

INFORMATION FOR ISSUES AND PROGRAMS LIST JANUARY-MARCH 2014

Please add information from any of your programs that you feel serves to inform the public at large about some current event or issue. Note: These entries are not meant to reflect programs that focus on entertainment subjects. Rather, add material of the public affairs, current events, political, social, or educational/cultural variety.

Description of issue	Program	Date	Time	Length	Program Description
Cuba & current relationship w/United States	Campus Voices	2/12/14	5 p.m.	:30	A discussion with Ph.D. Student in the Department of Hispanic Studies at the University of Kentucky... Kevin Sedeño-Guillén, Peter Berres, a professor who has been on educational trips to Cuba, and Abel Reyes, Cuban director of Lexington's Salsa Center about Cuba, the U.S. embargo and the study released 2/10/14 by the Atlantic Council showing Americans' views are changing re: the embargo. Host: Isabel Rosales.
Athletics vs. Academics	Campus Voices	2/26/14	5 p.m.	:30	A discussion of athletics vs. academics with Jay Blanton, Executive Director for UK's Public Relations, Dr. Ernest Yanarella, Chair of UK's Political Science Department and former member of the UK Board of Trustees, and Tony Neely, the Media Director for Football. Discussion focused on money earned through athletics and how it is allocated on campus as well as the dangers of over-prioritizing sports at UK. Host: Isabel Rosales
First Generation College Students	Campus Voices	3/5/14	5 p.m.	:30	A discussion of concerns that first generation college student face with Jeff Spardling, Director of Robinson Scholars Program and the current chair of the UK Staff Senate, Lauren Goodpaste, Director of New Student and Parent Programs, Annie Kelly, Director of New Student and Parent Programs/Coordinator of the Common Reading Experience, and Khaili Baker, Director of the Martin Luther King Cultural Center. Discussion focused on the resources available on campus to alleviate the stress that first generation students may have in college. UK Host: Isabel Rosales microRNA Alzheimer research trials	Campus Voices	3/12/14	5 p.m.	:30	A discussion on the University of Kentucky's cutting edge research on Alzheimer's disease. The guest was Dr. Gregory Jicha, a lead physician scientist from the Sanders-Brown Center on Aging. The new scientific research is providing new hope for prevention and treatment of the Alzheimer disease with the help of microRNA. Discussion focused on the new research and the way microRNA is being used to learn more about the disease and how to prevent the onset of the disease sooner. Producer: Kelsie Winslow. Host: Isabel Rosales.