Quarterly Issues Programs List for Stations

January 1-March 31, 2023

Section I. Issues

Townsquare Media Bismarck has identified the following issues as significant issues facing our community in this quarter:

1. Disease Prevention. Despite a wealth of medical studies citing the danger of alcohol intake, North Dakota continues to be in the top ten percent of states, not only in alcohol consumption, but also ranking high in excessive consumption of alcohol. There is a direct medical link between alcohol consumption and seven different types of cancer. The most glaring effect can be found in traffic fatality numbers. Over 40% of traffic deaths in North Dakota involve alcohol consumption.
2. Free Expression. The North Dakota Legislature has joined the rising red wave focusing on content available to minors in public libraries. Some 2023 legislation has been introduced to impose fines up to $1,500 and the possibility of imprisonment for those that would display such materials where children may be present. It is a part of a nationwide movement to limit books considering sexuality and gender identification.
3. Public Housing Finding oneself homeless is a dangerous situation for thousands across the United States. Being homeless in an unforgiving North Dakota winter is nothing short of life threatening. It was not until December 2022 that North Dakota's capital city of Bismarck finally re-established a 24/7 shelter for those in need. There are still financing challenges to maintain the shelter year-round. Over $350,000 is needed to fund the shelter through June of 2023.
4. Gambling Addiction. Although statewide, North Dakota has been able to resist joining the multi-billion-dollar online sports betting industry, in 2023 this form of gambling has been made legal on tribal lands throughout the state. Although participation in online gambling on our Native American casinos is still limited to those 18 and older, the introduction of such gambling is sure to have repercussions across the state.

- 5. Public Health. While North Dakota has long grappled with the issue of herbicides, pesticides, and fertilizers breaching our groundwater, we are just now being made aware of a few sites statewide that may be affected by toxic “forever chemicals”. These Perfluorinated and Polyfluorinated Substances (PFAS) have been detected in minor amounts at the Fargo National Guard Base in addition to trace amounts discovered at Air Force Bases in Minot and Grand Forks. Tests continue statewide especially near landfills where much of the potentially toxic waste materials from North Dakota oilfields may be buried.
