

Issues of community interest for the first quarter of 2009.

1. There was a blizzard in the panhandle in March, closing down schools and many roads. We dedicate our entire newscast to letting people know what roads were too dangerous to drive, what schools were closed. This was a matter of public safety.
2. The local chapter of the Red Cross held a major fundraiser in the Month of March, we dedicated a lot of news time, including one entire morning show helping raise funds for the organization.
3. We have had over 100 non-profit groups featured on our morning show, providing free publicity for their cause.
4. The Texas Legislature meets once every two years in Texas, in January we spent air time talking to local elected officials about issues facing our area. We solicited emails from our viewers about what questions they wanted answered from our legislators.
5. We continue to use our local to new to help people prepare for the pending transition to digital television,
6. We have stayed on top of all of the product recalls this year, letting our viewers know what is safe and what is not.
7. A neighborhood in Amarillo felt they needed a four way stop sign at an intersection, it was a safety concern for them. We aired stories about it, I feel, this helped them get the approval from the Amarillo City Commission for the signs.
8. Our station has volunteered over 15 hours for local non-profit organizations so far, one being the local food bank.

PRIME TIME

PRIME TIME: WHAT WOULD YOU DO? (Special Editions)

Tuesday, January 27, 2009

Using hidden cameras, this show sets up everyday scenarios and then captures people's reactions. Whether people are compelled to act or mind their own business, John Quiñones reports on their split-second – and often surprising – decision-making process.

Tuesday, February 3, 2009

Often people speculate on how they might act in a difficult situation, but this series shows what they actually do in the face of everyday dilemmas that test their character and values. John Quiñones reports on their split-second – and often surprising – decisions.

Tuesday, February 17, 2009

What if an obviously confused elderly man was about to get behind the wheel of a car? Would you give your friend your blessing to marry a man half her age? PRIMETIME sets up everyday scenarios and then captures people's reactions. John Quiñones reports.

Tuesday, February 24, 2009

As the economy stalls, shoplifting is on the rise. So what would you do if you saw someone not only shoplifting, but using their child as the scapegoat? And in these tough times, will strangers help someone begging not for money – but for gas? Using hidden cameras John Quiñones reports his findings.

Tuesday, March 10, 2009

Often people speculate on how they might act in a difficult situation, but this series shows what they actually do in the face of dilemmas that test character and values. What would you do if you saw college students hazing their peers, making them participate in potentially harmful activities in a public place? John Quiñones reports on their split-second – and often surprising – decision-making process.

Tuesday, March 17, 2009

What would you do if you saw a polygamist family and a would-be child bride reaching out for help? Will anyone stop a group of teens, out for thrills, attacking a Latino man for no apparent reason? Whether people are compelled to act or mind their own business, John Quiñones reports on their split-second and often surprising decision-making process.

Tuesday, March 24, 2009

How will people react when witnessing overt racial profiling in a chic clothing boutique? What would you do if you were confronted with public displays of prejudice and discrimination against a gay couple in a sports bar? What if your online date shows up looking nothing like their profile picture – would you still go through with the date? And would you break the law for someone who says they are an authority figure? This series shows what people actually do in the face of everyday dilemmas that test their character and values.

ABC NEWS SPECIALS- First Quarter, 2009

Sunday, January 11 through Friday, January 16, 2009

AMERICA'S ECONOMY: WHAT'S THE FIX?
