 Quarterly Issues/Programs List
 Second Quarter, 2020
 July 9, 2020

Issues

KUUL-FM provides is listeners with programming and public service announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Arts and Entertainment: Research shows that the availability of Arts and Culture—everything from museums to parks and recreation systems—can greatly improve an area’s quality of life.</li> <li>• Community: From road quality to sewer repair to garbage pickup, people of the Quad Cities are BIG on city basics.</li> <li>• COVID-19: The pandemic of coronavirus disease swept into the United States in early 2020, causing social and economic disruption, including the largest global recession since the Great Depression.</li> <li>• Cyber Security: The power and reach of the internet have improved our lives in so many ways, but have also complicated the security of our finances—even our very own identities.</li> <li>• Economy: Greater coordination is needed between economic development efforts for the various communities that make up the Quad Cities metropolitan area. The Quad City Development Group is vital to this effort.</li> <li>• Education: Providing educational opportunities for our area’s children—as well as secondary education for our adults—are important building blocks to continued quality of life in our community.</li> <li>• Environment: Our natural resources need to be protected for future generations; the price we pay for the “technology now” style of living we currently enjoy has ramifications—both now and for our descendents.</li> <li>• Family Issues: Raising children has never been easy, but in today’s world, a myriad of new issues have come in to play which complicate things even further.</li> <li>• Health Care: From the politics of a national health care plan to the day-to-day challenges of administering health care to our population, the subject has never been more of a concern.</li> <li>• I-74 Bridge: construction of the new I-74 bridge, with expected completion in 2021, has Quad Citians excited. Progress is obvious to anyone crossing the ‘old bridge’.</li> <li>• Local Government: The real business of governing comes at the local level—city council, mayor, school boards and city administration.</li> <li>• Mental Health: As federal and state(s) funding for mental health programs has been decreased; local agencies are increasingly challenged to keep up with the need.</li> <li>• Public Welfare: Government struggles to maintain high quality living standards for all concerned—and these days with less and less funding to work with.</li> <li>• Science and Technology. Amazing advances have been made in technology have had an enormously positive effect on each of our lives. These advances—and the breakneck pace of tech growth---have also made our lives more complicated.</li> <li>• Tourism: Many cities in the Quad Cities two-state area rely on tourism revenues. The rich history of the region is a big reason people like to visit.</li> <li>• Women’s Issues: Women in American society continue to face unique challenges ranging from equal pay to health care to the family/career balance.</li> </ul>

Section I lists regularly-scheduled and special programs that represent the station's issue-responsive programming providing the most significant treatment of the issues listed above for the calendar quarter.

NETWORK [and/or SYNDICATED] PROGRAMMING

Note: Radio Health Journal is a :28 minute show that airs weekly and consists of two main segments.

The time listed is the show start time on that date.

ISSUE	PROGRAM/TITLE	DESCRIPTION	DATE/TIME	DURATION
Women's Issues, Youth at Risk	Radio Health Journal	Perinatal depression (previously known as postpartum depression) is seldom brought up by a new mother, so healthcare providers must screen for it carefully. However, sometimes they err on the side of caution in efforts to prevent the mother from harming herself or her baby. Experts discuss the balancing act.	4/5/20 7:00am	12:32
COVID-19, Mental Health	Radio Health Journal	Virtually no one in the US has been unaffected by the coronavirus pandemic, and stress is at high levels. A public health and brain expert discusses why "sheltering in place" is so important in spite of the stress it generates, and a few simple steps to ease the stress.	4/5/20 7:00am	6:53
COVID-19, Women's Issues, Youth at Risk	Radio Health Journal	With hundreds of millions of Americans sheltering at home due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the odds and fear of domestic abuse are rising. The leader of a noted shelter and counseling program discusses the increase, the difficulty of counteracting it during a national lockdown, and what people can do to cope.	4/12/20 7:00am	12:03
Health Care, Brain Injuries	Radio Health Journal	People who suddenly speak with what sounds like a foreign accent often have a brain injury due to a stroke or other trauma. Experts discuss the syndrome and chances of recovery.	4/12/20 7:00am	7:10
COVID-19, Health Care System, Public Safety	Radio Health Journal	Hospitals are scrambling to get extra equipment and outfit more beds and ICU units for COVID-19 patients. Their treatment is time-consuming and expensive. At the same time, hospitals' lucrative elective procedure business has largely been eliminated. Will the combination bankrupt hospitals? Two experts who have studied the crisis discuss.	4/19/20 7:00am	12:25
COVID-19, Public Health	Radio Health Journal	The national effort to shelter in place has closed gyms and led many people to complain of weight gain. Two exercise experts discuss how people can maintain fitness at home with no equipment.	4/19/20 7:00am	7:42
COVID-19, The Economy	Radio Health Journal	Many Americans are impatient with social distancing as a result of COVID-19 despite the success of the tactic. However, reopening the country too quickly could allow the virus to come roaring back, resulting in thousands more deaths and even more economic damage. Two experts explain how the rollout should happen to get us back to work safely.	4/26/20 7:00am	12:23

COVID-19, Public Health	Radio Health Journal	A lack of ventilators potentially puts doctors in the position of deciding which of their COVID-19 patients get a ventilator and live, and which ones don't get one and die. New rules for making such decisions have been released which are designed to be fair and independent. The designer of the rules explains.	4/26/20 7:00am	7:44
COVID-19, Mental Health	Radio Health Journal	Mental health is difficult to maintain when people are required to stay inside at home. In fact, we're asked to engage in activities that normally would indicate mental distress. A noted psychologist with the NIH discusses ways to stay mentally healthy during the pandemic lockdown.	5/3/20 7:00am	12:11
COVID-19, Senior Issues	Radio Health Journal	Nursing homes have been a hotbed of fatal COVID-19 infections. The virus was loose in many of them before they could even know it. An industry expert discusses what nursing homes are doing now to keep the virus out and their patients safe.	5/3/20 7:00am	8:06
COVID-19, The Economy	Radio Health Journal	The COVID-19 pandemic has caused a quicker economic crash than we've ever seen. Opening the nation too fast will likely trigger a "W" shaped recovery with wide swings of growth then decline. Either way, the effects will last for years. Experts discuss likely scenarios.	5/10/20 7:00am	11:35
Health Care, Telemedicine, COVID-19	Radio Health Journal	Doctor's appointments via smartphone have been available for some time but were little used except in remote areas due to insurance reluctance. Now telemedicine has been forced on us and on insurers by COVID-19 restrictions, and many providers swear by them. Three experts discuss.	5/10/20 7:00am	7:54
Alcohol Abuse, COVID-19	Radio Health Journal	The COVID-19 lockdown has triggered increased alcohol use in many people, and an alcohol use disorder in some. Help can be difficult to access, as face-to-face counseling and group sessions have been halted. For women, it can be even more difficult, as they are much more comfortable in more rare single-sex sharing situations. Two experts discuss today's dangerous alcohol triggers and how to seek help.	5/17/20 7:00am	12:32
COVID-19, Mental Health	Radio Health Journal	Spring is the season of rituals—prom, graduation, commencement and weddings. Social distancing has taken most of these rituals away. An expert discusses the importance of rituals in our mental health and why it's OK to grieve their loss. She also discusses how changing rituals can be successful save for the tragic loss of funerals.	5/17/20 7:00am	7:13
