Issue	Program/Title	Description	Date	Time	Duration
Politics	Capital Connection	Chisun Lee, Senior Counsel in the Democracy Program at the Brennan Center for Justice, discussed her group's investigation into "secret spending" in election campaigns, which involves outside organizations buying political ads without disclosing who's actually funding them.	07/03/2016	6:30 am	30 min.
Politics Government Scandals	Capital Connection	Casey Seiler, State Editor and Capitol Bureau Chief for the Albany Times Union , discussed the upcoming presidential conventions and how interesting it is to have both the Republican and Democratic frontrunners from New York State. He also talked about the latest developments in the investigations into aides of Gov. Cuomo concerning economic development deals.	07/10/2016	6:30 am	30 min.
Politics Government Scandals	Capital Connection	Ken Lovett, Albany Bureau Chief for the New York Daily News , summarized the various investigations into several of the governor's aides and whether there will be any fall-out from the allegations. He also discussed the political impact of the presidential election on other political races in the state (especially the fight for control of the New York State Senate).	07/17/2016	6:30 am	30 min.
Economy Immigration Reform Health Care	Capital Connection	John Faso, former New York State Assembly Minority Leader and current Republican candidate for the 19th Congressional District seat, discussed the economic issues facing upstate New York which are causing the decrease in population as people move to other states. He talked about immigration reform – the need to balance security with the need to have farm labor. And he suggested ways to reform the health care system to shift from employer-based health care plans to employee-controlled plans.	07/24/2016	6:30 am	30 min.

Government Scandals Politics	Capital Connection	Jesse McKinley, Albany Bureau Chief for The New York Times , discussed the challenges of covering state politics and keeping up with all the scandals that develop. He also talked about how the presidential race (with two New Yorkers running against each other) will affect other political races in the state.	07/31/2016	6:30 am	30 min.
Politics Government Scandals	Capital Connection	Ken Lovett, Albany Bureau Chief and columnist for the New York Daily News , reviewed Gov. Andrew Cuomo's speech at the Democratic Convention and the governor's description of New York State as the progressive capital of the country. Lovett also gave an update on the ongoing investigation into the Buffalo Billion economic development plan and whether or not there were any improprieties in awarding contracts.	08/07/2016	6:30 am	30 min.
Government Scandals Education Politics	Capital Connection	Ed Cox, Chairman of the New York State Republican Party, discussed the alleged political corruption surrounding the governor's office and the policy problems of the governor. He also talked about the issues facing the educational system in New York State, including charter schools and teacher performance reviews. And he shared his thoughts on the strengths and flaws of both presidential candidates.	08/14/2016	6:30 am	30 min.
Government Job Creation	Capital Connection	New York State comptroller Thomas Dinapoli explained the role of audits of government units and agencies and how they're designed to make the agencies work better, be more accountable, and be more efficient. Specifically, he reviewed the new economic development initiatives and whether they're actually generating jobs (and the answer is that jobs are being created, but far less than	08/21/2016	6:30 am	30 min.

Economy	Capital Connection	Ken Lovett, Albany Bureau Chief for the New York Daily News , explained why the Bronx has been given more state money from the governor than any other area in New York State. Lovett said the reasons include the economy of the Bronx and the politics of the New York City mayoral race. He also reviewed the newly-proposed ethics reform bill in the state legislature.	08/28/2016	6:30 am	30 min.
Ethics Reform
Ethics Reform	Capital Connection	Brandon Muir, Executive Director of the Reclaim New York Center for Government Reform and Accountability, commented on what he called the weak ethics reform bill that the state legislature came up with, and then recommended actions that would lead to real reform. He lamented the lack of citizen participation which leads to politicians who are emboldened to be corrupt. And he criticized tax breaks for some select new businesses as being unfair to existing companies in the state.	09/04/2016	6:30 am	30 min.
State Taxes
Ethics Reform	Capital Connection	Blair Horner, Executive Director of the New York Public Interest Research Group (NYPIRG), reviewed the new ethics reform law passed by the New York State legislature. The first part of the law deals with independent groups advertising their support for candidates, and the second part deals with non-profits which lobby legislators. He noted, however, that the new law does nothing to curb the corruption of the politicians.	09/11/2016	6:30 am	30 min.
Politics	Capital Connection	J.P. Miller, founder and publisher of Empire Report New York , an online website devoted to New York State political news, reacted to the primary	09/18/2016	6:30 am	30 min.

		election in Rochester in which the candidate who won was already dead (because the person had committed suicide the week before the election) and the power that gave to the political party leaders to select a replacement. Miller also discussed the presidential candidates and who might carry New York State (given that both the Democratic and Republican contenders live in this state).
Terrorism	Capital Connection	Ken Lovett, Albany Bureau Chief for the New York Daily News , gave reaction to how Gov. Andrew Cuomo and New York City Mayor Bill de Blasio handled the aftermath of the terrorist bombing in the Big Apple. Lovett also discussed the impact of the presidential race on state politics, including the relationship between the two candidates (who both live in New York State) and the governor.	09/25/2016	6:30 am	30 min.
