A package was included to show MAMA in action in our community and the efforts they are making to reach out to our youth. The organization assists in planning funerals, providing counseling and monetary support to families that have been affected by such violence.

Topic: Teen Temps, Inc.
Air Dates: 10/9, 11/20
Guests: Wanda Akins (President & CEO), Sharon Anderson (Co-founder)

Summary: Teen Temps, Inc. is a community-based, non-profit organization with a mission of providing future generations of youth with preparation and experiences through a "career opportunity system." Our focus is on delivering customized, motivating, and meaningful job placement or work experiences to underserved youth through the following key components:

Provision of comprehensive counseling and guidance in occupation and career preparation; placement in paid and unpaid apprenticeships, internships, externships and jobs leading to formal credentials for "value-added" occupational and career choices.

The innovation of Teen Temps is that it is structured to operate with youth and young adults similarly to the way a temporary employment agency operates with its employee clientele providing placement and matching of employees with employers for long term advancement through permanent placement, apprenticeships, customized training and / or postsecondary education. Teen Temps will begin with efforts to attract and retain teens in grades 9 - 12 through participation in career exploration and identification as a component of its after-school program.

Many of today's youth struggle with acceptance and peer pressure, Mr. Turner and Mr. Henderson have built their organization to combat these problems. They try to reach our at-risk youth and guide them on the path of success.

EDUCATION

Topic: Talented Teen Club: Building Teen Self-Esteem
Air Dates: 11/6, 12/18
Guests: Jaunai Walker, Landy Cajuste, Rene Lall and Renae Roper

Summary: Talented Teen Club has a rich history of community involvement spanning over the last six years, within which we have been known to produce members of impeccable character and a firm belief in unselfish service to others. We have strived tirelessly to shape and mold our teenagers and young adults, by nurturing their minds and bodies with a mix of various community service events along with the mind tingling excitement of other programs designed specifically for the core members active in the club. The volunteer services have included the Palm Beach Film Festival, Sunfest, Jazz fest, Kaliedoscope, and recently the Heart Walk. The Club's mission is to build self-esteem while providing a medium for the members to display their talents. The annual Be-you-ti-ful Competition at the Kraviz Center hosted by Ebony Fashion Model Jada Collins gives the members the opportunity to display their talents whether it be in music, modeling, acting, poetry, stepping or dancing and a chance to earn scholarship money. The club has expanded to include members in all of South Florida and as far as Orlando. This year the club wants to extend its services to youth in foster homes. There are over fifty group foster homes in West Palm alone.
