Quarterly Issues/Programs List
First Quarter, 2015
April 8, 2015

Issues

KUUL-FM provides is listeners with programming and public service announcements that address issues of concern to our local community. Among the issues determined to be of most concern to the community during the preceding calendar quarter were:
• Arts & Entertainment: Research shows that the availability of Arts and Culture—everything from museums to parks and recreation systems—can greatly improve an area's quality of life.
• Disabilities: Though the Americans with Disabilities act became law in 1990, society continues to recognize new areas where we can all be made 'more equal'.
• Economic Development: The overall health of our community is tied to its economic health. This health can only be maintained by sustaining the growth of area businesses.
• Education: Providing educational opportunities for our area's children—as well as secondary education for our adults—are important building blocks to continued quality of life in our community.
• Environment: Our natural resources need to be protected for future generations; the price we pay for the "technology now" style of living we currently enjoy has ramifications—both now and for our descendants.
• Health: Recruiting doctors, nurses, and health techs has become more difficult as this need is everywhere in our country and, as a result these persons are living where quality of life is best.
• Mental Health As cutbacks have occurred in our federal spending, perhaps no area has been harder hit than the funding of mental illness programs.
• Tourism: Many cities in the Quad Cities two-state area rely on tourism revenues. The rich history of the region is a big reason people like to visit.
• Veterans: Treatment of all veterans, particularly those from the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, is an important issue to Quad Citians because so many from our area have served.

NETWORK [and/or SYNDICATED] PROGRAMMING

ISSUE	PROGAM	DESCRIPTION OF SEGMENT	DATE/ TIME	LENGTH
Bullying, Workplace Issues, Public Health	Radio Health Journal	Workplace Bullies. Studies estimate that at some point in their careers, 35 percent of workers will be bullied badly enough to affect their health. Experts discuss the reasons for workplace bullying, the outcomes, and some of the few ways to prevent it.	3/15/15 7:00a	12:09
Consumerism, Education	Radio Health Journal	Making and breaking habits. The New Year is a time for people to stop bad habits and start new, good routines. An expert discusses the psychology of habits and how people can be more successful in changing their lives for the better.	1/11/15 7:00a	7:26

Consumerism, Mental Health	Radio Health Journal	Botox and Depression. Many people are familiar with the use of Botox to reduce wrinkles and frown lines. But Botox can also be used to reduce the effects of depression.	3/8/15 7:00a	7:13
Disease Prevention, Public Health	Radio Health Journal	Mindless Eating. People eat for reasons other than satisfying hunger, and those reasons play a great role in whether we eat too much or not. Experts discuss the role of the environment in our appetites and how we may use it to stay slim.	2/15/15 7:00a	6:29
Economy, Family Issues, Employment	Radio Health Journal	Failure to launch. It's much more common today for 20-somethings to delay moving out of Mom and Dad's house to start an independent life.	1/11/15 7:00a	8:20
Evolution, Public Health	Radio Health Journal	Learning from Traditional Societies. An expert discusses his study of traditional native societies, which shows how human genetics have not adapted to change	3/22/15 7:00a	8:21
Family Violence, Youth at Risk	Radio Health Journal	Infant Sleeping and Shaken Babies. New parents are often at wits' end when their baby won't sleep. Infants who won't sleep and cry inconsolably are also at major risk of being victims of shaken baby syndrome. Experts discuss the connection and ways babies can be more reliable sleepers.	3/1/15 7:00a	8:25
Health Care, Disease Prevention	Radio Health Journal	Your Eye Exam: More Than Meets the Eye. Eye exams are looking for a lot more than just eye diseases or how well you see. The eye is the window to the rest of our body's health, and many diseases can be spotted there first. An ophthalmologist explains.	2/8/15 7:00a	7:04
Health Care, Dying	Radio Health Journal	Music Thanatology. Music Thanatology is a specialized practice of playing harp music for the dying. A practitioner of the art explains how there is also science to it as well.	1/25/15 7:00a	7:25
Health Care, Technology	Radio Health Journal	Smart Bandages. Hospitals and clinics often have to stock a huge variety of bandages and dressings to address the moisture needs of different kinds of wounds. Now a high-tech "smart dressing" can replace them. It absorbs moisture when necessary but can also supply the right amount of moisture in places where it's needed.	3/15/15 7:00a	7:46
Heart Disease, Health	Radio Health Journal	Heart failure. Heart failure is a major source of death and disability. Experts discuss causes, consequences and new treatments that may greatly lessen its toll.	1/4/15 7:00a	7:51
Public Health	Radio Health Journal	The Sense of Touch. The sense of touch is often taken lightly, yet it conveys more emotion than any other sense because it literally has a separate emotional wiring system. A neuroscientist explains the sense of touch, how it works, the power it has over everyday decisions, and what can happen when it's not working, as it should.	2/22/15 7:00a	8:54
Public Health, Mental Health	Radio Health Journal	Anxiety. Anxiety is normal, but too much can be crippling; an author and anxiety sufferer discusses the nature of crippling anxiety and what people can do about it	3/29/15 7:00a	8:00
Public Health, Parenting Issues	Radio Health Journal	Measles & Vaccination: Examining the Social Contract. Measles is more widespread than it has been in years. The current measles outbreak in several states has prompted questions about the responsibility of parents to have their children immunized against vaccine-preventable diseases.	3/8/15 7:00a	12:32
Public Health, The Environment	Radio Health Journal	The Gut Microbiome. Scientists are learning that the bacteria living inside us, most notably in the intestines, influence our bodies far more than previously suspected. Our microbiome influences many other organs, particularly the liver, brain, and immune system. Different mixes of these bacteria may account for a great deal of the variability among people, particularly in our weight. Two researchers explain.	2/15/15 7:00a	13:29

Public Health, Vaccination	Radio Health Journal	The Flu: It's Bad this Year. The 2014-2015 flu season started much earlier than normal and so far has been much more severe than usual. Experts explain how this year's mismatch occurred between the flu vaccine and the predominant strain of flu, and how people can protect them in spite of the ineffective vaccine.	2/1/15 7:00a	8:11
Sexually Transmitted Diseases	Radio Health Journal	HPV, cancer, and the HPV vaccine. Human papilloma viruses are responsible for many cancers, especially cervical cancer and throat cancer. Vaccines exist for the major HPV's that cause these cancers, yet relatively few eligible youths have gotten them.	1/25/15 7:00a	13:33
Technology, Pop Culture	Radio Health Journal	The Pitfalls of Online Dating. For the first time in history, today more than half of American adults are single. Many are still looking for love--more than 40 million are members of online dating sites, which have their busiest time of the year between now and Valentine's Day. A noted psychologist explains research showing most users have exactly the wrong approach when seeking a good match online, and discusses how they can better their odds of finding true love	2/1/15 7:00a	11:34
Veteran's Issues, Mental Health, Morality	Radio Health Journal	Moral injury. The military is beginning to recognize a new category of emotional and spiritual injury in war--moral injury, a result of committing or witnessing an event such as an atrocity that violate deeply held ethical beliefs.	1/11/15 7:00a	12:25
Women's Issues, Education	Radio Health Journal	Gender Bias in Science. Few female role models exist at major research universities in scientific fields, subverting efforts to get more women into math and science. Many scientists have dismissed gender bias as a factor. However, new research shows that unintentional bias results in women being subconsciously considered less competent than their male scientific counterparts. Experts explain how unconscious bias exists and its pervasive effect in academia and society at large.	2/8/15 7:00a	12:51
Women's Issues, Problems in the Workplace	Radio Health Journal	Women and Work. The US once led the world in proportion of women in the workplace, but that number has declined the last 15 years. Experts explain the social, economic, and governmental factors that are leading women to quit their jobs--often unwillingly--and stay home.	3/22/15 7:00a	12:17
Workplace Issues, Bullying	Radio Health Journal	Sharks in suits: workplace "almost psychopaths". Almost everyone is victimized at some point by a cutthroat co-worker who lies with ease and feels no remorse. These people may be "almost psychopaths," people with psychopathic characteristics too subtle to be diagnosed. Two experts explain how these people operate and how the rest of us can avoid being played.	1/4/15 7:00a	12:13
Workplace Safety, Health	Radio Health Journal	Performer's injuries. Professional musicians often suffer from repetitive motion injuries, while dancers suffer athletic injuries. Both often "play hurt," in part due to fear of losing position or income, or because they are more likely than most professions to have no health insurance.	1/11/15 7:00a	12:35
Youth at Risk, Childhood Cancer	Radio Health Journal	Late Effects of Childhood Cancer. Doctors can cure cancer in children better than ever, but decades later, many survivors suffer from serious, chronic disease as a result of powerful cancer treatments. Often those survivors don't get screening and treatment for late effects. Experts and survivors discuss how treatments influence life decades later, how survivors can get treatment they need, and new ways of treatment can lessen late effects.	3/1/15 7:00a	11:28

Youth at Risk, Family Issues	Radio Health Journal	Only Children—and Their Parents. Only children have been vilified for more than a century as inevitably selfish, spoiled and lonely. Yet research finds that children without siblings are psychologically quite similar to those with brothers and/or sisters. Today the proportion of only children is increasing. Experts refute the myths about only children and discuss how parents can help children navigate life with no siblings.	2/22/15 7:00a	12:05
