Organization: United Arts of Central Florida

Guest(s): Flora Maria Garcia, President and CEO

Contact: Unitedarts.cc

Date: 4/20/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Garcia described the fundraising work managed by United Arts of Central Florida and invited listeners to support and enjoy the arts. She explained that the current 2014 Collaborative Campaign for the Arts will benefit 17 of the organization's arts partners. For each donation received through the collaborative campaign, the money will be matched. Garcia spoke about the ways that each United Arts partner works to expose all segments of the community to the arts. For example, the Orlando Philharmonic puts on free concerts for Orange County students. Garcia also told listeners about summer arts camps and ways for people to learn about arts offerings in Central Florida.

Issues: The guest shared the Orange County information contained in the 2013 Fetal Infant Mortality Report (FIMR.) Statewide, there was a decrease in the number of infant deaths as compared to 2012. However, both Orange and Seminole counties still have high rates of infant mortality in the African-American community. In 2013, there was a rate of 14 deaths per 1,000 live babies in Orange County and 13.5 per 1,000 live births in Seminole. Burroughs-Girardi discussed steps that the Health Department is taking to improve the odds for babies and their mothers. She spoke about the importance of healthy eating, early pre-natal care, safe sleep environments, and addressing social needs like access to insurance. Finally, Burroughs-Girardi gave tips for improving the health of babies after they are born.

Contact: John.mulhall@ocfl.net

Date: 5/25/14

Duration: 20:00

Issues: The Hurricane Expo is a very fun but informational event at which participants can learn about hurricanes safety. There will be vendors from county agencies and other groups like the Red Cross that focus on public safety. The goal is to give people the information and tools they need to stay safe. Hurricane season begins in June and runs until November. Mulhall said it has been 10 years since the last hurricane hit the area, so it's a good time to for residents to update their information. The event will be held on May 31st.

Date: 5/25/14

Duration: 10:00

Issues: Because it is Recreational Water Illness (RWI) and Injury Prevention Week Weister warned listeners to be mindful of dangers around the water. First, he explained that amoeba and other germs are out in fresh water and can make people sick, so swimmers might want to use nose plugs. Second, pools can also have dangers due to improperly maintained chemicals and/or 'diaper accidents.' So, pool owners should monitor the chemicals and get everyone out of the pool when necessary. Finally, he advised everyone to do what they can to prevent accidents and drowning. One key piece of advice: never leave children in the pool unsupervised.

Date: 6/7/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Olympic gold medalist Rowdy Gaines was recently appointed the Vice President of the YMCA Aquatic Center. He explained that he wants all people to learn how to swim and enjoy a lifetime of swimming. Gaines expressed concern that Florida ranks very high in the number of children who drown each year and stressed the importance of having 'layers of protection' around pools, starting with parent supervision. However, his foremost recommendation is that all children learn how to swim.

Issues: Harbor House of Central Florida is a domestic violence center that provides safe shelter and other support to domestic violence survivors and their children. She explained that pets are also considered family so many women stay with an abuser because they do not want to leave their pets behind. So Harbor House provides a safe shelter for everyone, including the family pet. Palmer invited listeners to the fourth annual Paws for Peace Walk on Saturday, April 26th at Blue Jacket Park and funds raised will be used to support the shelter. The event's most important purpose though, is to raise awareness about the impact of domestic abuse on pets and their owners.

Date: 6/28/14

Duration: www.donatelifeflorida.org

Issues:

Translife is one of the organizations tasked by Florida to manage organ donor lists. Neal encouraged listeners to register to be organ donors and to talk to their families about the decision. She explained how organ donation works and how one person can save many lives. She shared stories of donors' families and also described what it is like for the recipient to get a new lease on life. People can register as donors online or when they go to the Department of Motor Vehicles.
