

In the third quarter of 2020, KMWU has continued to evolve its coverage to match the swiftly flowing news events taking place locally and statewide. There is an emphasis on keeping our listeners current on COVID-19 as well as ramping up our election coverage in a decisive year for our state and region. Meanwhile, our local and statewide economy are working on ways to bounce back, and KMWU news staff have been covering these stories for radio and web (as always, with photos and links) via our various platforms. We continue to partner with the Kansas News Service for public radio stations, and our news team of seven continues to be supplemented by Wichita State interns, who have learned valuable lessons in this unprecedented year from our award-winning staff while they cover our local news issues.

Inspiration for the topics KMWU covers continues to come from community projects and listening practices that draw in a variety of voices from among our area's residents. People need dependable information on the coronavirus, the economy, voting methods, and much more -- and community needs beyond these timely topics have also continued as usual. KMWU enables the community to ask our leaders their own questions (and give feedback) through virtual Democracy on Tap civic engagement events. Projects such as this, as well as one-on-one conversations, provide staff with input on topics relevant to Wichitans in order to best inform them.
