Issue: Will office buildings be the same after the Corona Virus?

Date/Time: July 11, 2020

7:00am/20 minutes

Guest: Laura Martin

Description: The Empire State Building has been a symbol of America's economic might, Says Laura Martin, a reporter for Rundown.. She points out the June 22 reopening allowed the Empire State Building to open up its offices But has found companies like LinkedIn and Bulova who have Offices there are opting to extend Work from home arrangements.. Based on a tenant poll, Management has expected just 15% To 20% of the building's usual Usual 15,000 worker Population to return at the Second phase of re-opening. Martin believes with so many Employees working from home May convince companies that they Will no longer need the office space And save money in rental costs.

Modern Medicine says COVID-19
Has launched a second pandemic: It
Is a mental health crisis that started
Since the lockdowns. She points out
How calls to suicide prevention
Lines have gone up 100% in a recent Census questionnaire. Over one third
Of U.S. adults self identified as Clinically anxious or depressed..
Cheny says she wrote her book,
Modern Madness because she Wanted to reveal the struggles and Challenges for those who already Have bipolar. Cheny reveals how she Has provided steps to help persons
Walk through the pandemic and Survive rather than to succumb to Suicide. She believes helping
Those with bipolar will not only
Prevent them from suicide but
Also it will make a lasting
Breakthrough through the Treatment of bipolar persons
Who up to this point have been
Flirting with suicide all of their Lives.

7:00am/20 minutes

Guest: Glenn Aparicio Parry

Description: Glenn Aparicio Parry, author of Original Politics says heated clashes over Immigration, climate crisis and income Equality and the possibility of a Civil War Threatening our democracy has put America At the crossroads. He says he foresees a Political evolution that ultimately returns America to wholeness through our true Sacred purpose he refers to as unity in Diversity. Parry believes this will fulfill Our sacred destiny even amid our current Retreat into partisanship, fragmentation And fear, for it is in periods of devolution That the shadow side of America is Revealed containing the seeds of Renewal. Parry contends to create a Whole and sacred America it is necessary To piece together the forgotten fragments of History that currently keep us divided. He reveals the most forgotten piece is Is the profound effect native America had On the founding values of the nation. Among these values were an egalitarian Sense of community and justice and A strong and sustained practice of Equal participation in the political Process among people of all genders And backgrounds. Parry concludes if we Can reach this plateau we will have what He calls a Sacred America.

7:00am/20 minutes
Guest: Cass Ingram

Description: Dr. Cass Ingram,
Author of The Respiratory Solution
Says the annual flu season is
About to start with doctors still Unclear exactly how this year's Influenza virus will interact with the Coronavirus that causes COVID-19.
He points out the Corona virus and Influenza are going to compete for
The same ER space, the same
Hospital beds, the same ICU beds,
The same ventilators, the same
Personal protective equipment and
The same staff.. Ingram relates how CDC Officials have states that this Could be the worse season from
A public perspective Ingram says
The flu vaccine has many problems
That of which it doesn't work very Well, This year's vaccine is only
Effective for only 37% of the Population. Ingram states using Essential spice oils has a greater Effect. He urges persons to look
Into spice oils before engaging
Into any other choices. Ingram
Sincerely believes the use of spice
Oils like oil of oregano will prevent
Deaths that cannot be killed by Vaccines.

Issue: Beating Fall Allergies
Without Medication.
Date/Time: September 26, 2020
7:30am/20 minutes
Guest: Jennifer Ernst

Description: Jennifer Ernst of Tivic Health, pioneers in the emerging field of bioelectronic medicine and creators of award winning ClearUP Sinus Pain Relief, a quick convenient and drug free option for treating allergy-related sinus pain says Americans with respiratory allergies are having a tough time because of rising global temperatures and an increase in atmospheric CO2 both of which are fueling earlier and faster growth of bigger ragweed plants able to produce higher levels of pollen later into the fall. Ernst urges persons after being outdoors to take a shower and change clothes after showering and leave the shoes at the door. Ernst urges persons to use saline irrigation to clear pollen from the nasal passages and soothe their stuffy and inflamed sinuses by holding their head over a warm bowl or sink of water, placing a towel over the head. In conclusion Ernst suggests wearing a mask outside to protect oneself from airborne allergens.
