Hi Charlie – last year I attended the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, Nashville/Midsouth Chapter Student Awards on April 18, 2019.

I'm on the NATAS board and I was a presenter at the awards ceremony. I attended from 12noon – 3pm. During the lunch and after the ceremony, I had an opportunity to have conversations with several of the high school students in attendance to answer questions and chat about NPT and working in television/video production.

Below is a link from the event (not sure if it's still active?), but wanted to send this along in case this qualifies as an outreach activity.

Thanks,
-Bridget

Hey Charlie,

I was invited, along with other industry professionals, to attend a student-alumni mixer in the College of Media and Entertainment at MTSU. The goals was to help students build soft skills by interacting with others in their field. I was also interviewed by MTSU News 1 students on the Next Door Neighbors project.

Shawn, the college is doing a mixer Thursday night for students and alumni. Purpose is to build student soft skills. Looking for alums to share experience interacting with supervisors, colleagues, customers, the public, etc. An hour or so beginning at 6 p.m. Food and music. Any chance you could join us?

4/8/19, 1:53 PM

Hey Mikel How's it going? It was nice of you to think of me. I can try to be there at 6 on Thursday, traffic permitting. I'll leave a little early. It'll be good to see you.

Super! You need to email your RSVP using this instruction, cause, you know, red tape: ☹ Please make sure they use the "media@mtsuedu" email and specifically indicating CME STUDENT-ALUMNI EVENT in their RSVP.

Loikforward to catching up.

Will someone be emailing me an invite?

I think you just email to that address, reference the event as listed, include your name and say you're coming.

Shawn, I have ANOTHER possible favor to ask: I'm looking for individuals my News1 students can interview for a radio news feature. The interview would need to take place here on campus Sept. 18 at about 2:45 and shouldn't take more than 20 minutes. Four or five students would ask questions about your work. One small catch: these are sound-rich features, so was hoping you might bring along and play for them a portion of one of your productions. They won't need more than a few seconds of nat sound. A show promo would be fine. Is this something you might have time for? Looking forward to hearing from you.

Hello,

My name is [Redacted] and I'm a junior English & Communication Studies double major at Furman University. Growing up in Nashville, TN, NPT was a channel frequently viewed on my home TV.

With a passion for understanding the production stages of visual storytelling, I'm happy to submit my resume for an internship position with your station.

Courses I have taken that are related to this field include Introduction to Mass Communication, Introduction to Digital Communication, Introduction to Reading Film, Great Directors of Film, and Broadcast Communication.

I am willing to learn as much as I can from this position while bringing the curiosity and positivity that are required in this type of work. Moreover, I'd be happy to talk with you over the phone or in person to discuss this opportunity further.

All the best,

Hi. Does this help?

20 homeschooled and between the ages of 8-12 from Portland, TN.

Purpose: students have a greater understanding of the involvement required to bring NPT to Middle Tennessee.

I need to describe the event and how it qualifies as recruiting/outreach in Equal Employment Opportunity terms.

Is it just a loose-knit organization of home school families or do they have a "title" or anything like that?

Did you get a head count? Approximate?

What part (s) of Tennessee did they represent?

Why did they care about coming to Npt in particular? What was their purpose?

Anything like that.
