 Quarterly Issues/Programs List
 Second Quarter, 2016
 July 7, 2016

Issues

KUUL-FM provides is listeners with programming and public service announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:

- Arts and Entertainment: Research shows that the availability of Arts and Entertainment—everything from museums to parks and recreation systems—can greatly improve an area's quality of life
- Community: From road quality to sewer repair to garbage pickup, people of the Quad Cities are BIG on city basics.
- Discrimination: Whether on the basis of race, religion or sex, one doesn't have to look far in today's world to see evidence that discrimination has been eliminated.
- Education: Providing educational opportunities for our area's children—as well as secondary education for our adults—are important building blocks to continued quality of life in our community.
- Mental Health: Modern-day life stresses and a variety of contributing factors may make this the most stressful era in history. Americans treat these stresses in a lot of different ways.
- Public Health: Getting and staying well is the challenge that faces every one of us.
- Tourism: Many cities in the Quad Cities two-state area rely on tourism revenues. The combination of a rich history and a wide variety of seasonal activities make the region a great place to visit.
- Youth-At-Risk: In today's society, so many young people are simply left to grow up on their own that there is an impact on people of all ages.

NETWORK [and/or SYNDICATED] PROGRAMMING

Note: Radio Health Journal is a :28 minute show that airs weekly and consists of two main segments.

The time listed is the show start time on that date.

ISSUE	PROGRAM/TITLE	DESCRIPTION	DATE/TIME	DURATION
Health Care; Education	Radio Health Journal	In an age of increasing medical complexity, some leading thinkers in medical education are proposing that the time spent on medical education be cut by nearly one third. The key, these advocates say, is ridding curricula of requirements that most doctors never use. Experts discuss both sides of the issue.	04/03/16 7:00a	11:55
Health Care; Patient Safety	Radio Health Journal	Studies have found that many doctors don't really listen to their patients, and so miss how illness is affected by the "other things" in life. Experts discuss how to help doctors consider the patient as a whole.	04/03/16 7:00a	8:00

Health Care; Federal Government Regulation	Radio Health Journal	For more than 10 years, hospitals have been plagued by shortages of important drugs, sometimes forcing doctors to decide who will receive them, and who will die. Experts explain why these shortages occur, the unfortunate outcomes, and what they do to try to minimize the damage.	04/10/16 7:00a	11:48
Health Care; Disabilities	Radio Health Journal	Experts discuss symptoms and treatments of Meniere's disease, an often misdiagnosed disorder producing loss of hearing and crippling vertigo.	04/10/16 7:00a	8:14
Health Care; Consumer Safety; Federal Government Regulation	Radio Health Journal	Since FDA rules on prescription drug advertising were loosened in 1997, the amount of advertising has mushroomed. However, there is still controversy over whether that's good for patients, and now the American Medical Association has come out for an ad ban. Experts discuss the pros and cons of direct to consumer advertising and its effect on patients and physicians.	04/17/16 7:00a	11:35
Interpersonal Relationships; Family Issues	Radio Health Journal	Research shows that friends are the most powerful people in our lives, influencing our behavior, attitudes and health even more than our parents or spouses. An expert discusses the many ways friends determine our destinies.	04/17/16 7:00a	7:45
Health Care	Radio Health Journal	Diseases apparently have distinctive odors that humans can't detect. Researchers are using dogs, mice, rats and other animals to literally sniff out cancer and other diseases in the laboratory. In the 3rd World, rats are used to diagnose TB. Experts discuss the use of animals to diagnose disease and their efforts to build machines that can do the same thing.	04/24/16 7:00a	12:34
Health Care	Radio Health Journal	Many people confuse allergies, colds, and sinus infections. A physician specializing in these maladies describes the differences, and the new ways sinusitis can be treated.	04/24/16 7:00a	7:12
Workplace Issues; Public Health	Radio Health Journal	Presenteeism is when people go to work at less than peak efficiency due to illness, injury or distraction. Experts discuss the huge cost to the economy, the chronic illnesses that exact the most cost, and the accommodations that could save businesses billions of dollars.	05/01/16 7:00a	11:54
Family and Parenting Issues	Radio Health Journal	Parents who have spent 18 years or more raising children often feel lost when the last child leaves home for college or their own place. A psychotherapist discusses common reactions and strategies for renewing purpose living in the empty nest.	05/01/16 7:00a	7:54
Health Technology	Radio Health Journal	Freezing eggs in their 30's allows women to preserve fertility well into their 40's. The concept was originally meant for women whose fertility was threatened by disease or medical treatment, but today the majority of those having eggs frozen are doing so for social or career reasons. Now egg freezing is even offered as a corporate benefit in some places. Experts discuss the procedure and its uses.	05/08/16 7:00a	12:10
Youth at Risk	Radio Health Journal	Behavioral similarities between prodigies and some people with autism have long been noted. Now some researchers are beginning to find genetic links between the two phenomena. Experts discuss findings and their implications for autism treatment.	05/08/16 7:00a	7:37
Homelessness, Poverty, Health Care	Radio Health Journal	Homeless Americans have a life expectancy of only around 50, and often use the ER for primary care at a huge cost. Experts discuss how doctors on the street can improve health for the homeless and lower cost for society.	05/15/16 7:00a	12:11
Sports and Recreation; Youth at Risk	Radio Health Journal	Major League Baseball teams spend $1.7 billion annually on pitchers, yet it is an extremely risky investment. A journalist who investigated the science of pitching injuries explains.	05/15/16 7:00a	7:38
HIV and AIDS	Radio Health Journal	Bleeding disorders such as hemophilia and von Willebrands disease can be extremely serious, but today are very treatable. However, many people who've had these disorders for some time fight the legacy of more primitive treatment. Experts including a hemophilia patient explain.	05/22/16 7:00a	11:34
Men's Health Issues	Radio Health Journal	Bladder cancer is the fourth most frequent cancer in men. However, research into the disease has been slow. The newly appointed director of the world's only research center devoted exclusively to bladder cancer discusses risks and treatments.	05/22/16 7:00a	7:38

Youth at Risk; Education; Bullying	Radio Health Journal	Many children are bullied, especially in the middle school years, but kids with disabilities are about twice as likely to be victims. Experts discuss the problem and how parents and schools can work together to prevent bullying of these children.	05/29/16 7:00a	12:14
Technology, Psychology	Radio Health Journal	As a survival mechanism, the human brain is wired to remember negative events more strongly than positive ones. An expert neurologist discusses changes in thinking that can create more positive physical brain pathways, making us happier.	05/29/16 7:00a	7:48
Health Research & Development	Radio Health Journal	When doctors can take advantage of massive amounts of data on patient outcomes, lives will be saved. We look at one of the first efforts, an attempt to associate dangerous drug interactions, and the difficulty in convincing other doctors that "crunching numbers" can provide adequate proof. A researcher and reporter involved in the case explain.	06/05/16 7:00a	11:47
Health Care Technology	Radio Health Journal	Some people who need a kidney transplant have immune systems so sensitive they will reject almost any organ. Experts explain a new desensitization technique that may help them and kidney exchanges that make more patients eligible for transplants.	06/05/16 7:00a	7:47
Suicide, Government Regulation	Radio Health Journal	Doctors are attempting suicide in high numbers, and are much more likely than the general population to complete it. Experts discuss the cover-up of doctor suicides, the reasons behind depression in doctors, and why doctors who are depressed are less likely than normal to get help.	06/12/16 7:00a	12:04
Consumer Safety; Health Care	Radio Health Journal	Increasing recalls for food contamination have scared many Americans. A noted expert discusses why contamination scares are becoming more common, what government and producers are doing to protect us, and what we can do in our own kitchens to make foods safer	06/12/16 7:00a	7:49
Health Care, Mental Health	Radio Health Journal	It's a rare thing for people to lose their memory of past events. An expert discusses why doctors believe it may occur, and a woman to whom it happened recounts her experience.	06/19/16 7:00a	12:38
Pain Management	Radio Health Journal	Pain is an often misunderstood reality for millions of people. A noted university professor who became a quadriplegic in a bicycle accident discusses her constant pain and the way it changes life.	06/19/16 7:00a	6:55
Youth at Risk	Radio Health Journal	Kidney stones in children and adolescents used to be unusual. Over the last 30 years, they've become much more common. Experts discuss why this may be occurring, why doctors still sometimes miss the diagnosis, and how kidney stones are treated in children.	06/26/16 7:00a	12:23
Consumerism; Health and Nutrition	Radio Health Journal	Gluten free diets have taken the world by storm and some experts say for people who do not have celiac disease, the diets can do much more harm than good. One such expert explains which kinds of people would find the diet appropriate and the pitfalls to avoid.	06/26/16 7:00a	7:26
