Segment Topic: Holidays in Orange County

Organization: Orange County Regional History Center

Guest(s): Mike Perkins, Curator

Contact: (407) 836-8591

Date: 7/6/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Perkins spoke about holidays and how they have traditionally been celebrated in central Florida. He said that until about a 100 years ago, holidays were more about being with families rather than extravagant celebration. So Fourth of July back then may not have been cause for much attention. But with the advent of cars, parades started popping up. Perkins also spoke about the Gone with the Wind exhibit that will be on display at the History Center next month. It will focus on the 75th anniversary of the film.

Segment Topic: Special Concert to Benefit Salvation Army in Kenya

Organization: The Salvation Army – Orlando Area Command

Guest(s): Shari Daniels, Bandmaster
Jalen Christie, Public Relations Coordinator

Contact: (407) 423-8581; salvationarmyorlando.org

Date: 7/19/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: The two guests invited the listeners to the Concert in the Park featuring the Orlando Citadel Band. Although the band has played at Salvation Army events like the Angel Tree Kick-off, this will be the first time they will hold a free public concert outside so they're encouraging the community to attend. The concert will be held on behalf of Salvation Army representatives from Kenya, who are visiting for two days.

Daniels has been with the Salvation Army since she was a child, when her dad was the leader. For five years, she has been the bandmaster and her children have joined. For the concert, they will play traditional Salvation Army music.

Segment Topic: Artists in Communities Grants

Organization: United Arts of Central Florida

Guest(s): Flora Maria Garcia, President and CEO

Contact: (407) 628-0333; unitedarts.cc
Orlandoatplay.com

Date: 7/20/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Garcia described some of the work United Arts has been focused on recently. First, she explained that the organization has been collaborating with Heart of Florida United Way in an effort to bring together social service groups and artists. She gave examples: Mad Cow Theatre is doing an Hispanic theatre project; There is also an artist in residence at a hospital who helps chemotherapy patients express themselves through art; and there are programs for veterans to seek therapy through the arts. Second, United Arts has just launched a new user friendly website that allows people to see what is happening in Orlando, whether it be non- or for- profit. The program, Orlando at Play replaces the old Redchair.org. She says it's prettier, broader, and easier to use. Finally, she spoke about the 19 Artists in Community grants that were just awarded.

Hollis Wilder, Sweet by Holly, Three Time Winner Food
Network Cupcake Wars
Michael Cooper, Development Manager

Contact: www.pantrytoplatechallenge.org.
jfsorlando.org; (407) 644-7593

Date: 8/16/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: The guests discussed the work of JFS, especially efforts to feed the hungry in our community. The organization provides emergency services, runs a food pantry, and provides counseling to persons and families in need.

The Pantry to Plate Challenge will spotlight the JFS pantry, which distributes food for 70,000 meals annually. The goal for the event is to raise awareness and financial support to end hunger locally. Wilder is on board as a celebrity judge, based on her experience competing on the Food Network competitions. She said that raising awareness on the hunger issue is meaningful to her and she encourages the community to support JFS.

Segment Topic: NKF Rich Salik's Surf Festival
Organization: National Kidney Foundation (NKF)
Guest(s): Savannah Pitard, Regional Development Manager
Contact: www.kidney.org; www.nkfsurf.com
Date: 8/17/14
Duration: 15:00

Issues: Pitard explained that NKF's mission is to improve the life and well-being of those affected by kidney disease. This is accomplished by giving money to kidney patients to use for expenses such as gas to get to dialysis appointments, by providing community health and education fairs, and by organizing forums for renal professional. She spoke about kidney transplants and organ donation.

On Labor Day weekend, the 28th Annual NKF Rich Salik Surf Festival will feature professional and amateur surfing competitions as well as many other activities. Proceeds will go toward patient services, research, education and organ donations.

Music Foundation

Contact: Hapcopromo.org 800-409-6133

Date: 08/23/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: The primary goal of HapCo Inc. is to provide scholarships for deserving students to attend any music related College and/or Universities program of their choice in the United States. In addition, HapCo serves to train student musicians, give them performance experience, help them develop self-discipline and provide opportunities to share music with others. Most of HapCo's work is with the West Orange County community, Winter Garden and the Town of Oakland, where there are few opportunities for art and music outside of the school system.

Organization: Valencia College

Guest(s): Dr. Javier Garces, Chairman of the Horticulture Department

Contact: Jgarces3@valenciacollege.edu

Date: 7/12/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Garces described Valencia College's Horticulture and Landscape program. The institution offers an Associate of Science degree in Landscape and Horticulture Technology as well as three certificate programs for professionals already working in the field. He discussed how these students bolster their experience through internships with the theme parks, independent studies, and by volunteering with the Edgewood Children's Ranch garden. In regards to the students who are already working in the area, Garces pointed out that the classes are timed so that students can work in the morning and attend class in the late afternoon. In fact, he said that the employers tend to encourage their employees to take these classes because that makes them more valuable employees.

Guest(s): Joyce Whiddon, Executive Director

Contact: (407) 422-1540; Adulteracyleague.org;

Date: 7/13/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: The Adult Literacy League's (ALL's) purpose is to build a strong community by building a literate community. They offer one-to-one tutors and small classes to help adults learn. Volunteers can work very personally with the students who have a learning disability and/or reading disability like dyslexia. She said that ALL asks for a one year commitment from both tutors and the pupil. Whiddon described the training and support offered to tutors.

Laura Cutchens, Development Director

Contact: (407) 671- 4687; ceco.org

Date: 9/14/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Johnson explained that conductive education is an integrated learning approach for children with motor skills disabilities that infuses motor skills training with cognitive activity. The focus is to get the children to think through their body movement. Conductors are specially trained to make this happen and get the participants to achieve amazing things. There are several different programs: regular day school, summer camp for which families come from all over the world, early intervention for infants and preschool, and an after school program for children who attend the public school system. CECO has a new half million dollar facility that has given the children the space they need to make the most of these programs.

Segment Topic: Back to School Bird Bash

Organization: Audubon Center for Birds of Prey

Guest(s): Sam educator Aubdoboneducation@ yahoo.com

Contact: (407) 644-0190

Date: 8/16/14

Duration: 5:00

Issues: Sam explained that the goal of the Audubon Center for Birds of Prey is to rehabilitate injured raptors including eagles, hawks, owls, kites, and osprey. About 650-700 birds a year are rehabilitated then released back into the wild; these are birds that fall from their nests, get hit by a car, or tangled in a fish line. Their injuries are tended, their flight tested, and then they are released. The Back to School Bird Bash is an opportunity for people to visit the facility, learn about its mission, and donate the supplies that are needed to fulfill that mission.

Date: 7/12/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Wallace explained that the Camaraderie Foundation's mission is to provide counseling and emotional support for veterans who suffer from the "invisible wounds of war." The support includes family counseling, a peer group, a caregiver support group, and six times a year there are events for the veterans' families. Wallace described the various issues impacting veterans such as the increasing number of veterans who are committing suicide.

Date: 7/19/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: The two guests described the efforts of Base Camp to provide relief to children who have cancer. Base Camp volunteers bring meals, parties, and special holiday events like Christmas in July to the patients and their families. She said that it's the everyday things that help these families; they just need regular food rather than hospital food and an opportunity to see a movie. So Base Camp delivers a lot of food and DVDs. Terri says that their main purpose is to provide a diversion from the monotony of being in the hospital and taking treatments. Listeners are invited to help by participating in the Be a Hero 5K on August 30th.

Date: 8/9/14

Duration: 10:00

Issues: This week is World Breastfeeding Week so Florida's Health Departments want women and the rest of the community to know the benefit of breastfeeding. Chamorro explained that both mothers and their babies receive health benefits when babies are breastfed. For example, breastfeeding helps protect the baby from SIDS, obesity, ear and upper respiratory problems. For moms, breastfeeding helps to prevent ovarian and breast cancer, post-partum depression and also prevents type-2 diabetes. Moms can get support and additional information through the Health Department's WIC program.

Organization: National Council on Aging

Guest(s): Mimi Reggintine, OC Government's Office on Aging
Dr. Christopher Hunter, NCOA

Contact: Ncoa.org/flu

Date: 9/27/14

Duration: 15:00

Issues: The guests said that it's important for persons 65 and older to be vaccinated against influenza. Reggintine says that 60% of flu-related hospitalizations are of persons over 65 and 90% of persons who die from the flu are 65 and older. There is also an issue with how chronic conditions common among seniors impact their ability to recover from the flu. Dr. Hunter said that people 65 and up are more likely to catch the flu if they are exposed and they are likely to suffer more. These persons are more likely to have comorbidities which impact ability to recover. He advises seniors to contact their physicians to learn about vaccination options but get the vaccine one way or another.

Date: 9/21/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Dr. Sorenson says that it's time to get vaccinated against influenza. Influenza, or the 'flu', is a respiratory illness that is extremely contagious. She says that it is mild for some people but for others, very extreme. And some people even die. The flu is spread through the air when people cough, sneeze, and talk. We can get exposed very easily by touching equipment and such at work, school, and the like. She discussed how the vaccine is developed and how it works in our systems. She recommends that everyone get the vaccine. In addition, she advises that we continuously wash our hands during the flu season.

Guest(s): Ruth Patrick, CEO

Contact: (407) 277-1942; Betacenter.org

Date: 8/9/14

Duration: 30:00

Issues: Patrick explained that the mission of the Beta Center is to nurture families. Through Beta, teen moms and dads learn what good parenting is and how to build strong relationships with their infants and toddlers. For example, a lot of middle and high school girls attend school on the BETA campus while simultaneously learning about prenatal care so that their babies are born healthy. In fact, there are many parts of the BETA program: an onsite school, a childhood Education Center for the girls' children, a residential program, and education programs off-site at various community locations. The goal is to be a part of the community's solution for building highly functioning families.

((NEW SMYRNA BEACH CHALLENGED EDGEWATER --
SO EDGEWATER COMPLIED BY FILLING FIRE TANKER
TRUCKS WITH ICY WATER AND SPILLING IT OVER A BUNCH OF FOLKS WHO LINED UP FOR THE CHALLENGE...

-CUT-

AND THE CHALLENGE HAS BEEN ISSUED TO ANOTHER CITY...

-CUT-

HARD TO IMAGINE HOW THE FOLKS AT OAK HILL
MIGHT PULL THIS ONE OFF -- BUT YOU KNOW THIS ISN'T THE END OF IT... MONEY RAISED FOR THE BATTLE AGAINST ALS.))
