KWGN	Housing	7 PM	4/10/2023	128	Courtney Ivy Crossing Fatal Apt.	The complex and many of its neighbors were built prior to 1972. That is before sprinkler systems were required, but the fire department tells us property owners have the options to add them. However, the neighbors there who escaped the fire told us there were no sprinklers in the building. The FOX31 problem solvers looked into a fire inspection report done by South Metro Fire on the Ivy Crossing Apartments back on February 9 th . The complex was in violation for all buildings not including townhomes missing fire alarm systems.

KWGN	Children/Youth	7 PM	4/10/2023	127	Vicente EHS Parent Youth Violence	The Parents Safety Advocacy Group, also known as PSAG says it wants data on existing programs designed to keep students safe in Denver Public Schools. The group formed after a shooting that injured two school deans during a search for students at East High School nearly 3 weeks ago. Two of the board members were present when PSAG made their latest demands, but can data really help? A company called Smartdata Dashboard says yes, by spotting students in trouble before it's too late. That data parents say could help prevent another school tragedy and keep their kids safe.
KWGN	Crime/ Law Enforcement	7 PM	4/12/2023	122	Vicente Castillo V Stem Hearing	The father of Kendrick Castillo today said he is fighting for the truth and is seeking transparency when it comes to exactly what schools are doing to keep kids safe. John Castillo is back in a courtroom today asking a judge to let him share confidential information about what the school did and didn't do to keep kids safe before the shooting. Castillo's attorneys argued the information should be public based on the Claire Davis School Safety Act which limits how much information schools can keep from the public.

KWGN	Legal Matters (e.g. court decisions)	5 PM	4/19/2023	101	Andrea Wiser Scotus Stalking	Billy Raymond first started sending messages to singer Coles Whalen in 2010. Whalen's attorney said the messages started escalating in 2014. In 2017 counterman was convicted & sentenced to 4 ½ years in prison for stalking. Now he's appealing the court's decision by arguing his messages were protected freedom of speech. Today, the US Supreme Court heard oral arguments on the case. According to Colorado law, it's considered a true threat if a reasonable person would believe there was a threat to their safety. However, the standards for a "True Threat" are murky. Counterman cites mental illness & argues he did not intend to hurt her. Therefore, he is protected.
KWGN	Politics	7 PM	4/19/2023	132	Franklin Assault Weapons Ban	A draft proposal of the HB23-1230 bill at the start of the session had another sponsor alongside Denver Rep. Elizabeth Epps. After a long wait for the bill's introduction & another wait for a committee date. Epps sat as the bill's lone House Sponsor. Senator Ronda Fields backed it in the Senate. Epps says her goal is for the bill to bring CO into alignment with other states that have made moves to outlaw bump stocks & federal action from the ATF to limit possession of bump stocks.

KWGN	Education	5 PM	5/8/2023	102	Schools Start Mental Health	The idea of later school start times, pushed by many over the years to help adolescents get more sleep, is getting a new look as a way to address the mental health crisis affecting teens across the U.S. Nationally, at least nine states are considering legislation related to school start times, up from four the previous year, according to the National Conference on State Legislatures. California 2019 became the first and only state to dictate school start times. Large school systems including Denver, Philadelphia, and Anchorage, Alaska, have been looking into later start times.
KWGN	Environment	4:30 AM	5/9/2023	99	Pickleball Appeal Andrea	4/3 Denver Parks and Recreation closed the courts at congress park and halted plans to relocate the courts further away from homes. According to Parks and Recreation advisory board moving the courts farther would help with noise violations but according to the advisory board, the conflicts include parking that has overflowed into the adjacent alley and neighborhood. The use of tennis courts violates park rules and sounds that exceed the city noise ordinance.

KWGN	Women's Issues	8:00 AM	5/10/2023	73	Hand of the Carpender	Hands of the Carpenter started 20 years ago in Golden. Their Mission is to help single moms keep their cars running safely and on the road. They also take donated cars and make sure they are safe by going through them top to bottom and then giving them to single moms.
KWGN	Immigration	7:00 PM	5/11/2023	129	Gabrielle Denver Migrant Influx	The city said just within the last couple of days, around 700 migrants have arrived. Over the last week, well over 1,000 arrived. This new influx is creating a strain on city resources. Denver Mayor Michael Hancock made a plea to homeland security asking for more resources and funding. The city had already spent more than $14 million to shelter, feed and support migrants. Officials said this influx is a direct response to Title 42 ending Thursday. The measure was a COVID restriction implemented in March 2020 which allowed U.S. Customs and Border Protection to immediately remove migrants.

KWGN	Community	7:00 PM	5/14/2023	131	Fromm Dog Rescued from Island	The journey to a new life for a once stray beach dog in Saint Lucia, a country in the Caribbean, officially started back on April 1, when Coloradan Kara Plese was on vacation for her 50th birthday. She said they then saw the dog again during breakfast and she said, at that point, she knew she had to do something to help him. So Plese and her friend wrapped the island dog in St. Lucia in a towel and took him to a local vet on the island. She found a rescue called the Bruno Project, and the dog was held there until this Sunday. Lucian will fly to Miami Sunday morning.
KWGN	Technology	7:00 PM	5/16/2023	100	Posey Virtual Care Center	Healthone virtual care center in Denver about 65 people work here virtually supporting 9 different hospitals in two states. One area handles patient admission and discharge virtually. In the second area, they use AI predictive analytics to go over patient labs and vitals. Then if there is an alert they can jump in. The group hopes that this virtual assistance will improve patient outcomes and allow in-person nurses to focus on their bedside care.

KWGN	Transportation	7:00 PM	5/23/2023	80	Henderson United CEO	As the Denver Airport grows United Airlines is playing a pivotal role in that expansion. United is adding 35 flights including early morning departures and late evening arrivals. The airline is also adding six new non-stop routes. The expansion also comes as the industry is dealing with a shortage of air traffic controllers. Something Kirby says is one of their biggest obstacles moving forward.
KWGN	Government (Local)	7:00 PM	5/23/2023	114	Government (Local)	Both of Denver's mayoral runoff candidates have said they would continue enforcing the city's camping ban that hasn't been very successful since going into effect 11 years ago. Brough has pledged to end unsanctioned camping in her first year in office if elected. Mike Johnston was the leading force behind Prop 123 from last year's ballot. Voters narrowly permitted the state to use 300 million tax dollars a year to create affordable housing. Johnston said that the 300 million a year that voters approved will go towards staffing to provide the services.

KWGN	Economy	7:00 PM	6/1/2023	86	Debt Ceiling Update	Senators are racing to pass legislation that would raise the borrowing limit and cap government spending. If the Senate makes any changes to the bill, it would head back to the House, a delay that could result in a government default. Over in the house, speaker Kevin McCarthy secured a victory Wednesday night when the legislation passed in a bipartisan fashion. Some Republicans argue McCarthy's deal with President Biden compromised too much, the Majority say they still have confidence in the speaker.
KWGN	Health/Healthcare	7:00 PM	6/4/2023	141	Fierro Cancer Survivor	At 39 years old, Keri Cotterman felt a significant lump in her right breast. She went for a mammogram and, within 25 days of meeting with doctors at HealthONE's Rose Medical Center, she learned she had stage two breast cancer. She had questions she struggled to answer during the pandemic as she navigated through her diagnosis, a double mastectomy, and chemotherapy journey. It is a conversation and mindset she's now sharing with people across the globe with a nonprofit she created. There's a website and Instagram page to connect cancer warriors and help answer those tangible questions Cotterman confronted head-on.

KWGN	Religion	5:00 AM	6/19/2023	101	Haven of Hope	We are just people helping people. Here at Haven of Hope, the writing is literally on the wall. A hand fellowship, an offer to walk alongside as people recover. The day shelter offers hot meals, clothing, showers, and laundry to over 150 folks every day. Housing first doesn't work. Just putting them in a house does not resolve their issues. ED Tawnya Trahah says simply giving the unhoused a place to live doesn't cut it. Housing, she says, should come after the healing. That's why Haven of Hope offers counseling, rehab, employment services, and ultimately, self-sufficiency. Tawyna says she'd like Denver to adopt the goals they've got here. To first heal what's broken. To tackle addiction, trauma, and mental illness. And she adds, you are always welcome to do what we do. Roll up your sleeves and help.
