

WRFL 88.1 FM
2021 - Fourth Quarter (October - December)

Description of issue	Program	Date	Time	Length	Program Description
Abortion laws & Women's Health	Campus Voices	October 6, 2021	5:30pm	30 min	Host, Jordan Barber, is joined in the studio with Kentucky State Representative, Kelly Flood, Keirsten Brown, Women's Health Practitioner, and Erin Smith, Executive Director of the Kentucky Health Justice Network. In this episode, they have a conversation about Women's rights within abortion around the United States and especially within Kentucky.
Redistricting, voter rights, local music	Trivial Thursdays	10/7/21	10am	2 hrs	Bonnie Hunt, Cindy Heine and Karen Brown, of the League of Women Voters to discuss "redistricting," and what it means; Nathan Pendleton, Recording Guild of Lexington; music from FBA
Healthy and Affordable Eating in College	Campus Voices	October 13, 2021	5:30p	30 min	Host, Jordan Barber, is joined with two Registered Dietician and Nutritionists where they speak about how students can create a healthy lifestyle and a healthy relationship with food while in college.
Public art, health, iconic KY music	Trivial Thursdays	10/14/21	10am	2 hrs	PRHBTN street art festival; Christina King of the Lexington Fayette County Health Dept.; iconic KY musician Tara Key, on her band Antietam's latest, "His Majesty's Request," celebrating the legacy of Wink O'Bannon, guitarist, devoted archivist of the Louisville music scene and teacher to many.
Name, Image, Likeness Bill	Campus Voices	October 20, 2021	5:30p	30 min	Host, Patrick Rinaldo, is joined with Dr. Nichols, UK Assistant Professor in the College of Education and TJ Beisner, Kentucky Men's Basketball Director of Player Development to have an in-depth discussion of the new Name, Image, and Likeness Bill amongst college athletes.

Redistricting, voter rights, local music	Trivial Thursdays	10/21/21	10am	2 hrs	2021 Thriller Halloween Festival & Parade with organizers Mecca's Teresa Tomb and Lexington Parks & Rec's Amber Luallen; Laurie Genet Preston about Upstairs at Midnight Theatre Project's production of The Turn of the Screw adapted by Jeffrey Hatcher directed by Joe Ferrell; Lex Bike Walk's Alice Hilton on Lex Glow Ride; local music staple Tim Welch discusses the band he's got with one of his kids, mick moon's SHOCK THEATRE.
The effects of being a Student Athlete within Covid	Campus Voices	October 27, 2021	5:30p	30min	Host, Jordan Barber, is joined with two UK Student Athletes to talk about their experiences of being a student athlete during a global pandemic and how they combatted the virus as a team.
Lexington LGBTQ history, COVID, cultural observances, music	Trivial Thursdays	10/28/21	10am	2 hrs	Muralist Gaia and Bob Morgan of the Faulkner Morgan Archive discuss a new mural depicting Sweet Evening Breeze, a Lexington LGBTQ icon; Christina King of the Lexington Fayette County Health Dept.; Jeffrey Nichols of the Living Arts & Science Center's annual Day of the Dead celebration; and a performance by musician Kevin Murphy.

Current Election Season in the United States	Campus Voices	November 3, 2021	5:30p	30min	Host, Jordan Barber, is joined with Stephen Voss, UK Political Science Professor, to speak about the current political climate while educating voters and discussing how political candidates operate in and out of the election season.
KY culture, music education, local music	Trivial Thursdays	11/4/21	10am	2 hrs	KY author, publisher, and actor, Erin Chandler; Central Music Academy; and songs by RAINBOW STAR
Uk salesforce consultancy incubator program	Campus Voices	November 10, 2021	5:30p	30 min	Host, Jordan Barber, is joined with representatives to speak on the development of a new business program at the University of Kentucky, a closer look into what those companies do and how it will benefit specific students at UK.
Domestic violence issues, COVID, dance	Trivial Thursdays	11/11/21	10am	2 hrs	Sheri Estill of The Nest, a safe and healing place for education, counseling, advocacy, and support for thousands of individuals, parents, survivors, and children each year; Christina King of the Lexington Fayette County Health Dept; dancer, activist, and scholar Aminata Cairo.
Substance Abuse within college students during pandemic	Campus Voices	November 17, 2021	5:30p	30 min	Host, Jordan Barber is joined with Emily Atkinson, UK Clinical Psychology PHD candidate, Dr. Anne Ray, Prevention Scientist and Ashley S. to speak about how the pandemic has affected substance abuse amongst college students and young adults.
Zine culture, COVID, theatre, music ed	Trivial Thursdays	11/18/21	10am	2 hrs	Anna Campomanes of The Muzineum; Christina King of the Lexington Fayette County Health Dept about pediatric COVID vaxxes; UK Department of Theatre & Dance's Nancy Jones discusses their production of The Laramie Project; sea chanties by Revell Carr, director of the UK John Jacob Niles Center.

Lexington Christmas Parade	Campus Voices	December 1, 2021	5:30p	30 min	Host, Jordan Barber, is joined with representatives from the Downtown Lexington Christmas Parade to speak about how the Lexington Christmas Parade is going to look like this year given the fact that they were not able to put on an in-person parade last year due to the pandemic
Social justice, charitable giving, arts	Trivial Thursdays	12/2/21	10am	2 hrs	Adina Tatum, Julietta Market; Lauren Parsons of the Blue Grass Community Foundation, the Good Giving Challenge; Eric & Kayti of Fancy Hat Productions; and music by Mason Colby
Charitable giving, social justice, COVID, holiday giving	Trivial Thursdays	12/9/21	10am	2 hrs	The Hope Center homeless shelter; Christina King of the Lexington Fayette County Health Dept; Anne Donworth of the Lexington Public Library; music by Daisy Bardot
Charitable giving, voter awareness, KY music	Trivial Thursdays	12/16/21	10am	2 hrs	Executive Director Dave Elsen and board member Aaron Buis of the High Street YMCA; Jennifer Jackson of the League of Women Voters; Michael Halligan, CEO of God's Pantry; music by SmithSmith
Community affairs, COVID, politics	Trivial Thursdays	12/30/21	10am	2 hrs	Lexington Herald-Leader writers Tom Eblen and Linda Blackford reflect on 2021 in Lexington news.