deaths in May were among fully vaccinated people, and since the vaccine rolled out in December, only 608 people have died due to COVID despite being vaccinated. The point- according to Dr. Stahel- it works.4:44 "Recently we had a young gentleman in his mid-30's, father of a young family, four young children, and he was signed up to get the vaccine one week later and he passed from COVID in spite of maximum therapy with intubation."With new, more contagious and dangerous COVID variants circulating, Stahel says he wants to keep his focus on the majority- the 54% of Americans who are not fully vaccinated- and say this1:08 "Those who are hesitant getting vaccinated- we use the analogy of wearing a seatbelt. A seatbelt does not protect you from potentially dying in a car crash, and the vaccine does not cure COVID. It adds an additional layer of protection."I'm Dan Grossman6-29-2021 4P DEPTH LAYER ON RECENT MAJOR FIRES

JUSTIN JONES, A HEALTH AND WELLNESS CONSULTANT WITH REGENCE SAYS MENS HEALTH MONTH IS A GOOD EXCUSE TO TRY TO MAKE A FEW IMPROVEMENTS. Just a few lifestyle changes along with a little bit of awareness can really go a long ways. FOCUS ON YOUR DIET – SEEING FOOD AS FUEL. EAT THIS, NOT THAT Whole, unprocessed foods Fried, packaged, processed foods Chicken and fatty fish Red meat Fruits and veggies rich in fiber Full-fat dairy products Nuts, seeds, and whole grains Trans fats Vegetable and olive oils Processed vegetable oil, including canola) 1:10 So more whole foods, unprocessed foods, our proteins need to be high in protein and low in fat, such as chicken, fish and even nuts. HE SAYS IT'S OK TO ENJOY BREAD AND PASTA – BUT TRY TO CHOOSE A WHOLE GRAIN OPTION WITH NO ADDED SUGAR AND REMEMBER EATING HEALTHY DOESN'T HAVE TO BE BORING. TRY SOMETHING NEW, AND EXPERIMENT WITH SEASONINGS. AND JUSTIN SAYS REAL MEN EAT SALADS. 1:50 If you can make your refrigerator a little mini salad bar with lots of vegetables, like of different colored vegetables, lettuces, and then your proteins. FOCUSING ON WHAT YOU CAN ADD TO YOUR DIET, NOT TAKE AWAY. AND INCORPORATE SOME EXERCISE. 3:13 Exercise can come in all different forms and fashion. HE SAYS CONSIDER STARTING A CHALLENGE WITH FAMILY OR FRIENDS OR SET A GOAL AND WORK TO ATTAIN IT. 3:16 One number that I want you to think about is 150 and that's the number of minutes I want you to get in moderate intensity exercise. THAT BREAKS DOWN TO ABOUT 30 MINUTES FIVE DAYS A WEEK. 5:24 Go out explore, hike. It's a great way to get your 150 minutes in. AND DON'T FORGET THOSE REGULAR CHECKUPS WITH THE DOCTOR. HE SAYS WOMEN ARE WINNING WITH THAT. JUSTIN SAYS DON'T BE THAT GUY WHO WAITS UNTIL HE'S SICK TO SEE THE DOCTOR. SCREENINGS CAN CATCH SOMETHING THAT COULD REALLY STOP YOU IN YOUR TRACKS. THE TALIBAN DENIED RESPONSIBILITY FOR THIS ATTACK... ..BUT THE BOMBING HIGHLIGHTS MAJOR CONCERNS ABOUT THE FUTURE FOR WOMEN IN THE REGION.(NATPOP) ACCORDING TO A RECENT REPORT FROM THE DIRECTOR OF NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE... ..THE ABSENCE OF U-S TROOPS COULD CREATE OPPORTUNITIES FOR THE TALIBAN TO ONCE AGAIN SEIZE CONTROL. PART OF THE UNCLASSIFIED DOCUMENT SAYS, QUOTE: "THE TALIBAN REMAIN BROADLY CONSISTENT IN ITS RESTRICTIVE APPROACH TO WOMEN'S RIGHTS AND WOULD ROLL BACK MUCH OF THE PAST TWO DECADES' PROGRESS IF THE GROUP REGAINED NATIONAL POWER." SERAJ says: "We keep on yelling and screaming, and saying, for God sakes, at least do something with the Taliban." OFFICIALS POINT TO THE HEIGHT OF TALIBAN CONTROL DURING THE 90'S... ..WHEN MOST WOMEN HAD NO ACCESS TO AN EDUCATION, WERE TOLD TO REMAIN IN THEIR HOMES AND TO COVER THEIR FACES, AND WERE PUNISHED FOR BREAKING RELIGIOUS LAWS. How much carbon is given off by those mowers? But we're also looking at are these sheep fertilizing these lawns? And so reducing the need for fertilizer." SHEEP ARE GRAZERS BY NATURE EATING LOW TO THE GROUND... AS OPPOSED TO GOATS WHICH ARE BROWSERS THAT CAN CHEW UP TREES, WIRES AND ANYTHING ELSE THEY CAN REACH. (NATS: "We're here.") HAVEN'S STUDENT SHEPHERDS ARE ALSO MEASURING THE REACTION OF HUMANS TO THE SHEEP IN THE EXPERIMENT AREA... TO SEE IF THEY CAN PLAY A MORE VISIBLE AND SOOTHING ROLE AS PART OF THE CAMPUS LANDSCAPE. 4P YOU ARE NOT ALONE

[Anchor:AMY] < 3:47 Everyone at some point in their lives experiences a mental health condition. ROB WESEMANN, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF NAMI UTAH – A NON PROFIT PROVIDING MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES IN OUR AREA. 2:07 In general, about 1 in 5 individuals experience a diagnosable mental health condition in the course of a year. HE SAYS THAT CAN RANGE FROM STRUGGLING WITH YOUR SOCIAL AND PSYCHOLOGICAL WELLBEING TO DIFFICULTY IN DOING WHAT YOU USED TO BE ABLE TO DO OR IN HOW YOU HANDLE STRESS. THIS PAST YEAR, THAT NUMBER HAS GONE UP. INSTEAD OF 1 IN 5 RECENT STUDIES SHOW 1 IN 3 PEOPLE REPORT EXPERIENCING ANXIETY OR DEPRESSION DURING THE PANDEMIC. 1:13 It has affected all of us. We've had changes that were unexpected. We've had situations we didn't know what was going to happen. We've had huge uncertainty. AND FOR MANY, ISOLATION – NO LONGER CONNECTING WITH FRIENDS AND FAMILY LIKE WE USED TO. 7:21 Over the last year we had to change how we did that. So just a simple phonecall, a simple text message, a simple phonecall just hey how are you doing today I think is really important. ACKNOWLEDGING BIG STRIDES HAVE BEEN MADE IN OVERCOMING THE STIGMA OFTEN ASSOCIATING WITH SEEKING HELP, BUT HE SAYS WE ALL NEED TO DO A LITTLE MORE WHEN IT COMES TO MAKING THOSE DELIBERATE CONNECTIONS, CHECKING IN ON LOVED ONES AND NEIGHBORS. 4:33 It's intimidating reaching out to folks, because you're kind of worried that you'll be responsible to 'fix' the situation. And that's not really not the case. Really what we're looking for is connectedness. If you notice something different about a loved one or a friend, it's okay to say how are you how you doing? And then just be there and listen to that person talk because that's how we begin our mental health journey if you will, is someone just reaching out and saying hey, how are you doing. And we will talk much more about mental health as a part of our new initiative You're Not Alone, each Tuesday here at Fox 13. Amy Nay, Fox 13 News Utah. >

 [TAKE PKG] {PKG}<((SOT)) ((VERBATIM)) OPENING MONTAGE PACED TO MUSIC PKG INTRO ((VO)) TIME TO GO GROCERY SHOPPING! BUT THIS TIME FOR OUR PUPS.... ((SOT)) 3:27-3:29 there's a lot of things to consider when choosing a food to feed your dog. ((VO)) SO TO HELP US SHOP FOR OUR PET'S FOOD LIKE A PRO, WE TURNED TO VETERINARIAN DR. JOSH SOSNOW. (SAUCE- NOW) FIRST UP, HE SAYS COSIDER YOUR DOG'S AGE AND BREED ((SOT)) 3:31-3:40 one of the most important things is to consider life stage as well as the potential, uh, for any disease risks that may exist because of a breed predisposition. HE SAYS TALK TO YOUR VET BECAUSE CHOOSING FOOD IS NOT A ONE SIZE FITS ALL . THERE ARE- ((SOT)) 12:32-12:34 different breeds and different diseases that a breed might be at risk for. ((SOT)) 13:59-14:08 We're not likely to feed them in a way that stops them from getting a disease necessarily, but if we can minimize the impact, um, that can lessen the severity of the disease NEXT - HE SAYS STAY AWAY FROM MARKETING BUZZ WORDS ((SOT)) 8:35-8:46 anytime you see terms like premium or super premium, um, those terms don't have any real meaning in the pet food industry. Um, it's, it's a marketing term more than a term that really describes or defines something in the diet. DR. JOSH SAYS THE SAME GOES FOR THE PHRASE 'THE BEST'. ((SOT)) 24:07-24:13 what's best for one pet, maybe different for another. Um, there's no such thing as the best pet food. MOVING ALONG WITH LOOK FOR AN AAFCO (AF-CO) STATEMENT ((SOT)) 7:58-8:01 AFCO stands for the association of American feed control officials. ((SOT)) 4:07- 4:16 AFCO feeding statement is a statement on the pet food label that indicates that the pet food has undergone tremendous amount of research and actually been trialed HE SAYS LOOKING AT INGREDIENTS IN DOG FOOD IS A LITTLE LESSS STRAIGHTFORWARD THAN IT WOULD BE IN HUMAN DIET- ((SOT)) 9:55-10:05 This is why you're looking for something like an AFCO statement is important because you can have confidence that in fact, um, the diet has all the things it's supposed to contain if it has one of these statements. FINALLY- LET'S SETTLE THIS ONE ONCE AND FOR ALL.... SHOULD WE BUY GRAIN OR GRAIN -FREE FOOD? ((SOT)) 17:24-17:33 There was a concern for a time of that. Grain-free diets may predispose certain types of patients to heart disease, but on subsequent evaluation, it turns out that that doesn't seem to be the case. HE SAYS GRAINS CAN ACTUALLY BE A VALUABLE PART A DOG'S DIET... ((SOT)) 17:15 grains/ 17:19-17:22 can be quite nutrient dense as well as providing fiber in the diet. AND AT THE END OF THE DAY.. HE SAYS- CALL YOUR VET CUS- ((SOT)) 6:12-6:16 a veterinarian is going to be most helpful to determine which diets are most appropriate. NOW WE CAN BE CONFIDENT WE ARE GIVING OUR PUPS THE BEST WITH TIPS ON CHOOSING THE RIGHT PET FOOD.>

ALTHOUGH THE ROM-COM IS SO MAINLY FOR LANGUAGE... SO IF YOU CAN PUT UP WITH THAT, YOU'RE IN FOR A GOOD TIME. BUT LET'S START WITH THAT HARDER R... "THOSE WHO WISH ME DEAD". ANGELINA JOLIE HELPS A TEENAGER WHO FINDS HIMSELF PURSUED BY TWIN ASSASSINS IN THE MONTANA WILDERNESS WHILE A FOREST FIRE THREATENS TO CONSUME THEM ALL.<MOVIE CLIP NATS> WELL, NORMALLY YOU CAN TRUST WRITER/DIRECTOR TAYLOR SHERIDAN TO *BRING IT! I MEAN, HE BROUGHT YOU "SICARIO," "HELL OR HIGH WATER," "WIND RIVER" AND KEVIN COSTNER'S "YELLOWSTONE". BUT HE WROTE ALL OF THOSE... IN FACT HE WROTE *AND DIRECTED "WIND RIVER" WHICH IS CRAZY-STRONG. BUT HERE, ALTHOUGH HE DOES DIRECT, HE'S ONLY ONE OF *THREE WRITERS, AND IT'S BASED ON A BOOK THAT HE DIDN'T WRITE. MAYBE THAT'S WHY *THIS FILM JUST DOESN'T CONSISTENTLY CRACKLE.OH JOLIE GIVES A GREAT PERFORMANCE, AS DOES THE SUPPORTING CAST WHICH INCLUDES JON BERNTHAL AND NICHOLAS HOULT! BUT THE INTERNAL LOGIC IS WEAK, THE PACING IS OFF, ASPECTS OF THE PLOT ARE DOWNRIGHT SILLY... SO THE WHOLE THING JUST FEELS LIKE A B-MOVIE COMPLETE WITH WAY TOO MUCH CGI AND A KINDA CHEESY SOUNDTRACK. TURNS OUT SHERIDAN'S DIRECTING IS THE BEST THING ABOUT "THOSE WHO WISH ME DEAD." IF NOT FOR THAT, MY GRADE WOULD CERTAINLY BE MUCH LOWER THAN AN ABOVE-AVERAGE " C+ ". IN FACT.. I ALMOST FELT AS THOUGH I COULD DETECT *HIS PARTS OF THE SCRIPT. I KINDA WISH THEY'D JUST LET HIM TAKE CHARGE OF IT COMPLETELY, BUT I ALSO WONDER IF THE SOURCE MATERIAL JUST IS WHAT IT IS. NOW, A DOWN-ON-HIS-LUCK STRUGGLING WRITER, AN ENIGMATIC WOMAN... THEY FIND EACH OTHER JUST IN TIME.... FOR A "LONG WEEKEND."<MOVIE CLIP NATS> NOW I KNOW THAT WASN'T A LONG OR DETAILED CLIP, BUT I DON'T WANT TO GIVE ANYTHING AWAY WITH THIS CHARMING AND THOUGHTFUL ROM COM... WITH A TWIST. BETWEEN THE ACTORS' GREAT DELIVERY OF THE WELL-WRITTEN DIALOG AND THE ONSCREEN CHEMISTRY OF THE TWO MAIN LEADS... FINN WITTROCK AND ZOË CHAO FROM HBO'S LOVE LIFE.. THIS DELIGHTFUL LITTLE FILM HAS IT ALL... EXCEPT FOR A SCRIPT THAT'S JUUUUST LOOSE ENOUGH TO HAVE SOME ISSUES HERE AND THERE. BUT THEY'RE MINOR AND THE REST OF THE FILM'S POSITIVE ASPECTS CERTAINLY OVERCOMES ITS PLOTHOLES. MEANWHILE THE DIRECTION IS RUDIMENTAL, BUT THAT KEEPS IT FROM GETTING IN THE WAY OF THE HEART OF THE FILM - THE BUDDING RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN WITTROCK AND CHAO. WATCHING THEM IS WONDERFUL, AND THE SUPPORTING CAST DOES A GREAT JOB, TOO. OVERALL, THIS WAS AN UNEXPECTED AND ENJOYABLE FILM. IT ALSO ZIPS ALONG AT 91 MINUTES, SO IT DOESN'T OUTSTAY ITS WELCOME. I GIVE " LONG WEEKEND " A SOLID " B". IT IS A SHAME IT'S RATED R, MAINLY FOR LANGUAGE. IF THEY'D TONED THAT DOWN, IT WOULD'VE MADE FOR A MUCH MORE ACCESSIBLE PG-13 FILM. IT IS AVAILABLE VIA APPLETV AND FANDANGO NOW. RICH BONADUCE FOR KSTU FOX 13 SALT LAKE CITY.>

Is it purring along like it's supposed to, or is it making any kind of noise?" Donley said. It guarantees your ability to be able to defend yourself or fight back.AND THAT MEANS TRAINING...WHICH IS EASER HERE."there you go just like that"THE LASER CARTRIDGES ARE MUCH CHEAPER THAN BUYING AMMO FOR A LIVE RANGE.AND THE CLASSES ARE IN HELD IN THE CITY'S HISTORIC BLACK NEIGHBORHOOD.MAKING THIS A PLACE FOR DIVERSITY—A PLACE FOR INCLUSION."who wants to try this?"Whether from our Latino brethren or LGBTQ family, they all say pretty much the same thing is like, hey, you know, we feel comfortable here. Wow, that was fun!"I just actually fell in love with it.MAYBE NICK COULD BUILD A COOL GFX WITH THE PATTERN OF THE FIRING RANGE PAPER FILLING UP A PIE CHART WITH OUR STATS.AND SHE'S NOT ALONE—WOMEN MADE 40% OF GUN PURCHASES IN 2020...AND GUN SALES TO BLACK AMERICANS WERE UP BY 60%.ALMOST HALF OF THE RECORD BREAKING 20 MILLION GUNS SOLD LAST YEAR WERE TO FIRST TIME BUYERS...LIKE SONYA EDWARDS.I finally said, let's do it, because I think this is something that needed to be done in my heart. we just need to be protected because anything and everything is happening right now.BOTH THESE WOMEN JOINED THE CLUB TO FIND SAFETY IN A TIME OF UNCERTAINTY.I think that's a fear for, you know, anybody of color.We're not that soft target anymore. You know, we're gaining knowledge and we're starting to become a hard target.EVERY NIGHT AT THE RANGE IS HELPING BREAK DOWN BARRIERS AND BUILD COMMUNITY.I like the armory because while they are black owned, they're not black exclusive.MAKING GUN OWNERSHIP MORE ACCESSIBLE...AND GIVING THESE WOMEN A SPACE IN A MALE-DOMINATED WORLD.yeah! [TAKE :ON CAM] {ON CAM} [Anchor:JENNY] {JENNY}Billie Eilish is ushering in a new era. [TAKE VO] {VO}In the June issue of British Vogue, which was unveiled on Sunday, the 19-year-old singer ditched her trademark baggy clothes for a "classic, old-timey pin-up" look — an idea which she came up with herself. "I've literally never done anything in this realm at all," said the singer, before quipping, "Y'know, besides when I'm alone and ----." Eilish, who first debuted her new light blonde hair last month, wears a series of vintage-inspired outfits for the bold photoshoot. In one image, she wears a custom trench coat and corset by Burberry, while also showing off a tattoo she got last year, which she previously told fans they'd never see. Other photos show the Grammy winner wearing a custom catsuit and corset by Mugler, as well as a corset dress from Alexander McQueen paired with latex gloves, suspender belt and stockings from Atsuko Kudo. "If I'm honest with you, I hate my stomach, and that's why," Eilish said of what drew her to corsets.Eilish went on to note in the interview that not all responses to the photoshoot will likely be positive. "If you're about body positivity, why would you wear a corset? Why wouldn't you show your actual body?" " she said of one possible response."My thing is that I can do whatever I want," she said. "It's all about what makes you feel good. If you want to get surgery, go get surgery. If you want to wear a dress that somebody thinks that you look too big wearing, f--- it — if you feel like you look good, you look good."Addressing the unfair standards women are often held to based on the way they dress, Eilish added that "showing your body and showing your skin — or not — should not take away any respect from you."

[TAKE PKG] {PKG} [Anchor:STEWART] TRACK: You won't find many places like Hamtramck, Michigan. AHMED: "As the saying goes in Hamtramck city it is the world in 2.2 square miles. TRACK: In recent decades, thousands of immigrants have moved here from places such as Yemen and Bangladesh. There are more people who are muslim here than any other religion. AHMED: "In our school district we have 19 languages overall." TRACK: Superintendent Jaleelah Hassan Ahmed says while her students are a beautiful example of diversity...her district faces challenges that shouldn't be found in the U.S. AHMED "Having a school district that is high poverty, a community that is high poverty it comes with a lot of challenges." TRACK: The average American school is about 44 years old.. TRACK: The building, Superintendent Ahmed brought us to is more than twice as old. TRACK: She say for the last 30 years this school has used portable trailers as classrooms to ease overcrowding. The trailers started at out as temporary, but they've never left because the building, which houses an elementary and middle school isn't big enough. AHMED: "This is not the perfect environment that anyone would want their children to be in, to be in a gated, one room classroom, this is not America. This is not education in America." TRACK: But her district is expecting a more than 35-million-dollar boost through President Biden's covid relief plan, which breaks down to about 15-thousand dollars per student. CHRIS: "What does that mean when you hear 15-thousand per student here?" AHMED: "I wanted cry when I had a mix of emotions from crying to excitement and I was like tell me is this real? Is this real?" TRACK: Money is allocated based on a community's overall income level. Across the country the average increase per student is about 4-thousand dollars. That's according to non-profit education group chalkbeat. TRACK: In neighboring Detroit, they're expecting about 23-thousand dollars per student. AHMED: "You can't say to school districts to go back to in person when you know that you failed them basically, you failed them for all these years by not updating the deplorable facilities." TRACK: Superintendent Ahmed said she can't use the money to buy a new building, but she can use it to update her district's schools, some are so old they're designated historical landmarks. PATTY: "This window is our rescue window...this is the extent of being able to open our window." TRACK: Like the windows in middle school teacher Patty Erwin's room. CHRIS: "So if there's a fire and you don't have a big person to lift it?" PATTY: "This is it; I'll get big, I'll find the strength if there is a fire, but I can't open this window!" TRACK: She's taught in Hamtramck for the past four years. PATTY: "This building is 100 years old, and it needs massive investment that our community can't support, and it's not that they don't care about education, it's not that they don't care about the investment...they don't have the money!" AHMED: "It's hard to see it took this crisis, this pandemic, to help them realize the deficit we were in when it came to providing the infrastructure that students are owed." TRACK: As we measure the first 100 days of a new administration, Superintendent Ahmed says we need to look to the next 100, and past this pandemic, because when it comes to education, the work is far from over. AHMED: "I say we...I'm strong about the pronoun use we...educators, politicians, parents, students, everyone needs to be at the table to discuss, reflect on what's occurred, practices, things we could have done better and looking to see how we can better improve the field of education all together."

4-14-2021 5P WHAT IF WASHINGTON DC BECOMES A STATE
[Anchor:JOE ST. GEORGE] [TAKE PKG] {PKG} MOMENTUM FOR ADDING ANOTHER STAR TO THE AMERICAN FLAG CONTINUES IN CONGRESS. TO MAKE D.C. OR ANY OTHER TERRITORY A STATE IT MUST FIRST PASS THE HOUSE, WHICH IT DID LAST YEAR AND IS EXPECTED TO AGAIN SOON.AND THEN IT MUST PASS THE SENATE, WHERE THERE IS STILL A GIANT QUESTION MARK IF A VOTE WILL TAKE PLACE. FROM THERE IT WOULD COULD GO PRESIDENT BIDEN FOR APPROVAL. BUT IT TURNS OUR SOMETHING NEW MUST BE CREATED IF WASHINGTON, D.C. EVER BECOMES AN OFFICIAL STATE, IMPACTING THE U.S. CAPITOL AND THE WHITE HOUSE. YOU SEE ARTICLE 1 SECTION 8 OF THE CONSTITUTION SAYS THE SEAT OF GOVERNMENT IN OUR COUNTRY CAN'T BE IN ANOTHER STATE. OUR FOUNDING FATHERS DIDN'T WANT ONE STATE TO BE MORE INFLUENTIAL THAN ANOTHER. IT'S WHY THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA WAS CREATED IN THE FIRST PLACE. SO SUPPORTERS HAVE PROPOSED CREATING A NEW, SMALLER DISTRICT IF D.C. GETS STATEHOOD. IT WOULD STRETCH ROUGHLY FROM THE SUPREME COURT TO THE US CAPITOL ALL ACROSS THE NATIONAL MALL AND UP TO THE WHITE HOUSE.IT'S UNCLEAR WHAT THIS NEW FEDERAL DISTRICT WOULD BE CALLED BUT IT'S A MAJOR REASON WHY A HOUSE COMMITTEE MET WEDNESDAY TO TAKE A VOTE. [Notes:STANDUP] SO WILL ANY OF THIS ACTUALLY HAPPEN? WELL AT THE MOMENT IT STILL SEEMS UNLIKELY.WHILE D.C. STATEHOOD HAS SUPPORT IN THE HOUSE, CURRENTLY IT DOESN'T HAVE THE VOTES IN THE SENATE AND IT'S HARD TO SEE THAT CHANGING ANYTIME SOON. ONE REASON?DEMOCRATS

AND REPUBLICANS WOULD HAVE TO BE SUPPORTIVE. ALL YOU HAVE TO DO IS LOOK AT THE LAST ELECTION RESULTS TO SEE WHY SOME REPUBLICANS ARE LEERY. 93% OF THE CITY VOTED FOR JOE BIDEN 5% OF THE CITY VOTED FOR DONALD TRUMP.D.C. STATEHOOD WOULD ALMOST CERTAINLY MEAN TWO MORE DEMOCRATIC UNITED STATES SENATORS.STILL THOUGH THE DEBATE RAGES ON. AS A COUNTRY WE ARE CURRENTLY IN OUR LONGEST PERIOD EVER OF NOT ADMITTING ANY NEW STATES.IN WASHINGTON, I'M JOE ST. GEORGE.

4-13-2021 9A SUMMER TRAVEL TRENDS
[Notes:START @ :10] [TAKE PKG] {PKG} [Anchor:RHOADES] < I'm talking to reps from three big travel brands to find out what they're seeing in their research about upcoming travel trends. Let's start with The Points Guy's Melanie Lieberman. Their survey found broad support for... Nearly half of people said they would actually prefer to visit a destination or travel with a provider that is requiring proof of a COVID-19 vaccination. Which might mean that having that vaccination card is like having... Willy Wonka & the Chocolate Factory (singing) I've got a golden ticket! The golden ticket! There's some logic happening here. If COVID-related safety fears are preventing travel, preventing COVID is the ticket out. SOT Most travelers right now, they do understand that showing proof of a COVID-19 vaccination could really be the key to reopening travel. We know that this is going to be a requirement either to get out of a quarantine, to skip COVID-19 testing. It might be your only way into certain destinations. So for people who really want to travel, showing proof of a COVID-19 vaccine feels for a lot of people like the next natural step, the next thing they have to do to get back out there. Let's move to research from our next big travel brand: Travelocity's Melissa Dohmen says people are easing back in with what they're calling... THE TOE-DIP TRIP. [Notes:CUT THIS SOT OUT 1:14-1:31] <We're not taking big, bucket-list trips right now. We're actually seeing people are easing back into travel and they're doing something we're calling Toe-Dip Trips, which are shorter trips, close to home, often to a familiar destination, maybe a place you know and love very well. And lots of people have the itch. SOT> <60% of travelers told us they're planning their first post-pandemic trip sometime this spring or summer, which means that people are anxious or excited to get back out there. And as "toe-dip" implies... Weekend getaways and staycations are starting to make a comeback in the Midwest. So places like Chicago and Detroit, Indianapolis, Kansas City, we're seeing an interest to go back to some of those places that we know and love. VO And toe-tipping suggests keeping the option to decide not to dive in. So people who are booking flights... They're booking with flexibility. So they're looking for flights and hotel options that allow them to cancel their trip very easy so that if they change their mind, they can change their trip. Finally, Marriott's Sarah Dandashy says there's a trend toward... WHOLE-HOME RENTALS, and booking segment that Marriott's getting into. Travelers are opting to rent whole homes for their getaways. It can be affordable... Depending on the location, bedrooms can actually average less than a hundred dollars a night. So it's more economical than you may think. VO It can provide a sense of safety... People are really wanting to travel in their pods, stay with their families, especially now we're seeing far more families opt for multi-generational trips. So everyone from grandparents to grandkids. And just like when you rent an expensive car... You get to sort of dream for a bit, almost take these new homes for a test drive. What is it like to have that state-of-the-art kitchen or a home with a movie theater or private pools and exercise equipment. So really taking advantage of these whole home rentals to kind of explore what these big dream homes are like to live in. Travel trends as we emerge from a pandemic, are at the Top of The List. >

4-9-2021 11A COVID BOOSTER SHOTS
[Anchor:STAAHL] <ALL OF THE U-S VACCINES ARE EFFECTIVE AGAINST SEVERE COVID-19... BUT STUDIES ARE SHOWING THEY'RE SOMEWHAT LESS EFFECTIVE AGAINST CERTAIN VARIANTS, PARTICULARLY THE ONE DISCOVERED IN SOUTH AFRICA. THAT VARIANT HAS MUTATIONS THAT ALLOW IT TO ESCAPE A NUMBER OF THE ANTIBODIES GENERATED BY THE VACCINES. SO PFIZER, MODERNA AND J&J ARE RESPONDING... AND YOU COULD THEIR FIRST STRATEGY A "BASIC BOOSTER." IT'S THE EXACT SAME FORMULA GIVEN ONE EXTRA TIME... A THIRD SHOT IN THE CASE OF PFIZER AND MODERNA." That has the advantage of simplicity, because you don't need to test the safety or efficacy of another vaccine." DR. ALESSANDRO SETTE OF THE LA JOLLA INSTITUTE FOR IMMUNOLOGY SAYS IT'S THE EASIEST APPROACH TO TEST AND MANUFACTURE.. AND THE IDEA IS TO HAVE STRENGTH IN NUMBERS." Basically you can stop the virus by starting your immunity at a much higher level." EVEN THOUGH THE VARIANTS CAN DODGE SOME OF THE ANTIBODIES.. THE CONCEPT IS TO SIMPLY BOOST THE TOTAL NUMBER OF ANTIBODIES... PFIZER PROJECTS IT'LL INCREASE 10 TO 20 FOLD WITH ONE MORE SHOT. BUT THE TIMING OF THE BOOSTER WILL BE KEY... SAYS DR. JOHN BRADLEY OF RADY CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL." theoretical possibility that if I get a booster of that same vaccine, especially within a fairly short period of time, I'll have an even stronger reaction." JUST LIKE YOUR BODY NEEDS TO REST AND RECOVER AFTER A WORKOUT... REST MAY ALSO PLAY A ROLE IN VACCINES. THE COMPANIES ARE EXPERIMENTING WITH BOOSTERS GIVEN 6 TO 12 MONTHS LATER. THE SECOND STRATEGY IS CALLED A STRAIN-ADAPTED VACCINE. THIS IS WHEN SCIENTISTS COME UP WITH A NEW RECIPE SPECIFICALLY FOR A VARIANT." The fact that we can take an mRNA vaccine and just immediately reprogram it with a new variant is an interesting concept and I think is one of the major innovations in terms of vaccine development." PFIZER, MODERNA AND J&J ARE ALL WORKING ON SHOTS WITH RECIPES TAILORED TO THE SPIKE PROTEIN IN THE SOUTH AFRICA VARIANT. BUT WHAT IF A COUNTRY GETS HIT WITH A DIFFERENT VARIANT OR

THE VIRUS MUTATES AGAIN?MODERNA AND J&J ARE TESTING A THIRD STRATEGY CALLED A multivalent booster.IT'S A BLEND -- LIKE AN ARNOLD PALMER, WHERE SCIENTISTS MIX THE ORIGINAL VACCINE WITH AN UPDATED RECIPE IN THE SAME SHOT."That's what we get for influenza each year. Influenza changes mutates and so we need new vaccines each year. And what we do is we pick the most prevalent strains that are likely to circulate and we put those in the current vaccine for that upcoming season."THE DOWNSIDE IS THAT A MULTIVALENT SHOT CAN MORE COMPLICATED TO MANUFACTURE AND TEST... FOR NOW, PFIZER IS NOT PURSUING IT.THE FOURTH STRATEGY IS THE MOST EXPERIMENTAL... AND PROBABLY THE FARTHEST OFF: WHAT DR. SETTE CALLS THE "SPIKE PLUS" APPROACH."Spike is really the best target for neutralizing antibodies, but there are several other proteins."SOME COMPANIES LIKE Gritstone Oncology IN CALIFORNIA WANT TO MAKE A VACCINE THAT GOES AFTER MULTIPLE SPOTS ON THE VIRUS.. NOT JUST THE SPIKE PROTEIN THAT ALL OF THE CURRENT SHOTS ARE BASED ON."Other parts of the virus may be less easy for a virus to mutate."WHATEVER THE STRATEGY... COMPANIES ARE HOPING TO HAVE THE FIRST BOOSTER SHOTS AUTHORIZED AND READY BY THE SUMMER... IN CASE THEY'RE NEEDED.DEREK STAAHL, ABC 10 NEWS.>

{PKG} [Anchor:JENKINS] {JENKINS}< AFTER WEEKS OF DELAYS, PRESIDENT BIDEN IS UNVEILING HIS ADMINISTRATION'S TOP SPENDING PRIORITIES FOR 20-22: - $769-BILLION IN NON-DEFENSE SPENDING, UP 16% FROM LAST YEAR - AS WELL AS $753-BILLION FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE PROGRAMS, A 1.7% INCREASE. the full budget, as you know. But just for clarity purposes, it's a kind of discretionary guidance." A COMMUNITY ADVOCATE WHO WALKED US THROUGH THE CHALLENGES THE COMMUNITY IS FACING [Notes:Angel Castillo, community advocate, NAACP executive committee] The homeless population has the exact same concerns as the regular population there's always a bit of concerned about efficacy or about rumors you hear in the media. BUT THERE ARE SOME OTHER DIFFICULTIES... UP UNTIL LAST MONTH JOHNSON AND JOHNSON VACCINES WERE THE WAY TO GO FOR HOMELESS POPULATIONS BUT WITH THE PAUSE THAT BECAME MORE DIFFICULT [Notes:Angel Castillo, community advocate, NAACP executive committee] The one shot is the easiest answer because if you have a challenge getting to a clinic in the first place imagine how hard its going to be getting back there 3 weeks later when you're supposed to have you're 2nd vaccine {STAND UP} "With the restart of the J and J vaccine things are getting back on track, now the big concern moving forward is something the state has been talking about very recently... access" [Notes:Angel Castillo, community advocate, NAACP executive committee] If you have problems accessing transportation... you have issues a stable address and if you were to go through a traditional vaccine clinic all of those things are required THE SOLUTION... MOVING TOWARDS POP UP CLINICS WHICH IS A BIG PUSH ACROSS THE STATE [Notes:Angel Castillo, community advocate, NAACP executive committee] Putting mobile clinics in places that are easily accessible... in rural populations and urban populations the unsheltered community exists in all of those spaces People are only going to go to places they trust and with the homeless population those are things link clinics, churches, schools that are safe AND PUTTING EFFORT INTO THOSE COMMUNITY CLINICS FOR THE HOMELESS POPULATION AS WELL AS OTHER VACCINE HESITANT GROUPS IS ONLY GOING TO GROW IN IMPORTANCE. [Notes:Angel Castillo, community advocate, NAACP executive committee] These small mobile clinics across the state of utah are going to be the thing that gets us to that goal of 70% SPENCER JOSEPH FOX13 NEWS UTAH.

The latest hottest thing that is taking over TikTok is a filter that makes everything look retro, as if it was recorded on an old VHS.On April 11th, Alonso uploaded a video inviting people to "use the retro filter and see what happens." In this video, she tricks people into thinking the filter is capable of actually making her mother look 30 years younger rather than just adding a vintage visual effect. But in reality, in the first part of the video, her mum appears without a filter before Alonso takes over dressed identically and with the retro filter applied. The uncanny similarity between mother and daughter makes it look as if the footage is actually taken from her mother's youth.The video has been watched 9.3M times, has received 1.8M likes, and inspired many children and parents around the world to try and make their own wholesome videos. These short videos created to an upbeat song, Marlboro Nights by Lonely God, seem to be extremely popular on the platform, collecting hundreds of thousands and even millions of views.
