National Black HIV/AIDS Awareness Day - February 7

National Black HIV/AIDS Awareness Day (NBHAAD) is observed annually on February 7 to increase awareness, spark conversations, and highlight the work being done to reduce HIV in Black or African American (hereafter referred to as Black) communities in the United States and show support for people with HIV in these communities.

Get Involved

You can raise awareness of HIV within Black communities and provide information on access to care using CDC's Let's Stop HIV

Together campaign resources. Even when we are physically apart, we all have a role to play in ending HIV. That's why the 2021 NBHAAD theme is "We're in This Together."

Let's Stop HIV Together aims to empower communities, partners, and healthcare providers to reduce HIV stigma and promote prevention, testing, and treatment among all people in the United States. With campaign resources, partners and other organizations can play a role in preventing HIV and helping people with HIV stay healthy. The Let's Stop HIV Together campaign is part of the national Ending the HIV Epidemic \(EHE\) initiative.

A CONVERSATION ABOUT THE COVID-19 VACCINATION

When it comes to Covid-19...Facts Matter.

STATISTICS SHOW THE COVID-19 DEATH RATE FOR BLACK, INDIGENOUS AND LATINO AMERICANS IS ALMOST 3 TIMES THE RATE FOR WHITE AMERICANS, YET RESEARCH SUGGESTS THAT A SIGNIFICANT PERCENTAGE OF INDIVIDUALS IN THESE GROUPS ARE RELUCTANT TO TAKE THE COVID-19 VACCINE.

REMINDS YOU TO BE SAFE AND HEALTHY
WHEN YOU CELEBRATE ON NEW YEAR'S EVE

Guns and Fun Don't Mix

- Celebratory gunfire is dangerous and can be deadly!
- What goes up, must come down.

Fireworks should be avoided

- Thousands of people are injured each year from fireworks.
- They cause serious fires and major damage.
