Jason,

I saw that your station suspended Gant Napier for saying "all lives matter". REALLY? Do you think that only black lives matter? Did you know that 10 cops were shot yesterday including two that died? Do you think that is a good thing??? What the fuck is wrong wth you? You are such a coward and afraid of your own shadow that you bow down to idiots like Matt Barnes and Demarcus Cousins who if they had not been 10 feet tall would have had to mop floors for a living because they are so stupid!

How about thinking for yourself? How about not being an empty suit and defending Grant who said absolutely nothing wrong, except that in our mentally ill world we now live in, not towing the line for anyone on the left means you are evil and a racist! You make me sick!

I used to listen to your station every day and now, never again. You watch as your rating plummet because it is people like me that listen and support your advertisers and I am going to personally email all of them and tell them to stop advertising on your show.

God it must suck to live your life as a total coward. Go fuck yourself.
